AT the time of the foundation of the Royal Institute of British Architects there existed in Lincoln's Inn Fields the Architectural Society, the primary objects of which were the advancement and diffusion of architectural knowledge, and its ultimate intent to form a British School, with Library, Museum, Professorships, and periodical exhibitions, the want of which was then beginning to be greatly felt by students.* Instituted in 1831, the Architectural Society had for its governing body in 1834-35 William Barnard Clarke President, Thomas Henry Wyatt as one of the Vice-Presidents, George Mair as Hon. Secretary, with Benjamin Ferrey among the ordinary members. In 1834 it became evident to a few architects of established reputation that the profession required a more influential representative institution than that which already existed, and an Address was circulated among the profession pointing out that though few of the arts and sciences were left without a Body associated for their promotion and cultivation, Architecture, as an art embracing the whole circle of the sciences, was in this country destitute of such an establishment.

The first meeting of the founders of the Institute† was held

* An earlier society still was the London Architectural Society, established in 1806, probably the first institution formed by professional men with aims and objects similar to those of the present Royal Institute. By the rules of this Society members were required to produce annually, according to a rotation and time agreed upon, an architectural design never before in any way made public, consisting of at least one plan, elevation, and section, and accompanied with observations, critical and explanatory, under forfeiture of two guineas; also an essay on some subject connected with civil architecture, under forfeit of half-a-guinea. These designs, observations, and essays were discussed at General Meetings, and every member absenting himself for two successive nights was fined 5s., and all 5s. for every additional night of absence unless prevented by illness or a distance of ten miles from the place of meeting. The Society probably became extinct before the formation of the Architectural Society in 1831.

What was probably a forerunner of the London Architectural Society was a club called the Architects' Club, which was founded in 1791 and held its meetings at the Thatched House Tavern. The treasurer was Samuel Pepys Cockerell, father of Professor Cockerell (second President of the Institute), and grandfather of Frederick Pepys Cockerell (for many years Hon. Secretary). Among the original members were Sir William Chambers, Robert Adam, Robert Milne, John Soane, Thomas Hardwick, James Wyatt, George Dance, S. P. Cockerell. (See article by Mr. Harry Sire, JOURNAL R.I.B.A. 7 January 1911.)

† The last surviving original member of the Institute, Professor Donaldson, died in 1895. His letter convening the preliminary Meeting was as follows:—

7 Hart Street, Bloomsbury Square: 8th May 1834.

DEAR SIR,—Some of the following gentlemen, all of whom, as well as yourself, have received a circular from Mr. Robinson, are anxious to have:

at the Thatched House Tavern, St. James's Street, on the 2nd July 1834, when the Address setting forth the aims and objects of the proposed Institute was adopted. Endeavour was made to secure as members architects of prominent position and unimpeachable character, educated for and following their profession as an art, and free from those conflicting relations with trade which frequently existed in the early part of the century and prevented that implicit confidence on the part of the public which should enable a client to regard his architect not only as his agent, but as his friend and adviser. A second meeting, for the enrolment of members, was held on the 6th August 1834; and the Council, elected by ballot on the 3rd December following, and consisting of Messrs. Robinson, Kay, and Gwilt as Vice-Presidents, Messrs. Donaldson and Goldie as Hon. Secretaries, and Messrs. Barry (afterwards Sir Charles Barry), Basevi, Decimus Burton, Fowler, Philip Hardwick, Kendall, J. B. Papworth, and Rhodes, met for the first time on the 10th December at the Thatched House Tavern. A few weeks afterwards the Earl de Grey was elected President. The junction of the Architectural Society with the Institute was effected in 1842.

The Opening General Meeting of the Institute was held on the 15th June 1835. The President's Address, with that afterwards delivered by Professor Donaldson, will be found in the Institute TRANSACTIONS. Sir John Soane, Professor of Architecture at the Royal Academy, evinced his sympathy with the newly established body by giving a donation of £750 for such purposes as might appear most conducive to its advantage.

The Royal Charter was granted by King William IV. on the 11th January 1837. On the 8th August of the same year Queen Victoria became Patron, and was subsequently associated with the Prince Consort, who at all times manifested his interest in the Institute's proceedings, on one occasion, in 1842, acting as Chairman of the Council Meeting and afterwards presiding at the General Meeting.

A further and lasting mark of the Royal favour was shown in 1848 by the foundation by Queen Victoria of the Royal Gold Medal, since annually conferred by the Sovereign on some distinguished architect, or ~~man~~ of science or letters connected with architecture, on the recommendation of the Institute.

On the 18th May 1866 by Royal command the style of the Institute was altered to the "Royal" Institute of British Architects.

a preliminary Meeting to talk over and consider the objects and prospects of the proposed Institution of British Architects, and will meet at Mr. Baily's room, 14 Regent Street, on Tuesday evening next, at half-past seven o'clock, when the favour of your attendance is earnestly desired. The chair will be taken at eight o'clock precisely.—I am, my dear Sir, yours very faithfully,

THOS. L. DONALDSON.

The names appended were Messrs. Atkinson, Barry, Basevi, Bellamy, Blore, Decimus Burton, Cressy, Fowler, Goldie, Gwilt, Hardwick, Kay, Kendall, Lee, Papworth, Parker, Sir James Rennie, Rhodes, Robinson, Seward, Taylor, and Waller. The italics denote those who attended.

King Edward VII., Patron from 1863 till his death in 1910, continued the presentation of the Annual Gold Medal.

His present Majesty King George V., on his accession to the Throne, graciously intimated his pleasure to continue the Royal Patronage and the presentation of the Gold Medal.

In 1867, in order to bring the powers of the Institute more into line with the work it aspired to accomplish, and to render the fact of membership to a certain extent a test of proficiency, the Supplemental Charter of the 50th Victoria, conferring among other privileges power to hold examinations and issue certificates or diplomas, was granted, the document receiving the Royal Sign Manual on the 28th March 1867.

A further Supplemental Charter (8th Edward VII.), granted 11th January 1909, provided for a temporary class of Licentiates to be elected by the Council, made fresh provisions respecting the qualifications of candidates for Fellowship and the granting of diplomas, and extended the educational functions of the Institute.

THE INSTITUTE PREMISES.

The first rooms of the Institute, engaged early in 1835, were 43 King Street, Covent Garden, better known as Evans's Hotel, a building said to have been designed by Inigo Jones, and immortalised by Thackeray in The Newcomes, in the description of "The Cave of Harmony." In 1837 rooms were taken at No. 16 Grosvenor Street, where for twenty-two years the work of the Institute was carried on. The necessity of acquiring larger and more convenient premises led eventually to the formation of the Architectural Union Company, which was established, in the terms of its articles of association, "for the purpose of providing accommodation for the different societies connected with architecture, and especially for the Royal Institute of British Architects and the Architectural Exhibition." Sir Charles Barry was Chairman of the Company, Mr. (afterwards Sir William) Tite Deputy Chairman, and a number of prominent members of the Institute were Directors. The then President, the Earl de Grey, presented to the Institute twenty shares in the Company free of all further calls. The Architectural Union Company, having purchased the property No. 9 Conduit Street, constructed the Galleries (afterwards known as the Conduit Street Galleries) at the rear of the house. The Institute was assigned the entire suite of apartments on the principal floor (the present Library rooms), with separate staircase, a large room for casts, models, &c., and apartments for an attendant in the basement and upper floors. The premises were formally opened by Earl de Grey on the 7th November 1859.

In 1890 the Institute took over the ground-floor and basement, which were converted into a Council-room and Secretary's offices, and in 1897 acquired the three rooms on the second floor now used as the Editor's office, Library store-room, and typists' room.

In 1909 the Institute secured the leasehold interest in the Galleries which the then tenants held from the Architectural Union Company, and entered into possession of the entire building. At this date also, the Institute holding a considerable number of shares in the Company, advantage was taken of an opportunity to acquire the remainder, and in 1910 the Institute became practically tenant of the property in perpetuity, the lease, which is held direct from the Corporation of the City of London, being renewable on the periodical payment of a nominal fine.

Of the three Galleries in the rear of the building, the Great Gallery is used for General Meetings and, with the East Gallery, for the Examinations and for exhibitions of drawings, etc.; and the West Gallery, which contains the fine collection of portraits of Past Presidents, the work of eminent contemporary artists, serves as a Members' Common Room. The first floor is devoted exclusively to the Library.

THE COUNCIL DINNER CLUB.

The Council Dinner Club was founded during the presidency of the late Mr. Charles Barry (1876-79), and give Members of Council an opportunity of dining together in the interval between the close of a Council Meeting and the opening of a General Meeting of the Institute. It consists of all Members of the Council for the time being, past Presidents, past Vice-Presidents, and such other past Members of Council as the Club desires to elect. One of the functions of the Club is to entertain foreign architects of distinction visiting England, readers of Papers at General Meetings, and others whom the Institute would desire to honour. The Club is entirely self-supporting.

THE R.I.B.A. TRAVELLING CARD.

Members, Students, and Probationers R.I.B.A. can obtain from the Institute a travelling card, or credential for travel abroad, available for a stated period. Persons requiring the cards for use in Italy must have them visé'd by the Italian Consul of their district. Applications for the card must be made in writing to The Secretary R.I.B.A. at the Office of the Institute; and, in the case of those who are neither Probationers nor Students, the application must be accompanied by a letter from a member.

ASSESSORS IN COMPETITIONS.

Members of the Institute who have been requested to act as Assessors subsequent to the conditions of the Competition having been drawn, should obtain a copy of the conditions and consider their conformity with the Regulations issued by the Royal Institute, and should also notify the Secretary of the Institute that they have been asked to act.

REGISTER FOR ASSISTANTS SEEKING EMPLOYMENT.

This Register, kept at the office of the Institute, contains applications for varieties of work connected with the profession. The Book is always open to architects' assistants, improvers, pupils, and clerks-of-works; also to young architects desirous of becoming known to members of the Institute through their drawings or other work. Applicants desirous of being registered should give the following particulars:—(1) name and address; (2) age; (3) salary per week; (4) qualifications; (5) references. On obtaining an engagement the applicant should at once inform the Secretary, in order that the fact may be noted in the Register.

Architects, whether members of the Institute or not, will be furnished on application with the names and addresses of persons desiring employment as assistants, improvers, or clerks-of-works, as the case may be. Architects applying for assistants should give the following particulars of their requirements:—(1) whether temporary or permanent engagement; (2) junior or senior assistants; (3) particulars of duties and style of work; (4) salary offered.

The registration fee to non-members is One Shilling; but to members of the Institute, Students, and Probationers, the Register is free. Communications should be addressed The Secretary R.I.B.A., 2 Conduit Street, London, W.

THE BY-LAWS.

At the Council Chamber, Whitehall.

The 23rd day of March 1910.

By the Words of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by Section 33 of the Supplemental Charter of the Royal Institute of British Architects dated the 28th day of March, 1887, it is provided that the said Royal Institute may from time to time by Resolution of a General Meeting confirmed at a subsequent General Meeting, which shall be held not less than seven and not more than twenty-eight days after the former Meeting, make and adopt such By-laws as may be deemed expedient and may in the same manner vary, suspend, and rescind any By-laws and make and adopt others in their stead, but ~~so~~ that the By-laws for the time being be not in any respect repugnant to the Law of England or inconsistent with the said Supplemental Charter: Provided always that no such By-laws shall be of any force or validity whatever unless and until they have been approved by the Lords of the Privy Council.

And whereas the said Royal Institute has by Resolution of a General Meeting held on the 7th day of February, 1910, and confirmed at a General Meeting held on the 15th day of February, 1910, made and adopted certain Revised By-laws to be substituted in place of the existing By-laws of the said Royal Institute.

And whereas the said Revised By-laws were this day read at the Board.

NOW THEREFORE, Their Lordships, having taken the said Revised By-laws (a copy of which is herewith annexed) into consideration, are hereby pleased to approve the same.

ALMERIC FITZROY.

I. MEMBERS AND LICENTIATES.

1. Every candidate for admission to the Royal Institute shall make and subscribe a statement:—1st. That he is eligible under the Charter and By-laws; 2nd. That he is willing, if elected, to be bound by the Charter and By-laws, and by Regulations made as hereinafter provided.

2. Every person desirous of qualifying for candidature as Associate must pass or have passed the Examination or Examinations required by the Royal Institute under the provisions of the Charter and By-laws; and according to a standard fixed, and Regulations made, from time to time by the Council. The examination for candidates for Associateship, which shall be held at such times and places as may be appointed or approved by the Council, shall be written, graphic, and oral: and shall relate to the history of architecture; the characteristics and details of architectural styles; the nature, properties, and application of building materials; sanitary science; the principles and practice of construction; the design and arrangement of buildings; professional practice; and such other subjects ~~as~~ the Council may from time to time determine. Every candidate for Associateship after the year 1913, before presenting himself for the Final Examination, shall have either (a) passed through the course prescribed under the scheme to be adopted by the Council as provided in By-law 18, or (b) proved to the satisfaction of the Board of Architectural Education that he has been otherwise properly trained as an architect.

3. Save and except those whom the Council may elect in accordance with the Charter, every person desirous of being admitted as Fellow or Associate must be proposed according to the Nomination Form for his Class. The Christian name, surname, and place of residence and place or places of business of each candidate shall be inserted in his Nomination Form, and this Form must be subscribed by him, and, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, by at least three Fellows, who shall certify their personal knowledge of him. The Nomination Form must be accompanied by a separate written statement by the candidate giving particulars of his professional education and, in the case of a candidate for Fellowship, of his works; and also by a separate written statement by one Fellow who has signed the Nomination Form, giving particulars of his acquaintance with the candidate as to his professional education and, in the case of a candidate for Fellowship, with his works. A candidate for Associateship must have passed, and must in his separate written statement declare that he has passed, the Examination in Examinations required by the Royal Institute under the provisions of the Charter and By-laws.

(a) In the case of a Non-Metropolitan architect who, being desirous of admission, is a member of any Society in alliance with the Royal Institute as hereinafter provided, the Nomination Form may be signed by one Fellow of the Royal Institute, and by the President and Honorary Secretary or Secretary of the Allied Society of which the candidate is a member.

(b) In the case of members of The Architectural Association (London) desirous of being admitted as Associates, the Nomination Form may be signed by one Fellow of the Royal Institute, and by the President and Honorary Secretary of The Architectural Association.

(c) In the case of a British architect not residing in the United Kingdom, the candidate for election may be proposed according to the Form A i, the Nomination Form being accompanied by testimonials from well-known persons as to his professional position and character.

Non-Metropolitan architects.

Members of The Architectural Association (as Associates).

British architects not residing in the
dom.

- (d) In the case of any candidate for membership not being personally acquainted with the number of Fellows herein required to propose him, the Council shall, if satisfied with his qualifications, have power to nominate him, and to dispense with the separate written statement to be made by a Fellow as herein provided.

By the
certain cases.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

4. Every nomination of a candidate as Honorary Associate must state his Christian name, surname, and place of residence, and must be subscribed by him and by at least three Fellows who shall certify their personal knowledge of him.

Hon. Associates.

5. Every proposal for the election of an Honorary Fellow must be made either by the Council or on the nomination of any twelve Fellows, and must give the Christian name, surname, titles, and address of the candidate, with a statement of the grounds on which he is recommended.

Hon. Fellows.

6. Every proposal for the election of an Honorary Corresponding Member must be made either by the Council or on the nomination of at least three Fellows, and must give the Christian name, surname, titles, and address of the candidate with a statement of the grounds on which he is recommended.

Hon. Corr. Members.

LICENTIATES.

7. Every person desirous of being admitted as a Licentiate must be proposed according to the Nomination Form of his class in manner similar to that hereinbefore provided in respect of Fellows and Associates, but his Nomination Form may be subscribed by any three members, whether Fellows or Associates.

Licentiates.

Every candidate for admission as a Licentiate who satisfies the Council that he is eligible under the Charter and who is in the opinion of the Council a fit and proper person shall be admitted as prescribed in By-law No. 12. A Licentiate when and as soon as he is otherwise eligible as a Fellow may before the 31st December 1920 be admitted for nomination to that class when he shall have passed such examination as the Council may from time to time prescribe, in which case he must be nominated and submitted for election in all respects as prescribed for other candidates for the Fellowship.

NOMINATIONS FOR ADMISSION TO CANDIDATURE.

8. The nomination of every applicant for admission to any class of membership or to the class of Licentiates must be forwarded to the Secretary, or in the case of a Interval between nomination and election.

Dominion, Colony, or Dependency through the Local Honorary Secretary if any appointed by the Council, for submission to the Council, who shall inquire into the fitness and qualifications of the applicant so nominated: and in the case of a nomination of any person residing in a district or province where there is no Allied Society as hereinafter defined, but whose nomination has not been forwarded through such Society, the Secretary shall send notice thereof to such Allied Society and invite observations thereon. The name and address of every applicant for candidature shall be suspended in the Meeting-room and published in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute, with a notification that any objection or other communication must be sent to the Secretary for submission to the Council within a period from the date of such publication to be fixed by Regulation of the Council. If, after due investigation of the claim of such applicant and of any objection thereto, the Council approve him and find him to be eligible and qualified according to the Charter and By-laws he shall be admitted to candidature, and his nomination shall be signed by the Chairman of the Council Meeting at which such nomination is approved. The nomination shall be read at a General Meeting and forthwith suspended in the Meeting-room of the Royal Institute until the day of election. The name and address of the candidate, with the names of his proposers, shall be printed in full in the circular convening the Meeting at which such election is to take place. Any communication respecting applicants for admission to candidature, or respecting candidates for election, received by the Council shall be treated as confidential.

ELECTIONS.

Notice of election.

9. The election of candidates shall (except in the case in which special provision is made in By-laws 3, 7, 10, and 12) take place at Business Meetings only, and in no case until due notice thereof has been given in the circular convening the Meeting.

10. The voting at elections of candidates shall be by show of hands, and a candidate shall be elected if supported by a majority of those present having a right to vote and voting at such election. Provided always that if a requisition in writing signed by Fellows and Associates of whom not less than seven shall be Fellows (the total number of signatures being not less than twelve) be delivered to the Secretary not less than fourteen clear days before the Meeting at which such election is to take place, that the votes for the whole of the candidates, or for one or more specified candidates, be taken by voting papers, then the election or elections of such candidates shall be so conducted. Voting papers shall then be issued to all Fellows and Associates resident in the United Kingdom, and shall be returned to the Secretary, so that the same shall be received by him at the latest on the Thursday evening before such Business Meeting as aforesaid, folded and enclosed in a sealed envelope, bearing on the outside the signature and Royal Institute serial number of the member voting. The Council shall appoint not less than three Scrutineers of whom two shall form a quorum, and such Scrutineers shall be summoned by the Secretary to meet at the premises of the Royal Institute, and at such Meeting he shall deliver to them the said envelopes, which shall be opened and the voting papers taken therefrom without being unfolded, the Scrutineers adopting such further measures as they may deem fit to prevent the identification of the voters. The Scrutineers shall then examine the voting papers, count the votes, and report to the Royal Institute at any General Meeting the ~~names~~ of the candidates elected—negative votes in the proportion of one negative vote to four affirmative votes excluding from election. The decision of the Scrutineers, or a majority of them, shall in all matters relating to an election be final.

11. In case of the non-election of any candidate proposed to be elected by a show of hands, no notice shall be taken thereof in the Minutes of the Meeting. No candidate who has been excluded from election shall again be proposed within a period of twelve calendar months.

Non election.

12. The name of any candidate whom the Council ~~may~~ empowered under the Charter to elect either as a Fellow or Licentiate, together with the names of his proposers, shall be sent to every member of the Council, and if he be practising out of London to the Council of any Allied Society of the provinces in which his office is situated, not less than fourteen days before the meeting of the Institute Council at which his name is to be submitted for election.

Election of Fellows and Licentiates
Council.

Every such candidate for the Fellowship receiving the unanimous vote of those present and voting at a meeting of the Council, not less than twelve being present and voting, shall be declared duly elected, subject to By-law No. 18.

Every such candidate for the Licentiate-ship receiving ~~the~~ affirmative vote of two-thirds of those present and voting, and in any case of not less than twelve, shall be declared elected, subject to By-law No. 13. Such voting in both cases shall be by show of hands.

Acquiescence
clarations.

13. When a candidate is elected, the Secretary shall inform him of his election and shall send him a copy of the Charter and By-laws, and no elected candidate shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of membership or as a Licentiate until he shall have signified his acquiescence in the election. No candidate for membership or as a Licentiate shall be entitled to any rights and privileges until he has also signed and returned to the Secretary the Declaration, A, B, C, or D, and in the case of a member has paid his entrance fee and first annual subscription, and in the case of a Licentiate has paid his first annual contribution.

Formal
admission.

14. Every member or Licentiate who has complied with the preceding By-law 13 shall be formally introduced and admitted, at the first General Meeting at which he may be present, by the President, or the Chairman of the Meeting, who, addressing him by name, shall say—"As PRESIDENT [or Chairman of this Meeting] I HEREBY ADMIT YOU A — [naming class] ~~in~~ THE ROYAL INSTITUTE OF BRITISH ARCHITECTS." And every such member or Licentiate shall at such Meeting sign, according to his Class, the Register of the Royal Institute. Should the elected candidate be unable to attend a meeting within three months of his election he shall transmit by post to the Secretary his signature to be inserted in the Register.

lows.

15. Any Fellow who has been a member for not less than thirty years, and has retired from practice, may, subject to the approval of the Council, be transferred without election to the non-subscribing Class of "Retired Fellows of the Royal Institute"; and in such case his interest in, or claim against the property of the Royal Institute shall cease. A Retired Fellow shall be entitled to be present at, and to take part in, the discussions on any subject brought before the Meetings, but shall not be entitled to vote.

Fellows eli-
Associates.

16. Any Fellow who has retired from practice may, on his request, by Resolution of the Council, be transferred without election or entrance contribution to the Class of Honorary Associates. In the Register of Honorary Associates the names of such transferred Fellows shall be printed in italics.

ENTRANCE FEES, SUBSCRIPTIONS, AND CONTRIBUTIONS.

17. The amounts of entrance fees and subscriptions shall be from time to time determined by Resolution of the Royal Institute.

(a) The entrance fee of each Fellow shall not exceed five guineas, nor his annual subscription four guineas. In the case of a Fellow elected from the Class of Associates, his entrance fee shall not exceed two guineas. Provided always that the Council may during their pleasure dispense with the payment of an entrance fee in the case of Non-Metropolitan Fellows.

- (b) The entrance fee of each Associate shall not exceed three guineas, nor his annual subscription two guineas. Associates.
- (c) The entrance fee of each Honorary Associate shall be at least two guineas, which shall be appropriated to the Library fund, and his annual subscription shall be two guineas. Hon. Associates.
- (d) A Licentiate shall pay an annual contribution of one guinea, and for this shall be entitled (1) to receive the JOURNAL and KALENDAR of the Royal Institute; (2) to use the Institute premises, subject to any regulations or restrictions that the Council may make from time to time. Licentiates.

18. Every subscribing member shall pay his entrance fee and first annual subscription, and every Licentiate shall pay his first annual contribution, within two months of the day of his election; otherwise, unless the delay be explained to the satisfaction of the Council, his election shall be void. Elections void.

19. Annual subscriptions or contributions shall be paid in advance; and, except as provided by By-law 18, shall be due on the first day of January in each year. Every member or Licentiate elected after the thirty-first day of October in any year shall not, after having paid his entrance fee (if any) and first annual subscription or contribution as hereinbefore provided, be required to pay any further subscription or contribution before the first day of the January twelvemonth subsequent to his election. Subscriptions and contributions: when due, &c.

20. Every member or Licentiate shall be liable for the payment of his annual subscription or contribution until he has either ceased to be a member or Licentiate under By-laws 22 to 25 inclusive, or has signified in writing to the Secretary his intention to resign and has paid all arrears. Liability of members and Licentiates.

21. Any member or Licentiate whose annual subscription or contribution, due on the first day of January, is unpaid on the first Monday in March following shall receive notice thereof; and in the event of the said subscription or contribution not being paid on or before the first Monday in April following, the name of such member or Licentiate shall be forthwith posted in the Meeting-room of the Royal Institute, with a statement of the amount due; and shall remain there until the arrears shall have been paid, or until the member or Licentiate shall have Subscription and contribution in arrear.

become a defaulter under By-law 22. A registered letter, in the Form VI, shall be forthwith sent to every member or Licentiate whose name has been so posted.

Defaulters

22. Whenever any member or Licentiate shall permit his annual subscription or contribution to remain in arrear for a period exceeding one year, he shall become a defaulter, and a registered letter, in the Form VII, shall be sent to him; and, if the arrears be not paid within six weeks after the forwarding of such letter, the name of such defaulter shall be posted for six weeks in the Meeting-room of the Royal Institute; and if the arrears be not paid within that time, the defaulter shall be suspended or expelled by Resolution of the Council, in manner provided by By-law 25. Should any member or Licentiate be expelled for non-payment of his subscription or contribution, the Council shall have power, upon the defaulter giving to their satisfaction an explanation of the non-payment, to reinstate him in his former position as a member or Licentiate; and in such case to require the payment of all subscriptions or contributions which would be due had he continued a member or Licentiate up to the date of such reinstatement, and any costs to which the Royal Institute may have been put in consequence of the default.

Remission of subscription or contribution.

23. In the case of any member or Licentiate being disabled from ill-health, advanced age, or unable from other sufficient cause to continue to practise his profession, the Council may remit his annual subscription or contribution and any arrears due from him, and may further, if they thereafter find good reason for so doing, reinstate such member or Licentiate in his former position as a member or Licentiate.

Grounds for reprimand, suspension, or expulsion.

24. Any member or Licentiate contravening the Declaration A, B, C, or D, as the case may be, signed by him, or conducting himself in a manner which in the opinion of the Council is derogatory to his professional character, or who shall engage in any occupation which in the opinion of the Council is inconsistent with the profession of an architect, shall be liable to reprimand, suspension, or expulsion in manner hereinafter provided. Any member or Licentiate who may be convicted of felony shall, ipso facto, cease to be a member or Licentiate of the Royal Institute.

Investigation of charges and procedure for reprimand, suspension, or expulsion.

25. Any charge under the preceding By-law 24 preferred against a member or Licentiate must be in writing, duly signed, and forwarded to the Secretary, who shall lay it before the Council at their next meeting. Such charge shall be entertained, considered, and determined by the Council only, but the Council shall have power to appoint a committee of not less than three of their own body to investigate it and to report to them thereon. Should the Council find prima facie grounds for further proceedings, the Secretary shall send, in a registered letter, to the member ■ Licentiate against whom the charge is preferred, a statement of the charge, calling upon him to answer such charge in writing within fourteen days of the date of such letter, and, at their discretion, to appear in person before a meeting of the Council, or of ■ committee of the Council. In default of the member's or Licentiate's compliance with the request in such letter, or if his explanation be in the judgment of the Council unsatisfactory, the Council shall have power to decree the reprimand of such member or Licentiate, his suspension for a period not exceeding twelve months, or his expulsion. No member ■ Licentiate shall be suspended or expelled unless the Council so decide by a majority of at least two-thirds of those present, and in any case by the vote of at least twelve of those present. If they so decide, the member or Licentiate shall be suspended or expelled, and cease either temporarily or permanently, as the case may be, to be ■ member or Licentiate, on the Chairman at the next General Meeting announcing such decision of the Council to the members present; and the Secretary shall thereupon communicate the fact by registered letter to such member or Licentiate. In any case of such suspension or expulsion the fact shall, if the Council so decide, be recorded in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute, and published in such newspapers as the Council may determine. Provided always that, should any facts be subsequently brought to the knowledge of the Council which in their opinion shall justify them in rescinding their previous decision in respect of such suspension or expulsion, they shall have power to do so with the concurrence of at least the number of votes required for the suspension or expulsion ■ herein provided, and in such case the Chairman at the next General Meeting shall announce the decision of the Council to the members present, and they shall publish such decision in the JOURNAL and the newspapers as before provided.

26. Diplomas of such forms and designs ■ the Council may from time to time prescribe shall be granted to every Fellow and Associate who is or shall be entitled thereto; and certificates of such forms and designs as the Council may from time to time prescribe shall be granted to every Licentiate who is or shall be entitled thereto.

Diplomas and certificates.

The Diploma or Certificate shall bear the Common Seal of the Royal Institute, and be signed as provided by By-law 45. It shall remain the property of the Royal Institute, but shall be tenable by the member or Licentiate so long as he shall remain a member or Licentiate. When the holder shall cease to be a member or Licentiate, he shall, within seven days of demand being made in writing by the Secretary, return the Diploma or Certificate; but should he or his legal representatives fail to do so, or to explain his or their inability to do so to the satisfaction of the Council, the Council are hereby empowered to cancel the said Diploma or Certificate, and to sue for and recover the same with costs: and a notice of such cancelling shall be given by the Chairman at the next General Meeting, and shall be inserted in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute and published in such newspapers as the Council may determine.

II. THE COUNCIL.

Constitution.

27. The Council shall consist of not more than forty-two, viz.—

(a) The President, four Vice-Presidents, an Honorary Secretary, eighteen Fellows as Members of Council, and six Associates as Associate-Members of Council.

(b) Two past Presidents of the Royal Institute.

(c) Presidents of the three Societies within the United Kingdom in alliance with the Royal Institute which on the 31st December of the year preceding the election contain the largest number of members of the Royal Institute. In the event of there being an equal number of such members in two or all of such Societies, then the Presidents of such of them as on the said date contain the largest number of Fellows of the Royal Institute. In the event of there being an equal number of Fellows in two or all, then the Presidents of such Societies as on the said date have the largest number of practising architects among their members.

(d) The Presidents of six other of the Societies within the United Kingdom in alliance with the Royal Institute selected as follows:—

The first six Presidents shall be of those Societies which on the 31st December of the year preceding the election contain the largest number of members of the Royal Institute. In the event of there being an equal number of such members in two or more of such Societies, then the provision applicable to the selection in Class (c) shall apply.

In subsequent years the Presidents, not exceeding six in any one year, of the remaining Societies shall be similarly selected until all the Societies in Class (d) are represented in regular rotation, and when all have been represented the process of rotation shall begin again and continue on the same lines.

In every case under (c) and (d) as a condition precedent to their nominations the Presidents of such Societies must be Fellows of the Royal Institute.

(e) One Fellow or Associate of the Royal Institute ■ representative of the Architectural Association (London).

28. No President of the Royal Institute who has filled the office for ~~ten~~ successive years shall be again eligible for the Presidency until the expiration of two years from the termination of his tenure of office.

Restriction of eligibility to the ~~Office~~ of President.

29. Any Fellow who is or has been ■ Member of Council shall be eligible to serve as Vice-President, but ■ Vice-President who has filled the office for four successive years shall be eligible for re-election as Vice-President until the expiration of two years from the termination of his tenure of office.

Eligibility to the office of Vice-President and restriction thereof.

30. The Honorary Secretary shall be eligible to be re-elected from year to year. He shall, subject to the direction and control of the Council, have the management of the affairs of the Royal Institute, and shall cause Minutes to be taken of the proceedings of General Meetings, and of Meetings of the Council, of the Board of Education, and of the Standing and all other Committees of the Royal Institute, provided always that no Honorary Secretary who has filled the office for six successive years shall be eligible for re-election as Honorary Secretary until the expiration of two years from the termination of his tenure of office.

31. No past President serving on the Council under clause (b) of By-law 27 shall be eligible to serve for more than three successive years.

32. Any Fellow shall be eligible to serve ~~as~~ Member of Council. Any Associate shall be eligible to serve ■ ■ Associate-Member of Council.

Eligibility to serve on the Council.

33. Two weeks prior to the Annual General Meeting in May, the Council shall issue to every member in the United Kingdom entitled to vote thereon a list of members whom they nominate to form the Council as provided in By-law 27, for the ensuing year of office. Such list shall contain the names of at least twenty-two Fellows and eight Associates ■ nominated for election ■ Members of Council and Associate-Members of Council respectively. Any seven or more members, the majority in all cases being Fellows, may nominate any other candidate for any of the offices named in By-law 27, (a) by delivering such nomination to the Secretary before the close of the Annual General Meeting, accompanied by a written undertaking by the nominee to serve if elected. The name of every candidate so nominated shall be added to the said list, which, with such added names (if any), shall be the voting list for the election. The names of all candidates for election shall be printed in the same type and in alphabetical order. On this list shall be printed directions for its use by the members; and any list which fails to comply with such directions shall be rejected by the Scrutineers, and the votes shall be lost. The Scrutineers, who shall be appointed by the Council, shall have the direction of the election, their decision on any matter relating thereto being final, and five of them shall be a quorum. The voting list shall be issued to all members in the United Kingdom entitled to vote thereon within one week after the Annual General Meeting. No other document or communication besides the voting papers, directions for their use, and the envelope within which they are to be returned, shall be issued therewith. The voting list shall be returned to the Secretary, at least seven days before the first General Meeting in June, folded and enclosed in a sealed envelope, bearing on the outside the signature and Royal Institute serial number of the member voting. The Scrutineers shall, as soon thereafter as may be convenient, be summoned by the Secretary to meet at the premises of the Royal Institute, and at such meeting he shall deliver to them the said envelopes. They shall then proceed to open the said envelopes and take the voting lists therefrom, without unfolding them, adopting such measures as in their discretion they shall deem fit to prevent the identification of the voters. The Scrutineers shall then open the said voting lists and count the votes, and shall report the result to the first General Meeting in June. The members who receive the most votes shall be declared to be elected at the said first General Meeting in June to the respective offices for which they were nominated, and shall enter upon their respective duties from the first of July following. In the event of an equality of votes for the President or Honorary Secretary or for the last place of the four Vice-Presidents or of the eighteen Members of Council or of the six Associate-Members of Council, the election of the candidates so receiving such equality shall be determined by ballot of the members present having a right to vote and voting. The Council so elected shall remain in office until the last day in June of the year following that in which they were elected.

34. One-sixth of the Ordinary and Associate Members of Council—i.e. three Fellows and one Associate—shall be ineligible to serve again as Ordinary or Associate Members respectively for two years from the termination of their tenure of office; such members to be the seniors in continuity of service, and in the event of equality of seniority the rotation to be decided by lot.

35. In the event of the death or resignation of the President, the Secretary shall forthwith forward to every member of the Council a notice thereof, and at a regular meeting of the Council, held not less than fourteen days after the date of such notice, the Council shall elect one of the existing Vice-Presidents to fill the vacant office until the next Annual Election of the Council, and the Vice-President so elected shall forthwith enter on his office.

Death or
President.

In the event of the death or resignation of the Honorary Secretary, the Secretary shall forthwith forward to every member of the Council a notice thereof, and at a regular meeting of the Council, held not less than fourteen days after the date of such notice, the Council shall elect one of their members to fill the vacant office until the next Annual Election of the Council, and the member so elected shall forthwith enter on his office.

Death or resignation of Honorary
Secretary.

In the event of the number of Members of Council being reduced by death, resignation, or otherwise, below one-half of the full number prescribed in By-law 27 (a), the Council shall issue to every member within the United Kingdom entitled to vote thereon a notice thereof containing the names of such Fellows whom they nominate for the vacant offices. Within two weeks of such issue, any twelve members, the majority in all cases being Fellows, may nominate to the vacant offices any other Fellows, by forwarding their names to the Secretary, accompanied by a written undertaking by the nominees to serve if elected. The Council shall, within one further week, issue to every member entitled to vote thereon a voting list for the election, accompanied by a notice convening a Special General Meeting as provided in By-law 65, to be held not less than seven and not more than fourteen days after such notice. Such lists shall be returned to the Secretary at least three days before the date of such meeting. The Council shall appoint Scrutineers, and the Scrutineers, whose decision shall be final, shall count the votes, and report the result to the Special General Meeting. The form of voting list and the mode of procedure shall be similar to those provided in the case of the Annual Election. The Members of Council so elected shall enter forthwith on their respective offices.

The President, Honorary Secretary, and Members of Council appointed as herein provided shall remain in office until the last day in the following June.

Meetings and quorum.

36. The Council shall meet at the premises of the Royal Institute at least once in every month during the Session. Ten Members of the Council shall form a quorum. The President and any five Members of the Council may, by letter to the Secretary, require an Extraordinary Meeting thereof to be called.

Regulations
by the Council.

37. Any Regulation made by the Council for carrying into effect the Charter and By-laws, and for the general management of the affairs of the Royal Institute, except as otherwise provided by the Charter, shall after notice given be reported to a General Meeting for confirmation by Resolution of the Royal Institute, and such Regulation shall be subject to repeal or alteration only at a Special General Meeting, to be summoned in the manner described in By-law 65 for the consideration of such repeal or alteration.

38. Any notice required by the Charter or the By-laws to be given to members may be a written or printed notice, and may be sent to members or Licentiates either separately or in with, or if printed may be printed under the heading of "Notices," as part of the next issue of the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute, as the Council may direct, and any notice shall be deemed to have been duly sent to a member or Licentiate when such notice, or the JOURNAL in which it is sent or printed, addressed to the last address of the Member or Licentiate appearing in the CALENDAR of the Royal Institute, has been put into the post or otherwise despatched.

Notices.

39. No notices or other documents other than those necessary for the usual conduct of the business of the Institute shall be issued to the various classes of members and Licentiates, save those directed to be issued by the Charter or By-laws or by Resolution of the Council, except that in case of emergency the President shall have power to issue any notice he may think fit, provided that he report his action at the next meeting of the Council.

Power to de-
of officers and servants.

40. Any appointment by the Council of the Secretary, or other officer or servant of the Royal Institute, shall reserve to the Council the right to terminate such appointment on giving such notice, not exceeding six months, as may be fixed by the Council at the time of the appointment, and no appointment without such reservation shall be valid.

41. The Council shall present a report on the state of the property and affairs of the Royal Institute to the Annual General Meeting, which report shall give an abstract of the proceedings during the official year, an account of the funds (including a balance-sheet of the receipts and disbursements for the past year properly audited), and an estimate of the income and expenditure for the current year. A copy of the report shall be issued to every subscribing member within the United Kingdom, at least one week before the Annual General Meeting.

Annual Report, Balance-sheet, and Estimate.

42. The Council shall, unless otherwise directed by any deed or trust, have the power to invest any entrance fees, surplus income, funds, donations, or endowments, in such securities as trustees are permitted by the High Court of Justice to invest in, and in the stock or shares of the Architectural Union Company (Limited); and such investments shall form part of the property of the Royal Institute.

Investment of moneys.

43. All money belonging to the Royal Institute and not invested shall be deposited by the Council, on account of and for the use of the Royal Institute, with a Banker in London or Westminster.

Banker.

44. No sum of money exceeding £10 shall be paid on account of the Royal Institute except by a cheque of the Council, signed by three members thereof, and countersigned by the Secretary or other officer nominated by the Council.

Payments.

45. The Common Seal shall not be affixed to any deed or writing except at a meeting of the Council, and then only by their authority; and such deed or writing shall after the Seal has been affixed be signed by the President or the Chairman of the Meeting, by two other Members of Council present, and by the Honorary Secretary, or in his absence by another Member of Council, and countersigned by the Secretary. Every use of the Seal shall be recorded in the Minutes.

Use of the Common Seal.

III. THE AUDITORS.

46. The Royal Institute shall annually elect as Auditors one Fellow and one Associate, not Members of the Council. Candidates shall be nominated for the office at the Annual General Meeting on the first Monday in May, and their names shall be appended to the list of the Council nominated for election. The Auditors shall have access at all reasonable times to the accounts and securities. They shall examine the securities and the annual accounts before the latter are submitted to the Annual General Meeting, and shall report thereon to the Royal Institute. In the event of the decease or resignation of an Auditor, another member of the Royal Institute shall be elected to the office by Resolution of the Royal Institute after notice given.

IV. THE SECRETARY.

47. The Council shall appoint an officer who shall be "The Secretary of the Royal Institute," and who shall be responsible to the Council, and, subject thereto, shall have the management of the establishment and the conduct of the executive business of the Royal Institute.

V. EDUCATION AND EXAMINATION IN ARCHITECTURE.

48. The Council shall annually appoint a Board of Architectural Education to deal with the education of students in architecture, and to conduct by Examiners approved by the Council such examinations as are required by the Royal Institute under the provisions of any Act of Parliament or of the Charter and By-laws. The Board shall not exceed twenty-one in number, inclusive of the President, who shall be ~~an~~ ex-officio member, and shall consist of such subscribing members of the Royal Institute and such other persons as the Council may invite. The Council may on the advice of the Board invite other representative persons to act as advisory members of such Board. The Board shall have power to elect its own officers from its members and to draw up regulations for its procedure. The Board may conduct its own correspondence, but shall take no public action nor incur any pecuniary responsibility. The Board shall submit any scheme they may devise for education and examination to the Council for their consideration; and if and when the Council shall approve such scheme the Board shall have the supervision thereof, and shall annually report to the Council thereon, and may submit any suggestions for variations thereof to the Council for their consideration.

The scheme adopted by the Council and any variation thereof adopted by the Council from time to time shall be forthwith published in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute. No such variation shall in any way prejudice any student in respect to any work done by him under the scheme existing previous to such variation.

Every student who has passed the examination for that grade instituted or to be instituted by the Royal Institute, and shall have satisfied such other requirements as the Council may from time to time prescribe as applying to students, shall be entitled to be registered as Student of the Royal Institute of British Architects subject to such conditions and to such restrictions as to continuance as the Council may determine, and a Register shall be kept setting forth the Students' names in the chronological order in which they have passed.

VI. ORDINARY COMMITTEES.

49. The Council shall have power to appoint Boards and Committees, for the purpose of dealing with specific subjects connected with the objects of the Royal Institute; and the reports of such Boards or Committees shall be submitted to the Council in writing. Such Boards or Committees may respectively appoint ~~one~~ of themselves to act as Chairman and one ~~more~~ more as Honorary Secretary.

VII. THE STANDING COMMITTEES.

50. Standing Committees for the promotion of the art, science, literature, and practice of the profession of Architecture shall be appointed annually.

51. The Standing Committees shall each consist of not more than twenty-one members, namely:—Ten Fellows and six Associates, to be elected annually in the manner hereinafter provided, and other members to be subsequently appointed by the Council, at least one of whom shall be a member of the Council. No member shall be eligible for election or appointment on more than ~~one~~ Standing Committee in any one year, and no member shall serve ~~on~~ the same Committee for more than six successive years. Constitution.

52. The functions of the Standing Committees shall be to consider and investigate any subject appertaining to the branches of the profession of Architecture with which they are respectively entrusted, and to make reports and suggestions thereon to the Council. The publication of such reports or suggestions, or abstracts thereof, shall be left to the discretion and management of the Council. The Standing Committees may make communications at ~~a~~ General Meeting by the direction or leave of the Council or Chairman of the said Meeting. Functions.

53. The Standing Committees shall each appoint from their own members a Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and one or more Honorary Secretaries. No Chairman of a Standing Committee who has filled the office for two consecutive years shall be again eligible for the Chairmanship Officers, Meetings, and Quorum.

until the expiration of two years from the termination of his tenure of office. The Standing Committees shall meet at the premises of the Royal Institute at such intervals as they may deem desirable. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall have power to summon a meeting of his Standing Committee at any time he may think fit. Five members shall be a quorum.

Annual Election.

54. Four weeks prior to the Annual General Meeting in May, the Standing Committees shall each send to the Council a list of Fellows and Associates whom they suggest as suitable and eligible to serve on their respective Committees for the ensuing year of office. The procedure for the election, including the issue of a voting list by the Council, the nomination of other candidates, the preparation, issue, and return of the voting lists, and the duration of the Committee, shall be as provided in By-law 33 for the Annual Election of the Council, so far as such provisions are applicable; and Scrutineers appointed as therein provided shall have the conduct of the election. The voting lists shall be printed on paper of a colour distinctive from that of the voting list for the election of the Council.

Conduct of Proceedings.

55. The Standing Committees may conduct their own correspondence and business respectively, but shall take no public action nor incur any pecuniary responsibility.

Annual Report.

56. In the first week of April in each year the Standing Committees shall each forward to the Council a report of their proceedings during the official year, which report, or a summary thereof, shall be incorporated in the Council's report to the Annual General Meeting.

VIII. GENERAL MEETINGS.

The Session.

57. The Session shall commence on the first Monday in November in each year, and shall terminate in the following June, but it shall be in the power of the Council to vary the commencement and duration of the Session.

Time and place of Meeting and Quorum.

58. All General Meetings, excepting Special General Meetings, shall be held on Monday evenings at the premises of the Royal Institute. The chair at such Meetings shall be taken as soon after eight o'clock p.m. as there shall be a quorum of twenty subscribing members present, of whom the majority shall be Fellows. If such quorum be not constituted before 8.30 p.m. the Meeting shall not take place, and all notices in respect thereof shall be held to have lapsed. The Council shall, at or before the beginning of the Session, fix the dates for General Meetings (excepting Special General Meetings), and a card containing such dates shall be forwarded to every member. The Royal Institute may by Resolution, after notice given, vary the date, time, and place of Meeting.

59. The Chair at General Meetings shall be taken by the President, or in his absence by one of the Vice-Presidents, or in their absence by a Member of Council; failing whom, any Fellow whom the Meeting may elect shall take the Chair. The Chair.

60. A printed notice of every General Meeting, stating the date and hour at which it is to be held and the business to be transacted thereat, shall be sent to every member and Licentiate within the United Kingdom at least seven days previously. Any General Meeting may by Resolution adjourn from time to time, but unless the adjournment be for a period exceeding seven days no printed notice shall be necessary. The proceedings at General Meetings shall be conducted in accordance with Regulations to be made from time to time by the Council. Summoning and adjourning and conduct of Proceedings.

61. At least four Business Meetings, exclusive of the Annual General Meeting in May, shall be held during the Session at as nearly as possible equal intervals. At these Meetings elections for membership shall be taken, and any questions relating to the property or the management of the Royal Institute, or to any professional question, may be discussed thereat, and such proceedings shall be private and shall not be communicated to the public Press without the written consent of the Chairman of the Meeting; but notice of any motion intended to be submitted to a Business Meeting must be given in writing to the Secretary at least fourteen days before the date of such Meeting. Business Meetings

62. Questions relating to the property or the management of the Royal Institute or to any professional question shall be brought forward at Business or Special General Meetings only. Questions and professional questions.

63. No Honorary Associate shall be entitled to vote in the election of any candidate for admission to the Royal Institute, or on any professional question. Restriction on the rights of Hon. Associates.

64. The Annual General Meeting shall be held on the first Monday in May, to receive and consider the Report of the Council. A list of the attendances at the Meetings of the Council and of the Standing Committees shall be submitted to the Annual General Meeting. The Annual General Meeting.

65. The Council may at any time call a Special General Meeting for a specific purpose, and they shall at any time during the Session be bound to do so on the written requisition of twelve subscribing members, the majority in all cases being Fellows, which shall specify the nature of the business to be transacted, and no other business Special General Meeting.

shall be discussed at such Meeting. A Special General Meeting shall be held within three weeks after the delivery of such requisition to the Secretary, and at least seven days' previous notice thereof shall be sent to every member or Licentiate entitled to be present. The notice shall state the business to be discussed. If within half an hour after the time appointed for such Meeting there be not thirty subscribing members present, of whom at least sixteen shall be Fellows, a Meeting shall take place, and all notices in respect thereof shall be held to have lapsed.

Alteration,
Suspension, or Repeal of
By-laws.

66. The adoption of any new By-law, or the alteration, suspension, or repeal of any existing By-law, may be proposed by the Council, or in writing by any twenty Fellows. In either case a Special General Meeting shall be convened in the manner prescribed in By-law 65 to consider the proposal.

Resolution respecting Alteration,
Suspension, or Repeal of
By-laws.

67. A Resolution respecting the adoption of a proposed By-law, or the alteration, suspension, or repeal of any existing By-law, shall be declared to be carried at a Special General Meeting if there shall be present at least forty Fellows; and if the same be supported by the votes taken by show of hands of a majority consisting of two-thirds of the Fellows present and voting thereon.

Resolutions
on Property
ment.

A Resolution on any proposal affecting the property or management of the Royal Institute shall be declared to be carried if there are present at least fifty members, of whom at least forty shall be Fellows, and if the same be supported by the votes taken by show of hands of a majority consisting of two-thirds of the members present having a right to vote and voting thereon.

Resolutions
on Professional Questions.

A Resolution on any professional question shall be declared to be carried if there are present at least forty members, of whom at least twenty-one shall be Fellows, and if the same be supported by the votes taken by show of hands of a majority consisting of two-thirds of the members present having a right to vote and voting thereon.

Resolutions to be confirmed at
Meeting.

A Resolution declared to be carried, and requiring under the provisions of the Charter to be confirmed at a subsequent General Meeting, shall be deemed to be so confirmed provided it be by a majority of those present having a right to vote and voting thereon at the said subsequent General Meeting. At such confirmatory Meeting the voting shall be by show of hands; and a Resolution of the Royal Institute so voted shall be declared to be carried if supported by a majority of those present having a right to vote and voting thereon.

68. The subject of a resolution which has been submitted to a General Meeting and duly considered shall not be again submitted during the same Session without the previous consent of the Council.

Resolution duly considered not to be brought up again during same Session.

IX. GENERAL CONFERENCES.

69. The Council may make arrangements for Conferences for the consideration of subjects of interest to the profession of Architecture, to be held sometimes in London and sometimes in the provinces.

X. THE ROYAL GOLD MEDAL.

70. In the case of the Royal Gold Medal the Council shall announce to the members, at a General Meeting, at least four weeks before the Special General Meeting at which the election is to be made, the name of the person they propose to submit to His Majesty as a fit recipient of that Honour; and any twelve Fellows desiring to substitute any other name shall deliver in writing to the Secretary a proposal signed by them, containing the name to be substituted, at least fourteen days before the day of election. If a name be proposed for substitution before the said time, the nomination of the Council shall be submitted on the day of election to the Special General Meeting. If, however, any such substituted nominations be made, and be not accepted by the Council, the name proposed by the Council shall be first submitted to the Meeting; and if such name be not approved by Resolution, then the other names proposed as above, in the order of the date of nomination, shall be submitted. In any case the award shall be by Resolution of the Royal Institute.

XI. STUDENTSHIPS AND PRIZES.

71. The Council shall, subject to the terms and conditions of any deed of gift or trust, define the programmes and conditions of competition for such Prizes, Medals, Exhibitions, Studentships or Scholarships, as have been or may from time to time be established by the Royal Institute, or which have been or may hereafter be founded by private munificence and held in trust by the Royal Institute; and shall, by a deed or writing under the Common Seal, award the same, and shall announce such awards at the next General Meeting after the adjudication.

XII. MISCELLANEOUS.

72. Each member shall have the privilege of introducing at any Ordinary Meeting one Visitor, who shall enter his name in a book provided for that purpose, but the Privilege of introducing one Visitor.

Council shall have power, on special occasions, to suspend this privilege on giving notice in the circular convening the Meeting.

Donations and Bequests.

73. The name of every person who shall contribute to the Collection, the Library, or the general funds of the Royal Institute, shall be published in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute.

Publication of Sessional Papers.

74. Every Paper read or taken ~~be~~ read at General Meetings by any person may be published by the Council in any way and at any time that they may think proper, unless there shall have been a previous engagement with its author to the contrary.

Custody of Charters, Deeds, and Securities.

75. The Charters, Deeds, and Securities of the Royal Institute shall be kept in the custody of the Banker ~~be~~ behalf of the Council, in an iron chest, with three separate locks, each having a different key; and one of the keys thereof shall be kept by the President, the Honorary Secretary, and the Secretary respectively.

Custody of
Seal.

76. The Common Seal shall be kept in an iron chest or safe at the offices of the Royal Institute; keys of the chest or safe being kept by the Honorary Secretary and the Secretary respectively, and the record of its use shall be entered in the Minutes.

the Presi-
and Badge.

77. The Presidential Chain and Badge of Office shall be placed in the safe at the offices of the Royal Institute.

XIII. ALLIED SOCIETIES.

78. Any Architectural Society in the United Kingdom, in India, or in any Dominion, Colony, or Dependency of the United Kingdom, consisting in whole or in part of professional members, may be at the discretion of the Council admitted to alliance, subject to such regulations, limitations, and restrictions as may from time to time be prescribed by Resolution of the Royal Institute.

By-laws of Allied Societies to be approved by the
tute.

79. The constitutional rules or By-laws of Allied Societies shall be subject to the approval of the Council, and no addition thereto or variation thereof shall be made without previous notice to and approval by the Council.

responsibility.

80. The Royal Institute shall not be responsible for any acts, expenses, or other liabilities which may be done or incurred by any Allied Society.

dissolution.

81. If any Society in alliance with the Royal Institute desire to withdraw therefrom, such Allied Society shall be at liberty to do ~~so~~ after three months' notice, and the Royal Institute may in like ~~cases~~ determine the alliance.

Contribution
by the Royal Institute.

82. The Royal Institute shall, in each year, contribute to any Non-Metropolitan Allied Society not more than one-fourth of the annual subscription paid to the Royal Institute by each member thereof who is also a member of such Society, in respect of and for his subscription thereto; but in no event shall such contribution apply in the case of any one member to more than one Allied Society.

XIV. INTERPRETATION.

83. "The Royal Institute" shall mean The Royal Institute of British Architects. "The Charter" shall mean the Original Charter so far as unrepealed together with the Supplemental Charters of 1887 and 1909. "The Council" shall mean the Council of the Royal Institute of British Architects. "The Honorary Secretary" shall mean the one or more Honorary Secretaries of the Royal Institute as may from time to time be determined at any annual election, and in the event of there being more than one, any duty imposed on the Honorary Secretary shall be effectual if performed by any one of them. PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT, ETC.

The attention of Members and Licentiates is called to the following Resolutions of the Council:

1. That it is reasonable that an architect should sign his buildings in an unostentatious manner, similar to that adopted by painters and sculptors.

2. That it is undesirable for architects to exhibit their names on boards or hoardings in front of buildings in course of construction.

3. That a Member having any ownership in any building material, device, or invention proposed to be used on work for which he is architect, shall inform his employer of the fact before its use.

4. That no Member shall attempt to supplant another architect after definite steps have been taken towards his employment.

5. That it is desirable that in cases where the architect takes out the quantities for his buildings he should be paid directly by the client and not through the builder.

6. That any Member or Licentiate of the Royal Institute who takes part in any competition as to which the Council shall have declared by a Resolution published in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute that Members or Licentiates shall not take part because the conditions ~~are~~ not in accordance with the published Regulations of the Royal Institute for Architectural Competitions, shall be deemed to be guilty of unprofessional conduct.

7. That in the opinion of the Council the businesses of Auctioneering and Estate Agency are inconsistent with the profession of an Architect.

8. That in the opinion of the Council public advertisement by ~~an~~ architect is a contravention of By-Law 24.

REGISTER OF MEMBERS.

[Additions and Corrections to 29th September 1914.]

* Marked thus have been previously members of Council. The names of members of the present Council are printed in full capitals.

† Marked thus have received the Certificate of Competency to act as District Surveyor in London granted by the Institute under the ~~1894~~ Building Act, 57 & 58 Vict., cap. ccciii., section 225; or 1909 Building Surveyor under Local Acts of Parliament.

‡ Marked thus have entered after passing an Examination qualifying for candidates as Associates.

§ Marked thus have been elected from the class of Licentiates, after passing the qualifying Examination.

¶ Marked thus have obtained distinction for their Theses in the Final Examination.

The distinctive titles to which in this Register are restricted to hereditary titles and titles of honour; University degrees; membership of the Royal Academies of Arts, of the English, Scotch and Irish Royal Societies and Societies of Antiquaries, of the Institution of Civil Engineers and the Surveyors' Institution, and of the House of Commons.

FELLOWS (F.R.I.B.A.).

After the date of this our Charter no person shall save as hereinafter provided be admitted a Fellow of the Royal Institute unless he shall at the time of admission be either (a) an Associate of the Royal Institute or a person who has passed an Examination qualifying for admission to the class of Associates or (b) a Licentiate who has passed such Examination or Examinations as may from time to time be prescribed by the Council as a qualification for the admission of Licentiates to the class of Fellows. Provided however that the Council shall have power to elect and admit as a Fellow any Architect who shall have attained the age of thirty years and shall have been engaged as a principal for at least seven successive years in the practice of Architecture as to whom the Council may resolve that it is desirable to elect and admit him as a Fellow.—Extract from the Supplemental Charter 1904.

Every person desiring to be admitted a Fellow shall in all cases submit for examination by the Council, as evidence of his abilities as a practising architect, working drawings, and, if practicable, photographs of his executed works, with such further evidence, if any, as the Council may require. Such drawings and photographs shall be accompanied by a declaration, signed by the applicant, that the buildings to which they relate have been designed by himself.—Regulation under By-law 3.

The Architectural Association (London) is carried on under the authority of the Literary and Scientific Institutions Act 1854. Its objects are to provide facilities for the study of Architecture, and to serve as a medium of friendly communication between the members and others interested in the study and progress of Architecture. The fees for ordinary membership are £2 2s. entrance fee, and £1 1s. annual subscription, and 7s. 6d. annual subscription for country membership, which is limited to members of provincial architectural societies.

The President for the time being of the Architectural Association, provided he be a Fellow or an Associate of the Institute, is annually nominated as a member of the Council of the Royal Institute of British Architects.

The work of the Association is carried on at 18 Tufton Street, Westminster, S.W., where the General Meetings are also held. Members under the age of twenty-three years are allowed the use of the Library of the Institute and are furnished with passes for that purpose.

A complete course of instruction is given by means of a School of Architecture under the supervision of Mr. Robert Atkinson (A.), assisted by qualified masters and staff.

The Day School provides for three years of study, and the pupils are then advised (1) to enter architects' offices as articled pupils or improvers, and (2) to enter the Royal Academy Schools in order to continue the study of Advanced Architectural Design.

The Royal Academy has agreed to admit, without the usual examination for Probationers, except in the subject of Design, all students of the Architectural Association who have obtained their certificates after three years in the Day School.

The Council of the R.I.B.A. accept the drawings made during the first and second years in the Day School in lieu of the Testimonies of Study for the Intermediate Examination, provided they are of sufficient merit and that the student obtains the Second Year Certificate of the Association signed by the President and Head Master. Complete exemption may be obtained from the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination by students who have passed satisfactorily through the Three Years' Day Course, or the Four Years' Course consisting of two years Day School and two years Evening School. Special classes and lectures for other subjects than Design are arranged for advanced students preparing for the R.I.B.A. Final Examination.

Mr. Paul Waterhouse [F.] has been appointed by the Board of Architectural Education to act as External Examiner, and will keep himself in touch with the work of the School, and confer with the Masters from time to time as to the progress made and the methods adopted.

Students before being admitted to the Day School must give proof of a high standard of general education, not lower, for instance, than the Upper Fifth Form of a good school, or they should have passed the R.I.B.A. Preliminary Examination.

Students who have had previous architectural training are admitted to the Day School, and can enter the first, second, or third year course direct according to the standard of efficiency previously attained.

THE DAY SCHOOL.

Head Master: ROBERT ATKINSON [A.].—Master, 1st year, ALBAN POTTEN; Assistant Master, W. M. KESSEY, A.R.C.A.; 2nd year, R. LOWRY; 3rd year, L. H. BUCKSHILL [A.].

FIRST YEAR COURSE.

The Studio:—Use of Instruments and scales.—Freehand drawing, from the round and end.—Elementary Perspective. Elements of the various Historical Styles of Architecture.—Elementary Construction and the Study of Materials and Building Methods.—Sketching and measuring ancient buildings. Various Observation and Trust papers.

Lectures:—History of Architecture (illustrated by visits to Buildings and Museums). Elementary Construction and Materials (illustrated by visits to Workshops and Buildings in progress).—Elementary Physics.—Plane and Solid Geometry.

The scheme of the lectures on the Historical Development of Architecture is as follows:—

First Term.—Early History of Architecture in Egypt, Greece, and Italy.

Second Term.—Continuation of the subject, with development of Byzantine from Roman work to Romanesque and the commencement of Medieval Architecture.

Third Term.—Outline of Medieval and Renaissance Architecture, with a sketch of the subsequent history of the art up to the present time.

The lectures on Elementary Construction and Materials are as follows:—

First Term.—Elementary Course on Foundations, Brickwork, and Masonry.

Second Term.—Outline of Timber and Metal Construction.

Third Term.—Some account of Roof Coverings, Plumbing, Joinery, and Finishing.—Elementary Physics.—Solid Geometry.

Every student is expected to take up a course of reading under the direction of the Master, and will be required to refer to works on each subject concurrently with the lectures thereon. Students are also expected to devote a considerable portion of each vacation to vacation studies as directed by the Master.

SECOND YEAR COURSE.

Students are not admitted to this course unless they have given satisfactory proof of study, work, and progress throughout the First Year.

The work of the second year mainly consists in working out simple problems in design. These problems may be divided under two heads, Historical and Practical. They amplify the ground covered during the first year in Architectural Evolution, and the study of Modern Construction and Materials. The working-out of the problems is accompanied by visits to ~~various~~ and historic buildings, by systematic reading and the study of illustrations and photographs bearing on the work in hand. In all studies, both historical and practical, the student is taught to think out his design by the aid of Perspective and Rendered Drawings, and frequently by Modelling. Freehand drawing from the cast and memory sketching are continued in the second year, and students who attain a sufficiently high standard are admitted to the Life Class.

In addition to the visits to works in progress, the students attend Classes in which competent mechanics demonstrate the processes of the more important of the building trades. Coincident visits are also made to buildings bearing upon the subject in hand.

THIRD YEAR COURSE.

In the third year, design studies are set, most of them with a time limit in order to facilitate the rapid inception and grasp of the problem as a whole. In addition, the third and fourth year evening lectures are attended, in connection with which Studio subjects are set. Problems dealt with in the advanced construction lectures are worked out in the Studio, and there reduced to practical expression. The Third Year Course, the Prospectus states, carries on the students' training in design, draughtmanship, and theoretical and practical knowledge to a stage considerably in advance of the standard required for the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination. The student should then be able to attend the more advanced design classes of the R.A. schools, and commence his offer training as pupil (with a reduced term of years), improver, or even, in exceptional cases, as assistant at a small salary.

THE EVENING SCHOOL.

Head Master: ROBERT ATKINSON (F.R.S.), Lecturer on Theoretical and Practical Construction: G. F. VANDERL, (L.) Master (Evening Design School): R. M. ROBERTSON, Architect diploma

Elementary Evening School.—The Day School masters each attend ~~one~~ evening per week and take a special subject (Messrs. Potter, Lowry, Keasy and Bucknill).—The Evening School has been entirely reorganised, and now consists of an advanced School of Design and a preparatory course for junior students.

The School of Design will be worked on similar lines to the third year of the Day School, but of a more advanced character. All work will be on a strictly competitive basis, and will carry on as far as possible the tradition already established in the Day School.—A Special Studio has been opened for the School of Design, which will be opened every day until 11 p.m.—Monthly subjects will be set and will be criticized in the Head Master, who will also attend one evening per week. In addition, twelve hour sketches will be given at fortnightly intervals. The School of the Students will elect their own committee who will be responsible for the general administration of the Studio and the care of books and school fittings, etc.—The Life Class and Life Class Club are open to members of the School of Design.

The School of Design.—No terms will be held in the School of Design, and Students may join at the beginning of any of the monthly subjects.

The Junior School.—The Preparatory Course will follow the same lines as the first and second years of the Day School, and evening students will have the benefit of the Day School masters, but with such modifications to the curriculum as are necessary owing to the greatly reduced time available.—On reaching a satisfactory standard in the Junior School the Student will be tested as to his ability to enter the School of Design.

ADDITIONAL LECTURERS.

THE ROYAL ARCHITECTURAL MUSEUM.

The Royal Architectural Museum, located in the same building as the Architectural Association, is under the direction and control of the Council of the Association, and is open to the public daily between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES.

THE ROYAL ACADEMY OF ARTS.

Master of the Architectural School: C. DE GAUCHY.

Instruction is given gratuitously in the Architectural School. Applicants for admission must either submit specimens of their ability, or produce a certificate of proficiency from an institution for architectural education recognised by the Royal Academy. Successful applicants are then admitted as "Probationers," and after satisfying further tests, and passing an examination in Perspective and the History of Architecture, are entered as "Students" for a first term of three years. At the end of the three years, on the fulfilment of certain conditions, students are admitted for a further period of two years. Among the prizes open to architectural students are a Gold Medal, carrying with it a Travelling Studentship for travel and study abroad, of the value of £200, tenable for one year; a Travelling Studentship for travel and study in England of the value of £60, tenable for one year; £20 and Silver Medal for Design; £5 and Silver Medal for an original composition in Ornament; £15 and £10 for drawings of an Architectural Design; Silver and Bronze Medals for Measured Drawings; Silver Medal for a Perspective Drawing in Outline; and £5 and Silver Medal for an Architectural Design with Coloured Decoration.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE AT UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

STAFF.—Professor and Director of the School: F. M. SIMPSON, F.R.S. Professor: R. EISEY SMITH [F.].—Assistant Professor: LESLIE WILKINSON [A.].—Lecturer: ARTHUR STUARTON [F.]. Visitors. Academic Design Class: Sir J. J. BURNET, R.S.A., LL.D., F.R.S. Visitors. Evening Design Class: LEONARD STOKES [F.], EDWARD WARREN [F.].—Town Planning, Professor: S. D. ADSHEAD [F.].—Evening Lecturer: Professor S. H. CAPPER [A.] and the Professor and Lecturers of the College on kindred and general subjects.

The Architectural Schools hitherto existing at University College and King's College are now amalgamated as the University of London School of Architecture, and occupy the new building specially built for the School at University College. The building provides accommodation for over 100 students, and comprises three large studios 50 ft. sq., 35 x 22, and 27 x 29; Museum 50 feet square; Cast Gallery 48 x 28; Library 35 x 22 ft.; Large Lecture Theatre, Classroom 27 x 19; Town Planning Department; Entrance Hall 27 x 19; Private rooms, Locker rooms, Lavatories, etc.

The School is under a Special Committee comprising about equal numbers of representatives of the University and Architects, Mr. Ernest Newton, A.R.A., President, and Mr. John Slater [F.] being the official representatives of the R.I.B.A.

The following Day Courses are provided:—(A) The B.A. Degree Course (Honours in Architecture) three years. (B) The Certificate Course (two years at least). (C) Academic Design Course. Courses (A) and (B) provide the systematic practical training which is necessary for students before they enter an architect's office. Course (C) is for advanced students. (D) Special Day Course for students already possessing some knowledge of architecture who can work in the Studio—attend lectures without taking a full course. Students entering for the Degree Course are required to matriculate. Certificate students who have not matriculated or been exempted from matriculation are required to pass the College Architectural Entrance Examination. Students who take their Degree or receive a First Class Certificate are exempted from the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination. (E) Town Planning Course (day and evening), for particulars see College Prospectus.

Evening Classes in Design are held, with Special Visitors, under a grant from the Worshipful Company of Carpenters.

Owing to its central position, its large new building for Architecture and Town Planning, Engineering Laboratories, Slade School of Fine Art, Modelling Studios, School of Hygiene, Department of Archaeology, and lectures and classes on general subjects, University College claims to possess special facilities for a full and comprehensive course of architectural education.

THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF ART, LONDON.

ARCHITECTURE.—Professor: HERESFORD PITT [F.], Assistant Instructor: A. E. MARTIN, A.R.C.A. Lond.
 DESIGN AND CRAFTS.—Professor: W. B. LETHBRIDGE [F.], Assistant Instructor: E. W. TRISTRAM, A.R.C.A. Lond.

The Royal College of Art is maintained for the purpose of training Art masters and mistresses for the United Kingdom and for the instruction of students in drawing, painting, modelling, and designing, for Architecture, Manufactures, and Decoration. Other students are admitted so far as there may be accommodation for them, on the payment of fees. The full Associateship is granted to students who have qualified in the four Schools of the College. The instruction is arranged with a view to students passing through a course of instruction either in all the four Schools—viz. Architecture, Ornament and Design, Decorative Painting, and Sculpture Modelling—or in one or more of the Schools only. All students must pass satisfactorily through the Introductory Course of Architecture before specialising in any of the other Schools.

The Board of Education annually award National Scholarships in Architecture, value £60 per annum, tenable for three years at the Royal College of Art.

Candidates must take Architectural Design as their optional subject in the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination.

THE FIRST ATELIER OF ARCHITECTURE.

Established by the Beaux-Arts Committee under the patronage of the French Société des Architectes Diplômés.

Hon. Members: J. L. PASCAL, Membre de l'Institut de France (Hon. Corr. Member, Royal Gold Medallist 1914), and V. LALOUE, Membre de l'Institut de France (Hon. Corr. M.).

Members of Jury in Great Britain: EUGÈNE BOURDON, Diplômé, ARTHUR J. DAVIS [F.], A. R. JENNETT [F.], H. V. LANCHESTER [F.], EDWIN L. LUTYENS, A.R.A. [F.].

Patron: ARTHUR J. DAVIS [F.].

Sous-Patron: G. J. P. CHAUKÈS, Logiste.

The object of this atelier is to promote the study of the principles of design which aim at the development of logical and imaginative architecture as understood at the École des Beaux-Arts. It is conducted, as far as possible, on similar lines to those in Paris, and enables its members to acquire a like training in the art of architectural composition. Being a club, not a class, the atelier is always open, and its internal control is in the hands of a members' committee. The Patron attends at stated intervals, and definite times are fixed for working en loge, and for the exhibitions and criticisms by the Jury, but beyond this there are no fixed hours. A programme of monthly competitions is arranged, but members may do other work, such as Testimonies of Study for the R.I.B.A., if they so prefer. Information as to membership and subscriptions may be obtained from the Hon. Secretary, The Atelier, 16 Wells Mews, Oxford Street, W.

LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL SCHOOL OF BUILDING.

Ferndale Road, Brixton, S.W.

Principal: H. W. RICHARDS, Director of Architecture and Lecturer: Professor BERESFORD PITE [F.], assisted by J. E. FULTON [A.] and H. F. MURRELL [A.]. Mechanics of Building: ARTHUR R. SAGE. Freehand Drawing and Ornament: G. P. DENHAM, A.R.C.A.

This School has been established to enable artisans and others engaged in the building trades and allied professions to acquire an intimate knowledge of the principles underlying the processes they have to carry out in their daily work. Workshops have been provided and equipped for the teaching of the several building trades under conditions similar to those met with on buildings and in builders' shops. A School of Architecture, with courses of instruction in the history of buildings, and for the study of architectural design and planning, together with the preparation of architectural drawings, has been added as part of the complete scheme of work. Lecture-rooms, class-rooms, drawing offices, and laboratories have been arranged in connection with the workshops so that the practical work of the School may be combined with class studies in building construction, drawing, architecture, and the chemistry and physics of materials. Every facility is given for full-size work, and the various trades act in conjunction. Great importance is attached to the practical combination of the studies in the several trades and branches as required by a master builder, foreman or architect, and the Architectural Director of the School has been appointed for this purpose. Facilities are given for combining architectural studies in practical and theoretical work in the workshops, lecture-rooms, and drawing offices. Courses of Special Lectures, open to all students and specially adapted for candidates for the R.I.B.A. Examinations, are delivered each session upon architectural and scientific subjects in connection with the work of the School.

Students attending the Architectural, Surveying, or Building Classes, may also attend special workshop classes in any of the undermentioned crafts for which the School provides instruction:—Brickwork, Carpentry and Joinery, Masonry, Painting and Decorating, Plastering, Plumbing, Stonecarving, Woodcarving. The training given in these special classes is intended to supplement that of the drawing offices and lectures already provided in the curriculum, and it is hoped, by this means, to link up more closely the practical and theoretical work of the School. The instruction will not aim at producing any degree of technical skill, but is only intended to give the fundamental principles of the various crafts.

These classes will be held each evening commencing Monday, 19th October.

The workshops are large, and well equipped with modern appliances, and are under the direction of fully qualified and practical specialists.

LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL, CENTRAL SCHOOL OF ARTS AND CRAFTS, SOUTHAMPTON ROW, W.C.

Lecturers and Instructors in Architectural Design and Drawing: S. B. K. GAULFIELD [F.] and MACDONALD GILL. Building Construction: F. H. MANSFORD. Structural Mechanics: P. J. WALDRAM, F.S.I. [Licentiate], and H. J. GUTH.

The instruction offered in this School is adapted to the needs of those engaged in the different departments of building work, and the teaching is arranged to enable Students to qualify for the R.I.B.A. and other professional examinations.

The classes are held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings, and a special class meets on Saturdays at the Victoria and Albert Museum, South Kensington, to study Architecture, Sculpture, Decoration, Metalwork, Furniture, &c.

A course of Lectures on "The Growth of a House" is given on Wednesdays from 8.15 p.m. to 9.30 p.m., and all elementary students taking design are required to attend this course throughout one session at least. The instruction in Architectural Drawing comprises the copying of historical examples, testimonies of study for the R.I.B.A. Examinations, preparing details from small scale drawings, colouring and lettering plans, and the elementary laws of perspective.

The School further provides many opportunities of instruction in the various artistic crafts allied to Architecture.

THE POLYTECHNIC: SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE, BUILDING, & SURVEYING, 309 REGENT STREET.

President of the School: Sir ASTON WEBB, K.C.V.O., C.B., R.A. [E.]. Head of Department: CHARLES F. MITCHELL: Architectural Lecturers and Instructors: G. A. MITCHELL [A.], S. C. RAMSEY [A.], A. E. HOLBROW [Licentiate], HERBERT G. SANDS [Licentiate]; J. C. ROGERS [A.].

This School has been organised to afford facilities to youths about to enter the architectural profession, or any of the allied professions or trades, and has both Day and Evening Departments. The Day School provides a special three years' course, the object being to provide a thoroughly efficient preparatory training prior to entering an Architect's office as articled pupils, so that youths who have taken advantage of the full course may be able to take an intelligent part in the responsible work passing before them. The Evening Classes provide a four years' course of instruction for students already engaged in offices or works, and the curriculum includes the preparatory work of the Day School, with more advanced and continuous courses. The subjects of instruction are arranged in conformity with the recommendations of the Board of Architectural Education, and are given in systematic and carefully graded courses.

Courses of instruction in Architecture, Building Construction, &c., are also provided at the following institutions:—

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURAL STUDIES, UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE.

Slade Professor of Fine Art: EDWARD S. PRYOR, M.A. Cantab., F.S.A. [F.].
Assistant: J. M. Dawson [A.].

A School of Architectural Studies has been established in the University, and in June last a new schedule for the Examination in Architectural Studies was passed which covers the whole range, both theoretical and historical, of architecture. The intention has been to make the course available for students coming up to the University who propose to become architects and desire to devote some of their time to professional studies.

There are courses on Elementary Mechanics, Practical Mathematics, and Theory of Structure, given at the Engineering School of the University, and instruction in Architectural Drawing, Surveying, and Elementary Design, undertaken by the Slade Professor, with the assistance of Mr. J. M. Dawson, in the Drawing School, where also drawings as Testimonies of Study for the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination can be prepared. The courses on the General History of Art, History of Architecture, both general and of special periods, and on the Theory of Art in relation to architecture, are given by the Slade Professor, the Disney Professor of Archaeology, the University Reader in Classical Archaeology, and other lecturers. Candidates who intend to sit for the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination are entitled to certain exemptions on producing a certificate of having passed the two parts of the Examination in Architectural Studies. The ~~arrangement~~ of study is so arranged as to fit in with a large number of other courses such as are required for obtaining the B.A. degree. The possible combinations, with the best arrangements of time and studies, as well as a detailed syllabus of the Examination, can be obtained from the Secretary of the Board of Architectural Studies, Gonville and Caius College.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, READING.

DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS:—Director, A. W. Seaby; Visiting Examiner, Walter Crane, R.W.S. (hon. A.) ARCHITECTURE, BUILDING CONSTRUCTION, &c.—Walter W. Hitchins, P.A.S.I.

The Technical Department provides complete courses of evening instruction under the direction of Mr. Walter W. Hitchins, as follows:

FIRST YEAR. Mathematics; Building Construction; Mechanics.

SECOND YEAR. Perspective; Mathematics; Building Construction and Drawing; Workshop Practice.

THIRD AND FOURTH YEARS.—Building Construction and Materials; Practical Work in Testing Room; Architectural Drawing, Quantities; Surveying and Levelling.

Day Classes are held in connection with the subjects mentioned, and the Department has a competent assistant, so that students may put in the whole of their time at the College if desired, taking a full architectural course.

THE ALLIED SOCIETIES.

THE non-Metropolitan Societies allied to the Royal Institute of British Architects [see By-laws 78-82] are twenty-nine in number, nineteen being located in the United Kingdom, three in South Africa, five in Australia, one in New Zealand, and one in Canada. Each Allied Society is the accredited centre of a district [see maps facing title-page], and the agent of that district in its relations with the heart of the system in London.*

THE NORTHERN ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION has Newcastle for its centre (A),† and Northumberland, Cumberland, and Durham for its province [p. 375].

THE LEEDS AND WEST YORKSHIRE ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY has Leeds for its centre (B), and the West Riding and that part of the North Riding west of the railway line for its province‡ [p. 333].

THE YORK AND EAST YORKSHIRE ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY has York for its centre (C), and the East Riding and that part of the North Riding to the east of the railway, including Northallerton, Middlesbrough, and Stockton, for its province§ [p. 403].

THE SHEFFIELD, SOUTH YORKSHIRE AND DISTRICT ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY has Sheffield for its centre (D), and Derbyshire, northern Lincolnshire, and a part of South Yorkshire for its province|| [p. 386].

THE MANCHESTER SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS has Manchester for its centre (E), and Westmoreland, part of Lancashire, and part of Cheshire for its province [p. 354].

THE LIVERPOOL ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY has Liverpool for its centre (F), and parts of Lancashire and Cheshire, with the counties of Flint, Denbigh, Carnarvon, Angleson, Merioneth, and Montgomery, and the Isle of Man for its province [p. 345].

THE NOTTINGHAM AND DERBY ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY has Nottingham for its centre (G), and part of Nottinghamshire and south parts of Derbyshire and Lincolnshire, including Lincoln, for its province [p. 381].

THE BIRMINGHAM ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION has Birmingham for its centre (H), and Warwickshire, Staffordshire, Shropshire, Herefordshire, and Worcestershire for its province [p. 290].

* See PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS, 1893-94: JOURNAL, Vol. I. 3rd. Ser. p. 4.

† The various centres are distinguished in the maps by capital letters corresponding to those in this description.

‡ The line between the Sheffield and Leeds Provinces has been determined as follows:—From a point on the Lancashire and Yorkshire border through Pontiston, Barnsley, Snaith, Goole, and then south of the River Ouse.

§ The line between York and Leeds has been determined as follows:—The railway line from the River Ouse up to Darlington to form the dividing line.

THE LEICESTER AND LEICESTERSHIRE SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS has Leicester for its centre (I), and Leicestershire and Rutlandshire for its province [p. 341].

THE BRISTOL SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS has Bristol for its centre (K), and Gloucestershire, Wiltshire, Somerset, and Dorset for its province [p. 298].

THE SOUTH WALES INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS has Cardiff for its centre (L), and Glamorgan, Brecknock, Radnor, Cardigan, Pembroke, Carmarthen, and Monmouth for its province [p. 393].

THE DEVON AND EXETER ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY has Exeter for its centre (M), and Devonshire and Cornwall for its province [p. 306].

THE NORTHAMPTONSHIRE ASSOCIATION OF ARCHITECTS has Northampton for its centre [p. 374].^a

THE HAMPSHIRE AND ISLE OF WIGHT ASSOCIATION OF ARCHITECTS has Southampton for its centre [p. 327].^a

In Scotland the GLASGOW INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS has Glasgow for its centre (O), with the counties of Dumbarton, Dumfries, Stirling, Renfrew, Lanark, Ayr, Kirkcudbright, Wigton, Argyll and the Isles for its province [p. 319]. THE DUNDEE INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS has Dundee for its centre (P), and the counties ■ Forfar, Perth, part of Fife, Kinross, and Chackmannan for its province [p. 309]. THE ABERDEEN SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS has Aberdeen for its centre (Q), and the counties of Aberdeen, Kincardine, Inverness, and the northern part of Scotland for its province [p. 288]. THE EDINBURGH ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION has Edinburgh for its centre (R), and for its province the counties of Lidlithgow, Edinburgh, Haddington, Berwick, Roxburgh, Selkirk, Peebles, and that portion of Fifeshire lying to the south-west of a line drawn from West Wemyss to a point which may be defined as Auchmore Bridge, upon the borders of Kinross-shire [p. 312].

In Ireland the ROYAL INSTITUTE OF THE ARCHITECTS OF IRELAND has Dublin for its centre (Z), and the whole of Ireland for its province [p. 329].

The Home District of the Royal Institute of British Architects comprises, with London for its centre (X), Middlesex, Essex, Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire, Oxfordshire, Buckinghamshire, Berkshire, Surrey, Sussex, and Kent; and, until the formation of a Society in Cambridge, the counties of Cambridge, Huntingdon, Norfolk, and Suffolk. The Society which it is proposed should be established in the Eastern Counties would have Cambridge for its centre (N), and Cambridgeshire, Huntingdonshire, Norfolk, and Suffolk for its province.

^a Province to be arranged.

In Australia the INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS OF NEW SOUTH WALES, located in Sydney [p. 356]; the QUEENSLAND INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Brisbane [p. 395]; the ROYAL VICTORIAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Melbourne [p. 397]; the WEST AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Perth, W. Australia [p. 401]; and the SOUTH AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Adelaide [p. 391], are the accredited representatives and agents of their respective provinces in their relations with the Institute.

In New Zealand the NEW ZEALAND INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Wellington, is the accredited representative of the Dominion in its relations with the Institute [p. 370].

In Canada the ROYAL ARCHITECTURAL INSTITUTE OF CANADA [p. 299], located in Montreal, is the accredited representative of the Dominion in its relations with the Institute.

In South Africa the CAPE INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Cape Town [p. 304]; the TRANSVAAL INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Johannesburg [p. 306]; and the NATAL INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS, located in Durban [p. 305], are the accredited representatives and agents of their respective countries in their relations with the Institute.

ABERDEEN SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS.

[Province: The Counties of Aberdeen, Kincardine, Inverness, and the northern part of Scotland. Centre: Aberdeen.]

Hon. Secretary:

Robert G. Wilson, Jun. [A.], 175 Union Street, Aberdeen.

This Society was formed in 1898. Its objects are: (1) the advancement of architecture; (2) the maintenance of the status and the protection of the interests of architects; (3) to promote personal acquaintance and good feeling among members of the profession within the Society's province; (4) to establish and maintain an acknowledged code of professional practice and charges. The Society consists of Members who, at the time of their application for admission, are practising on their own account as architects within the province of the Society, and who have been employed as pupils or assistants, or practised as architects for a period altogether of not less than ~~one~~ years, or who ~~are~~ Members or Licentiates of the Royal Institute of British Architects. One general meeting is held annually on the first Tuesday of March, besides general meetings which the Society may periodically hold.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN ABERDEEN.

ROBERT GORDON'S TECHNICAL COLLEGE : DEPARTMENT OF ARTS AND CRAFTS.—The scheme of architectural education in both Day and Evening Classes has been re-organised, greatly extended, and improved. The scheme has been worked out in co-operation with the Aberdeen Society of Architects and is recognised by the Board of Architectural Education, London. The essential features of the scheme are : (1) That candidates for apprenticeship in an architect's office should have attained a good standard of general education in a Secondary School ; (2) that, at the conclusion of their general education, they should become students of the School for a complete two years' course in Day and Evening Classes ; (3) that the time spent in study in the School should count for apprenticeship time, and that during the period of office training, the apprentice should continue his studies in Evening Classes at the School. The Aberdeen Society of Architects have agreed to give preference to the applications of such students either at the time of their entering the School or during the course of training in the School, and to count the time so spent as part of the apprenticeship time. With respect to general education the standard must not be lower than that of the Intermediate Certificate of the Scotch Education Department and preferably should equal that of the Leaving Certificate, a certificate which, under normal conditions, may be obtained between 17 and 18 years of age. With respect to Architectural School education the course of study extends over two years. The subjects of the first year are: Drawing, Building Construction, History of Architecture, Modelling, Mechanics, Geometry and Perspective, Architectural Drawing, and during the winter session of Evening Classes students will take in addition to the Day Classes named Drawing from the Antique on two evenings a week. In the second year the subjects are: Construction, Architectural Design, Mechanics, Measured Drawings, Colour, and in the Evening Classes students take classes in Drawing from Life on two evenings a week.

The remaining period of apprenticeship will be spent in the Office and school studies will be continued in the Evening Classes of the School. The first year of the Evening Classes in the period of professional training will be devoted entirely to Architectural Design. In the two or more subsequent years students will continue their studies in Design and take up classes in Sanitary Science, including Heating and Ventilation, and will have the option of taking up classes in Structural Engineering, Specifications and Quantities, or Life Drawing and kindred subjects. Having obtained a sound grounding in the first two years the student will be encouraged to make himself highly competent in whatever subjects he finds most congenial.

At the close of apprenticeship a certificate will be awarded signed by the Managers of the School and by the Employer—a certificate which, subject to certain conditions, will be accepted in lieu of the Intermediate Examination of the Royal Institute of British Architects. Should the apprentices be able to fulfil the requirements of the Scotch Education Department as to period of study and standard of attainment they will be presented for the award of the Diploma of the School. There are local scholarships of the value of £50 per annum, and also a Byrne travelling scholarship value £120, for which students of the school are eligible.

BIRMINGHAM ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION.

Exchange Buildings, New Street, Birmingham.

[Province: Warwickshire, Staffordshire, Shropshire, Herefordshire, Worcestershire. Centre: Birmingham.]

Secretary:

E. Marston Redland, A.C.A., 14, Temple Street, Birmingham.

The Birmingham Architectural Association was founded in 1873 for the promotion of union and professional integrity among its several classes of members; the establishment, as far as possible, of uniformity of practice; the general advancement of architecture, and of the arts and sciences connected therewith. The Association consists of Members—architects who have been in practice at least three years; Associates—architects not eligible as Members, architects' assistants and pupils; Honorary Members—persons who ~~are~~ not architects, but interested in architecture and the allied arts; Associated Craftsmen—persons engaged in the various crafts connected with the architectural art. The Annual General Meeting is held in April. General Meetings are held fortnightly on Fridays from the months of October to March.

Through the efforts of the Birmingham Architectural Association a School of Architecture has been founded at the Municipal School of Art, Birmingham, under the Directorship of Mr. J. L. Hull, Past President of the Association, and the classes formerly held under the auspices of the Association are now to a great extent merged in the new School [v. infra, "Educational Facilities"].

A Class of Construction and a Sketching Class are held once a month at the rooms of the Association. Sketching excursions are arranged for students, visits made to old buildings and to buildings in progress, and prizes offered for reports and sketches of the buildings visited. A permanent room is available for meetings, and is open during the day as a club.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN BIRMINGHAM.

BIRMINGHAM MUNICIPAL SCHOOL OF ART: SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE.—The object of the School is to provide architectural students in the Midlands with a thorough training in all the branches of their profession and to prepare them for the Examinations of the Royal Institute of British Architects. The school course is spread over four or five years. It is intended that the first two years should be spent at day classes, and that they should take the place of the first two years of artied pupilage. The latter two or three years should be spent at evening classes and run concurrently with artied pupilage. The Committee have received an undertaking from a large number of prominent architects in the Midlands promising to forego the whole or a portion of the fee ordinarily received by them in the case of pupils who shall have attended the School. The Syllabus is as follows:—

First Year.—Lectures on architectural history, building construction, elementary physics and geometry; demonstrations and practical work in stone-masonry, carpentry and bricklaying; simple planning, elementary design (doors, roofs, windows, &c.); perspective; drawing and lettering.

Second Year.—Studies in ancient architecture, including measuring; practical work; lectures on the historic styles and on iron and steel construction, physics, &c.: songs.

Third and Fourth Years.—Mainly design and advanced physics and kindred subjects. Third and fourth year students are able to take some of their science subjects and carry out tests ■■■■ to the strength of materials, &c., at the Birmingham University. The machinery and equipment possessed by the University for this purpose are quite unique.

Teaching Staff.—General Director, J. L. Ball; Assistant Director and Lecturer in Design, E. F. Reynolds [Soane Medallist 1903]; Lecturer in History, W. H. Bidlake, M.A. [A.], Pugin Student 1885; Lecturer in Physics, &c., F. B. Andrews [A.]; Assistant, John B. Surman [A.]. The School meets daily from 9 to 5, evening 7 to 9 (Saturdays 9 to 1). Secretary: Mr. A. H. Leaney, Municipal School of Art, Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM MUNICIPAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL (Suffolk Street, Birmingham) (Principal: W. E. Sumpner, D.Sc.).—Evening lectures are delivered at the Technical School in all stages of building construction and allied engineering subjects, such as applied mechanics, graphic statics, practical mathematics, materials of engineering, and structural design, practical plane and solid geometry, sanitary science, and also on building construction. The Elementary Course in building construction includes brickwork, masonry, girders, joints in carpentry, floors, partitions, roof trusses, joinery, plumbing, slating; and the Intermediate, Advanced, and Senior Courses more difficult and complex examples of the same, and, in addition, such subjects as the prevention of damp in walls, brick drains and sewers, chimneys, larger roof trusses in wood or iron, riveted joints, stairs in wood or stone, fire-proof floors, shoring, scaffolding, and foundations. A special section of the work consists of the practical study of builders' quantities.

BRISTOL SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS.

Headquarters: Royal West of England Academy, Queen's Road, Clifton.

[Province: Gloucestershire, Wiltshire, Somerset, and Dorset.

(Centre: Bristol.)

Hon. Secretary:

C. F. W. Dening [F.], 28 Orchard Street, Bristol.

The Bristol Society of Architects was established in 1850, and reorganised in 1888. The Society exists for the purpose of maintaining the interests of the profession; for the educational advancement of local students; for the formation of a Library; and for insuring a uniformity and respectability of practice. The Members consist of Fellows—architects who have attained the age of thirty years, and who have been engaged as principals for at least five successive years in the practice of architecture; Associates—persons engaged in the study or practice of architecture who have attained the age of twenty-one years; Honorary Associates—persons not professionally engaged in practice as architects, who by reason of their interest or ability in art, science, literature, or archaeology, or their experience in matters relating to architecture or building, may appear to the Council to be able to render assistance in promoting the objects of the Society: Students—persons engaged in the study of architecture, and who are not less than 16 years of age. Students have the privilege of attending ordinary meetings of the Society and of joining in discussions, but have no voice in the control of the Society's affairs. All Students are expected to qualify themselves for passing the Examinations of the R.I.B.A. The Annual General Meeting is held the second Monday in April, and monthly meetings are held from October to May, at which Papers are read and the business of the Society transacted. The influence of the Local Society is of so active a nature that Architecture in its relation to all kinds of industrial design is being taught at the new Municipal School of Industrial Art, Broad Weir, by the authority of the Bristol Education Committee, and arrangements are being made for Architectural Design to be taught at the Municipal School of Pictorial Art, Queen's Road. A Prize Scheme for Measured Drawings open to Students of the Society is held annually. The Library of the Society has recently been removed to the Central Reference Library, College Green, where Students may consult or borrow books, and the Catalogue shows at a glance the works recommended to Students by the R.I.B.A. for the Examinations.

Hydraulics, and Surveying. Courses of lectures are given in the evening in Building Construction and Drawing, Builders' Science, Mathematics, Applied Mechanics, Builders' Quantities, Hydraulics, Graphia Statics, Steel Structural Works, Surveying, Carpentry, Plumbers' Work, &c. This scheme of instruction has the support of the Bristol Society, and students who pass satisfactorily are received as pupils upon more favourable terms than those without such preparatory training. Students from a distance are accommodated in suitable rooms in Clifton or the neighbourhood. The College possesses a Reference Library containing many books on architecture, a drawing office, and extensive workshops and laboratories; these include large shops for carpentry and joinery, plumbers' work, painting and decorating, brickwork and masonry.

THE CAPE INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

Cape Town, South Africa.

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer:

E. Austin Cooke, South African Association Chambers,
6 Church Square, Cape Town.

The Cape Institute of Architects, founded in 1899, was admitted to alliance with the Royal Institute of British Architects in 1907. There are three classes of members:—Fellows, Associates, and Honorary Fellows. Fellows must be architects who have attained the age of thirty years and have served articles for at least three years to a recognised practitioner, or can otherwise satisfy the Council as to their qualification, and who have been engaged as principals for at least five successive years in the practice of architecture. Associates must be persons engaged in the study or practice of architecture who have attained the age of twenty-one years, and have served at least three years' articles or apprenticeship or can otherwise show proofs of proficiency to the satisfaction of the Council. Honorary Fellows must be persons distinguished by artistic, scientific, or literary attainments, and architects not resident in South Africa.

The Council have power under the By-laws to decide conclusively respecting the admission as a candidate for election of each person proposed as a member. The acceptance by any Fellow as Associate of any surreptitious commission of consideration from any builder, or dealer, or agent, or other person, on account of materials or goods supplied to works being carried out under his supervision, or any conduct which in the opinion of the Council shall be derogatory to his professional character, shall be deemed ground for his expulsion or suspension. Meetings are held once a month during the Session from April to November. The Annual General Meeting is held the second Thursday in April. The R.I.B.A. Schedule of "Professional Practice as to the Charges of Architects" has been adopted by the Cape Institute, with such modifications as the different conditions of the Colony necessitate.

DEVON AND EXETER ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY.

[Province: Devon and Cornwall. Centre: Exeter.]

Hon. Secretary.

Allan J. Pinn [A.], ■ Bedford Circus, Exeter.

The Devon and Exeter Architectural Society was founded in 1880. The objects of the Society are:—

(2) a. The promotion of union and professional integrity among its several classes of members; the establishment as far as possible of uniformity of practice; and the general advancement of Architecture and the various Arts and Sciences connected therewith. b. To secure an adherence to honourable conduct in the practice of the profession. c. To establish and maintain an acknowledged code of professional charges and rules of practice. (3) To obtain and consider information respecting Competitions and other matters affecting the profession, and, where practicable, to advise Committees or others desiring professional aid, and to endeavour to ensure equitable terms and awards, upon the Suggestions for the Conduct of Competitions issued by the R.I.B.A. (4) To afford mutual assistance by advice or mediation in cases of misunderstanding either between members and their clients, or between members themselves, or in any other way deemed expedient. (5) To establish a Library for the use of members.

The Society consists of three classes of members, viz. Members, Associate Members, and Associates, wholly engaged in the profession of architecture and surveying, and not connected with any of the building trades. Members must be architects in practice on their own account or in partnership and above the age of twenty-five years, and have been engaged as principals for at least two successive years in the practice of architecture. Associate Members consist of gentlemen in practice not eligible for full membership, or who have qualified for Associateship R.I.B.A., or who have served as architects' pupils or assistants for a period of not less than five years and have attained the age of twenty-two years, who shall have full voting powers in the affairs of the Society. Associates include all assistants who have duly served articles, and pupils serving in articles or receiving other training recognised by the R.I.B.A., who shall enjoy all the privileges of membership, but shall have no vote in its elections, nor any voice in the administration of its affairs. The Council have the entire management and direction of all the affairs of the Society. The Meetings of the Society are held at various dates. Special Meetings may be convened on the requisition of the President and Hon. Secretary; or by the wish of the Council. Prizes are offered to the Associate Members and Associates for measured drawings. Arrangements have been made for members to join the Architectural Association Class of Design. The Society possesses a Library for the use of Members.

* The asterisk (*) denotes a Licentiate R.I.B.A.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN EXETER.

ROYAL ALBERT MEMORIAL UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.—Instruction is given in the Science and Art Departments of the College to supplement the training acquired by architectural pupils in the offices where they are employed, and to prepare for the successive stages of the R.I.B.A. Examinations. The subjects taught in the Science Section include building construction, perspective geometry, and projection, mechanics, physics, mathematics, and hygiene. In the Art Section: freehand drawing, drawing in light and shade, modelling and carving, design, and modelling design as applied to architectural detail, principles of ornament, historic ornament, lectures on the various styles of architecture, and their ornaments, mouldings and enrichments; drawing from the antique and the life. There is a reference library containing a good collection of standard works on architecture. Particulars may be obtained of the Registrar.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN DUNDEE.

DUNDEE TECHNICAL COLLEGE AND SCHOOL OF ART.—

At the Dundee Technical College special facilities are afforded students preparing for the R.I.B.A. Examinations, including the necessary drawings for admission. Provision has not been made in the day classes for a full course in architecture comprising the more practical professional subjects, but if a day-class student carries out the more general artistic and historical work during the day and attends the practical classes in the evening, a complete course is afforded.

The following is the two years' course of study:—

First Year.—1. Drawing and Painting: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 10-1: Drawing in outline and in monochrome examples of architectural ornament from the east; Preparation of numbered drawings from casts of architectural details; Preparation of sheets of the details of the classic orders. 2. Modelling: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 2-4: Modelling from selected casts of architectural ornament; The preparation of templets and running mouldings; Casting in plaster. 3. Architectural Construction: Monday, 7.15-8.30; Wednesday, 7.15-8.30: Geometrical drawing; Elementary building construction. 4. Practical Mathematics and Mechanics: Tuesday, Thursday, 10-12: The mathematics required to work problems in construction relating to beams and roofs; Practical laboratory work on the mechanics of construction. 5. Lectures on the History of Architecture: Thursday, 7.15-8.30.

Second Year.—1. Drawing and Painting: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 10-1: Drawing and Painting as material for designs for architectural ornament; Preparation of designs for ornament to fulfil specified conditions; Preparation of sheets of details of Gothic, Renaissance, and other architectural styles. 2. Architectural Construction: Monday, Friday, 7.15-9.30: Geometrical drawing and advanced building construction; architectural design. 3. Practical Mathematics and Mechanics: Tuesday, Thursday, 10-12: Exercises on the calculations in statics and for stresses required in architecture; Laboratory work on strength of materials, and experiments with variously loaded beams and girders, arches, and roof trusses. 4. Lectures on the History of Architecture: Thursday, 8.30-9.30.

It is recommended that a youth, before beginning apprenticeship, should study at the College for at least one year; he would then have an excellent foundation for the ~~more~~ practical office work, and could finish his study by attendance at the evening classes. A four years' course of study for architects wholly in the evening is given below:—

First Year.—Building Construction I., Geometrical Drawing I., History of Architecture I., Art Class.

Second Year.—Building Construction II., Geometrical Drawing II., History of Architecture II., Art Classes, Architectural Design I.

Third Year.—Building Construction III., Mechanics of Building, Laboratory, Art Classes, Architectural Design II.

Fourth Year.—Perspective, Plumbers' Work (Theory), Art Classes, Architectural Design III., Surveying, and Levelling.

The work of the classes in Architectural Design, conducted by Mr. P. H. Thoms [F.], chiefly consists in the preparation of designs for buildings and criticism of these by the teacher, with a short lecture each evening. The lectures deal with the materials used in construction: the advantages of studying and sketching old work; the use of a knowledge of historical architecture and its application to modern designs; the principles of planning: fitness, stability, beauty; the grouping of details to give contrast, dignity, and picturesqueness to a structure; the choice of a site for a building; draining, ventilating, heating and lighting; special requirements in planning and construction in connection with hospitals, schools, baths, &c.

EDINBURGH ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION.

Hon. Secretary:

James Kerr, 122 George Street, Edinburgh.

The Edinburgh Architectural Association was founded in 1858, its object being to promote and afford facilities for the study of Architecture, and to serve as a medium of friendly communication between the members and others interested in Architecture. It comprises Honorary Members, and four classes of subscribing members—viz. Fellows, who are practising architects of three years' standing; Members, who are persons engaged in artistic or collateral pursuits or interested in the study of Architecture; Associates, who are assistants, pupils, and apprentices of architects, civil engineers or surveyors, and junior designers; Corresponding Associates, who are Associates residing more than fifteen miles from Edinburgh. Fellows and Members constitute the Senior Section of the Association, and Associates the Associate Section. Only members of the Senior Section vote for the admission of members into their section, and only Associates for the admission of members into theirs. Honorary Members may be nominated by the office-bearers, and the election proceeds as for other members. The Council, which is composed of the Fellows, and deals with all matters relating to the profession and art of Architecture, must meet at least three times a year, and the Chairman, or any three members, may require an extraordinary meeting of the Council to be called. The Committee of Management consists of the Office-bearers, Conveners of the Publication and Sketch-book Committees, and three members from the Senior Section and Associate Section respectively. The Associate Section has its own Chairman, Secretary, Treasurer, and other Office-bearers, and has power to make by-laws for the section, which must have the approval of the Committee of Management.

The Council.

The Fellows constitute the Council.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN EDINBURGH.

UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH.—The Fine Art Course of one hundred lectures (Professor Baldwin Brown, M.A. [H.A.]), qualifying for the M.A. degree, is designed, the syllabus states, (1) To bring before students, by critical descriptions and illustrations, the chief ancient and modern works of Architecture, Sculpture, Painting, and the Decorative or Industrial Arts; (2) To show how these works are connected in origin and use with the national and social life of successive epochs, and, conversely, how artistic monuments illustrate Classical and Biblical literature, and bear on historical investigation in general; (3) To explain as far as practicable the technicalities of the various arts, and to open up those aspects of art which present themselves naturally to the artist but are sometimes overlooked by the literary student. On the historical side the characteristics of different styles and schools of art are broadly indicated, but as these can be studied in books they are not dwelt upon at length. On the artistic side particular stress is laid on the explanation of different materials and technical processes, upon these largely depend the particular forms in which beauty is realised in the various works of human hands. There are lectures daily at 3 p.m. Museums, &c., are visited from time to time on Saturdays. Students have the use of class library, reading-room, and collections of examples. There are special arrangements to facilitate attendance at the course on the part of students of the Edinburgh College of Art. There is also an additional course of eighty lectures on the subject of Classical Archaeology and Art. The Science classes at the University include a course of Surveying, Levelling, Setting Out, and Calculation of Quantities, instruction being given by lectures, practical work in the field, and plotting work in the drawing-office. There is a two-years' course in Engineering Drawing, recommended to students proposing to become architects or surveyors, and courses of lectures on Sanitary Engineering and Building Construction.

* The asterisk (*) denotes a Licentiate R.I.B.A.

HERIOT-WATT COLLEGE, EDINBURGH.—The College has evening classes in Architecture and Building Construction (Lecturer, Mr. John Jerdan, architect, assisted by a competent staff). These classes have been co-ordinated with the Technical Courses provided in the Evening Continuation Schools of the Edinburgh School Board in which a two years' course is given in the elements of Mathematics, Geometrical Drawing, and Building Construction. The standard of entrance to the first Heriot-Watt College Class—now Stage III.—has been raised, and if a student has not a certificate of the School Board for the two years' course referred to, or other certificates in Elementary Mathematics, Geometrical Drawing, and Building Construction, he will not be admitted until he has passed an entrance examination in the above-mentioned subjects. The following is a synopsis of the course in Architecture and Building Construction:—

Stage III.—Brickwork and mason-work bonds in common use; simple design of doors and windows to large-scale drawings; proper proportions of doors and windows with their finishings (showing method of construction in both materials); skewback arches; rybats and hells; varieties of rubble work and ashlar used in the facework of well-designed buildings; mortar beds; jointing and pointing; timber, and steel roofs of moderate span; stone and timber stairs of simple design; slates and roofing tiles; plumber work, including drainage of buildings; description of building stones and limes.

Stage IV.—Foundations: damp-proof courses: their application and uses. The different building stones and bricks used in the locality, their nature, characteristics and durability. Materials used in fire-proof masonry and their application: description of cement and lime mortars, their advantages and drawbacks in practice. Reinforced concrete buildings treated architecturally in design and construction. Stone porches, entrance doors, and windows, with accompanying details to large scale. Steel construction as applied in reinforced masonry. Designs of wood and steel roofs: advanced timber work in doors and windows, with their constructional details: ventilation; plumber-work; drainage; shoring and scaffolding.

Stage V.—The study (by drawing) of the construction of the Greek and Roman Orders, and of English and other Renaissance examples, both façades and interiors.—Design.—The application of the principles of Classical and Renaissance Architecture to the construction of modern buildings of a moderate size.—The work set each student in this course will be adapted to his requirements and ability. Preparation of drawings, elevations and sections of a design for a complete building of a moderate size, with half-inch scale constructional drawings. The work set on each student in this course will be adapted to his requirements and ability.

In connection with the Edinburgh College of Art Diploma Course in Architecture, part of the necessary curriculum, namely, courses in mathematics, applied mechanics, graphics and strength of materials, is taken during the day-time at the Heriot-Watt College.

EDINBURGH COLLEGE OF ART, LAURISTON PLACE.—The Royal Institution School of Art having been incorporated in the new Edinburgh College of Art, the Section of Architecture will continue as heretofore.—Head: G. Washington Browne, R.S.A., assisted by Messrs. James Gillespie, T. Aikman Swan [A.], David Ramsay, and Sydney H. Miller [Licentiate]; Lecturers on Architecture: Frank C. Mears and Sydney H. Miller; Colour: Mr. J. Campbell Mitchell, A.R.S.A., and Adam B. Thomson; Sculpture: Mr. David A. Francis.

Classes for the Diploma in Architecture (Edinburgh College of Art) are provided for as follows:—

- (1) A Morning Class which can be attended by students while serving in Architects' offices as apprentices or pupils;
- (2) A Day Class which will occupy a student's whole time.

Before entering the Course, students must have taken the Intermediate Certificate of the Scotch Education Department, or have some qualification recognised by the Board as equivalent, and are required to submit a drawing from the round or a geometric architectural drawing.

Before submitting work to the Committee of Adjudication, students must have satisfied the following conditions:—(1) They must have attended (a) one Session All-day Study and four Sessions of Morning Classes; or, (b) three Sessions All-day Study. Should Course (a) be taken the All-day Session whenever practicable should be the first year. (2) They must have attended a Course of Lectures in Architecture extending over four years, and have passed satisfactorily the Annual Examinations in the subjects of the Course. (3) On completion of the Courses provided for by Article (1) they must have executed, outside of office hours, under the supervision of visitors to be appointed by the Board on the nomination of the Royal Scottish Academy, two designs; and one of these designs must be worked out in construction and specification under the supervision of a teacher appointed for the purpose by the Governors of the Heriot-Watt College. The Course provided under section (3) will be open to any students of Architecture approved by the Board.

Scotch Education Department are exempted from the R.I.B.A. Preliminary Examination.

While the Diploma Course is intended as a substitute for, or as in any way equivalent to, apprenticeship or office training in the of practising architects, the Course is open to all students whether they have served an apprenticeship or not. A form is provided on the Diploma in which particulars of apprenticeship or pupilage may be endorsed.

The basis of the teaching is an education in common in the study of Classic, Renaissance, and Mediæval Arts, Colour, Decoration, Modelling, Figure Drawing, Perspective, and Sciography, and their application. With a view enabling students to pass the Examinations of the Royal Institute of British Architects, a of about twenty lectures Architecture will delivered in the School during the winter months. Money awards made to students who merit encouragement, the money to be spent in visiting and making studies of work in Scotland illustrating the art the student follows. Scholarships and Bursaries are open for competition to students of the School, including two Travelling Scholarships of £26 each, and two Scholarships of £40 each.

GLASGOW INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

(Province: Counties of Dumbarton, Dumfries, Stirling, Renfrew, Lanark, Ayr, Kirkcudbright, Wigtown, Argyll and the Isles. Centre: Glasgow.)

Secretary:

C. J. MacLean, 115 St. Vincent Street, Glasgow.

The Glasgow Institute of Architects was registered on the 18th September 1883, under Section 23 of the Companies Act 1887. The objects of the Institute as given in the Memorandum of Association are:—

(1) The advancement of the art and science of Architecture; (2) The consideration and discussion of all subjects and questions connected, directly or indirectly, with the profession of architects, and the concentrated expression of opinion upon the same; (3) The elevation of the attainments, the promotion of the efficiency, and the protection of the interests of the architects of Glasgow; (4) The establishment of a uniform rate of charge by the members for professional business, in cases where no special agreement as to remuneration is made by the parties; (5) The doing all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects.

The Institute consists of five classes of members—viz.: Fellows—who must be architects in practice and at least twenty-four years of age, and have been at least six years as pupils or assistants in architectural offices recognised as such by the Council, or must be engaged in promoting the study of architecture, and in consideration thereof recommended by the Council; or Fellows of the R.I.B.A. Honorary Members—persons who are distinguished for their attainments, or who have been ~~are~~ are likely to be useful to the Institute and recommended by the Council. Associate Members—who must have been at least three years as pupils in an architectural office recognised as such by the Council, or who have had such other training as the Council shall recognise as equivalent. Student Members—persons who are engaged in the study of architecture; the latter are expected to qualify for the Examinations of the R.I.B.A., and must apply for admission as Associate Members before they have continued Student Members for five years. Lay Members are elected by a Ballot Committee, consisting of five Fellows, five Associate Members, and the President of the Institute. The Council of the Institute manages the whole affairs of the Institute, and is composed of not more than twenty nor less than ten Fellows, and in addition three Associate Members ~~are~~ Fellows, elected by the Associate Members. The separate affairs of the Associate Members are managed, subject to the approval of the Council, by a Committee elected by them, consisting of seven Associate Members or Fellows, the Associate Members being in the majority, and three Lay Members, if elected. The Council are the Trustees for the Alexander Thomson Memorial Studentship, which is of the value of £50 (with conditionally a second prize of £20) and is awarded triennially for the furtherance of the study of ancient classic architecture as practised prior to the commencement of the third century of the Christian era, with special reference to the principles illustrated in the works of the late Alexander Thomson. The dates of ordinary meetings are periodically fixed by the Institute, and Extraordinary General Meetings of the Institute may be convened on the requisition of ten Fellows or Associate Members and Fellows. The Annual General Meeting of the Institute is held on the first Wednesday in March.

The following description of the educational scheme is extracted from the Calendar of the Glasgow School of Architecture:—

The various courses of study provided by the Glasgow School of Architecture are given in both the Royal Technical College and the School of Art. They offer a comprehensive architectural education, and are the necessary complement to the practical training of the pupil or apprentice in an architect's office. A sound general education such as that provided in a good secondary school is assumed.

The complete course of study leads to a Diploma. The Diploma Course is strongly recommended to Students really desirous of qualifying as Architects. It is the normal course for Day Students.

A restricted portion of the same course, called the Certificate Course, although of lesser requirement and arranged for Students who cannot give the time required for the Diploma Course, will yet provide a fairly sufficient education. The whole Certificate Course qualifies for the Senior Certificate, the Junior Division of this Course for a Junior Certificate.

least three years to a Member of the Institute, or of the Royal Institute of British Architects, or of the Societies for the time being allied to it; and (b) have passed such examination as may be from time to time prescribed. Members must be architects of good repute who have attained the age of twenty-three years, and (a) have been students of the Institute for at least two years; or (b) have been engaged for at least five successive years in practice as principals; or (c) have passed the Associates' Examination of the R.I.B.A. for the time being. Fellows may be elected from the rank of Members by a general vote of Members, provided they have attained the age of thirty years and have been engaged for ten successive years in the practice of Architecture as principals. Persons, not being in practice in Great Britain or Ireland, who are eminent for their works or scientific acquirements, are eligible to be associated to the Institute without any contribution, under the designation of Honorary Members if resident within the United Kingdom, or of Honorary Corresponding Members if resident abroad. Meetings of the Council are held the first Monday in the month, at 11 a.m., except during July, August, and September. The Ordinary General Meetings are held on the first Thursday in February, April, June and October. The Annual General Meeting is held the first Thursday in December, at which Meeting the Council for the ensuing year is elected.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN LEEDS AND DISTRICT.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE IN CONNECTION WITH THE LEEDS AND YORKSHIRE ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY.—The classes are conducted by arrangement with the Leeds City Council at the Leeds School of Art and the Central Technical School. A curriculum has been arranged to cover the whole of the subjects required for the Institute Preliminary, Intermediate, and Final Examinations. The Society arranges visits of inspection to old and new buildings periodically during the summer months, and a course of evening lectures is given during the winter session.

The Society's Library, comprising about 600 volumes, is located at the reference department of the Leeds Central Public Library, and members of the Society can obtain the loan of books on production of certificate of membership.

Several prizes are offered annually by the Leeds and Yorkshire Society for measured and other drawings, designs, &c.

LEEDS SCHOOL OF ART.—The work of the School is controlled by the Education Committee of the City Council, Mr. G. J. Coombs, A.R.C.A. (Lond.), Inst. Medallist (Drawings) 1906 being the Head of the Department of Architecture.

Day classes have been formed for students who are prepared to give their full time to the course of study provided, and also for those who wish to divide their time about equally between the practical work of the office and study at the School. The course of study is arranged on a broad basis, instruction being provided in all subjects necessary for students entering the architectural profession, as well as to meet the requirements of others who are interested in Architecture in its relation to other branches of Art. Special opportunities are afforded for the study of Architectural Design; during the session a progressive series of designs dealing with various problems is worked out, the drawings being criticised by architects appointed as visitors. Class lectures in Architectural History are given regularly throughout the session, the aim being to show that the growth and development of Architecture have been governed by constructional necessities, and modified by varying social conditions and by the nature of available materials. The Class work in Design and History is supplemented by visits made during the summer term to ancient and modern buildings of interest and to works in progress. In addition to attending the special architectural courses, students are enabled to share in the advantages to be obtained in the other departments of the School of Art in the study of subjects indispensable to a thorough training. The classes in life drawing, painting, modelling, decorative design, and the various crafts allied to architecture are all made available to students of the Department of Architecture.

The subjects of Building Construction and Quantity Surveying, together with Practical Mathematics, Geometry, and Mechanics, are included in the Evening Courses of the Department of Building in the Central Technical School adjoining. The Head of the Department, Mr. James Neill, F.S.I., is chief lecturer in Building Construction. Lectures in this subject, including Steel and Concrete Construction, are given on several evenings in the week. Instruction in Quantity Surveying is given for elementary and advanced students. During the summer special courses are arranged in Land Surveying and Reinforced Concrete Construction.

The following Day and Evening courses of instruction have been arranged for preparation for the various examinations of the R.I.B.A.:—

DAY COURSES.

First Year: Preliminary Course.—This course extends over one School session, and is intended to meet the needs of those who desire to give their whole time to a preparatory course of training before becoming articled pupils in an architect's office. The students spend the greater part of their time in the Department of Architecture, arrangements also being made for their attendance at general art classes under special teachers. The subjects taken in this course include:—The Elements of the various styles of Architecture; The Orders of Architecture and their applications; Elementary Building Construction and Geometry; Measured Drawing; Sketching and Perspective; General Art—Drawing—Modelling and Design.

Second and Third Years: Intermediate Course.—(a) Part Time Course. (b) Full Time Course. The Intermediate Course directly follows the one year's Preliminary Course, and extends over two or three years, according to the ability of the student. (a) The Part Time Day Course is taken in conjunction with office work, the intention being that students should spend two days every week at the School whilst serving articles in an office, and in addition attend Evening Courses at the School of Art and the Central Technical School. (b) The Full Time Day Course is provided for those students who desire a systematic course of training before entering an Architect's office as pupils, or who wish to take a special course preparatory to the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination. The Intermediate Course of Study comprises the following subjects:—Architectural History. Classes, Byzantine, and Italian; Renaissance Architecture being taken in one session; Medieval and English Renaissance Architecture in the succeeding session; Architectural Design; Building Construction and Builders' Quantities; Measured Drawing; Surveying; Testimonies of Study; General Art—Modelling—Design—Figure drawing and Craft work.

Fourth and Fifth Years: Final Course.—This Course being intended principally for those students who have already passed through their period of articled pupilage in an office and are not able to attend the day classes, it has been arranged that the course of study can be fully followed in the evening classes, although facilities are available for day

Fourth and Fifth Years: Final Course.—This Course being intended principally for those students who have already passed through their period of articled pupillage in an office and are not able to attend the day classes, it has been arranged that the course of study can be fully followed in the evening classes, although facilities are available for day work if desired. In the Final Course the following subjects are included—Architectural History—special study of a selected period; Building Construction—including Iron and Steel Construction, Ferro-concrete, etc.; Advanced Architectural Design; Measured Drawing.—The Testimonies of Study can be prepared ~~under~~ ^{under} the supervision of the Head of the Department.

EVENING COURSES.

Evening courses of study in Architectural History and Design are provided in conjunction with the Intermediate and Final Day Courses, and also to meet the requirements of students who are unable to attend the Day Classes.

The above courses have the approval and active support of the Leeds and Yorkshire Architectural Society, and Visitors nominated by the Society have been appointed to make systematic visits to the Department of Architecture to inspect and criticise the work done. An advisory sub-committee, consisting of members of the Architectural Society, has been formed by the City Council to assist in the supervision and direction of the work of the Department of Architecture.

CITY OF BRADFORD SCHOOL OF ART: Special Classes for Architecture.—The day class is a combined one, and is carried on in conjunction with the Engineering Department of the Technical College. The subjects include freehand drawing, light and shade, sketching, measurement drawing, drawing of architectural details, architectural design; and surveying, building construction, materials, sanitation, chemistry, mathematics, mechanics. The course is a three-years' one, and the fee is £15 per annum. The evening classes consist of lectures on architectural design, dealing with subjects in a practical manner by means of demonstrations where the various points of style and construction are explained. The work done by the students is criticised by leading local architects. Lectures on historical architecture are given once a week throughout the Session. The architectural demonstrations and lectures are given by Mr. G. Hanson [A.]. The teaching has been brought into line with the R.I.B.A. Examination programme, but special attention is given to instruction in architectural design.

TECHNICAL COLLEGE, HUDDERSFIELD.—Special courses are arranged for architects' assistants and pupils, giving complete preparation for the R.I.B.A. Examinations. These courses are taken partly in the School of Art and partly in the Engineering and Building Department. In the School of Art lectures are given and classes conducted by Mr. Norman Cufley [A.] in Architectural Design and in the History and Principles of Architecture, and in outdoor sketching and measuring. The School possesses a collection of architectural casts and an excellent modelling-room.

Prizes open for competition include the Woodhead Exhibition (£10 and free tuition), and the School Sketch Club offers a prize annually for architectural design. Under Mr. J. Harner, A.R.C.A., Art Master, instruction is provided in all branches of art work. In the Engineering Department classes in Building Construction, Builders' Quantities, and allied subjects are conducted by Mr. A. Hill [A.]. Lectures on the Strength of Materials, supplemented by laboratory work, are given by Mr. J. W. Rutton, B.Sc., A.R.C.S.

LEICESTER AND LEICESTERSHIRE SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS.

(Province: Leicestershire and Rutlandshire. Centre: Leicester.)

Hon. Secretary

Clement Stratton [A.], 4 Grey Friars, Leicester.

The Leicester and Leicestershire Society of Architects was founded in 1872. The objects of the Society are:—

(1) To maintain the alliance to the Royal Institute of British Architects; (2) To establish and maintain an acknowledged code of professional charges and practice; (3) To obtain and consider information respecting competitions and other matters affecting the profession, and, where practicable, to advise with committees and others desiring professional aid, and to endeavour to ensure equitable terms and awards; (4) To afford mutual assistance, by advice or mediation, in cases of misunderstanding, either among members themselves, or between them and their employers, or between the members and those employed in works under their superintendence, and generally to promote personal acquaintance and good feeling among members of the Society; (5) To establish an architectural reference library and model room for the use of the various constituent members of the Society, and to advance the professional knowledge and interests of members of the Society in any way that may from time to time be deemed expedient.

The members consist of four classes, viz.: Hon. Members—retired architects and others; Full Members—architects who have been engaged for not less than three years as principals; Associate-Members—architects in practice, but not eligible as Full Members, or Associates R.I.B.A.; and Assistant and Pupil Members—assistants and pupils not less than 16 years of age, in the office of an architect, surveyor, or civil engineer in practice in the counties of Leicester or Rutland. The Society possesses a Library to which all its members have access, and has issued a schedule of professional charges and practice. Prizes are awarded by the Council of the Society to pupils and others for the best Architectural Sketches, Measured Drawings, and other Competitions, particulars of which are published in the Society's Annual Report. General meetings are held at various dates, due notice of which is issued to all members by the Honorary Secretary. The Annual General Meeting is held in March or April.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN LEICESTER.

THE LEICESTER MUNICIPAL, TECHNICAL AND ART SCHOOLS.
A course of instruction in Architecture has been arranged at this School in conjunction with the Leicester and Leicestershire Society of Architects, in accordance with the syllabus drawn up by the Board of Architectural Education (v. infra).

* The Asterisk (*) denotes a Licentiate R.I.B.A.

The course provides for a preliminary training in Day Classes for two years, together with further training at Evening Classes during pupilage.

The Council of the Leicester and Leicestershire Society of Architects recommends all candidates for the profession to pass through this two years' preliminary course, and it is understood that the members of this Society will give preference to such Students as have taken this course or have received an equivalent training. The Council also recommends, as an article of apprenticeship, that the further training, mainly in Evening Classes, should be continued during pupilage, and that facilities should be given for pupils to continue this training.

The following is the syllabus of the course of instruction:—

FIRST YEAR.

Day Classes.—Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Geometry, Building Construction, History of Architecture, and Elementary Design; Thursday, Freehand and Model Drawing, and Water Colour Drawing; Friday, Modelling and Stone Masonry; Saturday, Lettering, etc.

Evening Classes.—Monday, Geometry; Friday, Building Construction.

At the end of this year the student's work will be reviewed by the Education Committee of the Leicester Society of Architects, with a view to deciding whether it would be advisable for the student to continue his training for the architectural profession.

SECOND YEAR.

Day Classes.—Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Building Construction, History of Architecture, Projection of Shadows, and Iron and Steel Construction; Thursday, Modelling and Stone Carving; Friday and Saturday, Drawing and Colour Work from the Past and the Life.

Evening Classes.—Thursday, Building Construction; Friday, Perspective.

THIRD YEAR.

In this year the student should be articled to an Architect in practice, and continue the course set out for this and following years of his training in the Evening Classes. He should further present himself for the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination in June.

The following Evening Classes for Architects, &c., have been arranged in conjunction with the Leicester and Leicestershire Society of Architects:—

First Year.—Monday, Geometry, Mathematics; Tuesday, Building Science; Friday, Building Construction, Lower Part I.

Second Year.—Tuesday, Building Science; Wednesday, Geometry and Mathematics; Thursday, Building Construction, Lower Part II.

Third Year.—Monday, Architectural Drawing and History; Wednesday, Building Construction, Higher Part I.; Friday, Principles of Planning, Simple Design.

Fourth Year.—Monday, Architectural History; Tuesday, Building Construction, Higher Part II.; Wednesday, Building Design, Perspective and Shadows, Drawing.

Fifth Year.—Monday, Design and Construction (Advanced); Wednesday, Drawing from the Round; Tuesday and Thursday, Modelling or Lettering.

Sixth Year.—Monday or Friday, Design and Construction (Advanced); Wednesday, Drawing from the Round and from Life; Tuesday or Thursday, Modelling and Stone Cutting.

At the Evening Classes special courses of lectures have been arranged. For professional pupils the course will extend over two years, and will be devoted to a study of the development of architecture and building design, and the drawing of selected types of work. General students and amateurs may attend six monthly lectures, given on the first Monday evening of each month, on the History of Architecture.

A course of lectures on "The Design and Construction of Domes" will be given on Monday evenings, commencing 21st September 1914.

During April, May, and June a Saturday afternoon Class is held for the purpose of visiting works in progress, places for the manufacture of building materials, and for sketching and measuring architectural work.

THE LIVERPOOL ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY. (INCORPORATED.)

[Province: Parts of Lancashire and Cheshire, with the counties of Flint, Denbigh, Carnarvon, Anglesea, Merioneth, and Montgomery, and the Isle of Man.—Centre: Liverpool.]

Rooms: 13 Harrington Street, Liverpool.

Hon. Secretaries.

Egerton L. Bower and Duncan A. Campbell, Royal Liver Building.

The Liverpool Architectural Society was established in 1848, and incorporated in 1901 under the Companies Acts 1862-1900 as a limited company, the Certificate of Incorporation bearing date 22nd August 1901.

The objects of the Society are: (a) To undertake and encourage the general advancement of civil architecture, and to promote and facilitate the acquirement of the knowledge of the various arts and sciences connected therewith. (b) To promote professional integrity and honourable practice, and generally to promote honourable relations in the profession. (c) To obtain information and to consider and discuss all subjects and questions connected directly or indirectly with the art, science, and professional practice of Architecture. (d) To support and protect the status of architects and of surveyors practising in, or in the vicinity of, the city of Liverpool, and for that purpose to confer with and advise public bodies and others on all matters affecting the interests of the profession, and, if necessary, to take active means to protect such interests. (e) To establish and maintain a library of architectural books and a collection of designs, prints, and other articles of interest to the profession. (f) To advance and encourage professional study by organising classes for study, competitions for prizes to be given by the Society, and the delivery of lectures, and by such other means as may be thought expedient.

The Society consists of two classes of members—viz., Fellows and Associates. The Fellows ~~are~~ architects or surveyors who have attained the age of twenty-eight years, and who for not less than three years have been engaged as principals in professional practice. The Associates are persons who have attained the age of twenty-one years and are engaged in the study or practice of Architecture or Surveying. There are honorary classes for Honorary Fellows and Honorary Associates, and a class for Students.

The Society has a Library and Reading Room which is open daily for the use of the members and students.

Sessional Meetings are held from October to April inclusive. The Annual General Meeting is held in April.

The courses in the School of Architecture at the University are designed to provide all students intending to practise as architects with a full liberal and professional education at a University standard side by side with the students of the other professions. The teaching of design is based upon the methods of the Ecole des Beaux-Arts at Paris, adapted to meet our somewhat different requirements. While the student is taught design on a basis of monumental planning in order to equip him with the means by which to approach with confidence the larger problems Architecture presents, an attempt is also made to give him that intimate knowledge of materials and construction which distinguishes the best domestic work. With this double end in view, after the combined study in his first year of simple construction and the elements of architectural proportion, he passes in his second year and in his later work to a progressive series of designs both of a constructional and monumental character. For the latter he makes carefully rendered drawings, and for the former all the detailed and working drawings necessary for a contract. The work is carried out in the studio under instruction, and the lecture courses are designed to run parallel to it. The students of the School, after finishing the first part of their course, have directly undertaken salaried posts or have passed to a shortened period of pupilage in an architect's office.

The School is one of those recognized by the Board of Architectural Education, and its courses meet all the requirements of the scheme propounded by the Board [vide infra]. The courses of the School lead to the University Degree of Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.), to the University Diploma in Architecture, and to the University Certificates. The University grants a certificate at the end of the first half of either the Degree or Diploma course; students who obtain this certificate in the first class are exempted from the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination, while in their second year they are able to prepare the designs required as Testimonies of Study for the Final Examination. The Royal Academy also exempts such students from probationary work before entering its School of Architecture.

Students who propose to take a degree course in Architecture, and who are graduates in Arts, Science, or Engineering of this or any other recognised University, are allowed a substantial reduction in the length of the course of study required of them. Where a full degree course in Arts or Science is not possible, students are advised at least to take the Matriculation Examination of the Northern Universities' Joint Matriculation Board, or an examination accepted by the Board as its equivalent, before entering upon their course of study. This examination must be passed by students before beginning their degree course; though students who have not passed the Matriculation are admitted to the Diploma course.

The School, which occupies the old Queen Anne building, formerly the Blue Coat Hospital of Liverpool (now called Liberty Buildings), presented to the School by Sir William Lever, Bart., includes a large well-fitted studio, a large exhibition room, lecture-rooms, a museum, and a library and private rooms for advanced students. There is a large collection of architectural plates, drawings, and photographs. The Museum contains examples of building materials, models of building construction, and a representative collection of architectural casts. The Library of reference books contains the chief folios of measured drawings of ancient and modern buildings.

Scholarships in the gift of the School include the Ravenhead Entrance Scholarship (value £30 a year and tenable for two years), open to architectural students under 23 years of age; and the Holt Travelling Scholarship (value £50 for one year), open to students who have obtained a certificate in architecture at the end of their second or third year. Additional Scholarships are sometimes available.

The following particulars of the courses of study—(1) The Certificate and Degree Course, (2) the Certificate and Diploma Course, (3) the Certificate in Architectural Design—are quoted from the School Prospectus:—

The first two of these, (1) and (2), are the main courses of study in the School, and the Certificate, if taken in the first class, exempts students from the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination. It is awarded to students after the completion of the first three years of the Degree Course, or after the first two years of the Diploma Course.

(1) The Degree Course.—The degree awarded is the degree of Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch.). Candidates preparing for any degree in the University are required before beginning their course to have passed the Matriculation Examination, or to have obtained exemption therefrom, and thereafter to have attended approved courses. Candidates who pass the Matriculation without Mechanics will be required to sit for an examination in this subject approved by the Faculty before entering the second year of University study.

First Year's Course and Intermediate Examination.—Subjects.—(i.) History of Architecture; (ii.) Either Ancient History or Modern History; (iii.) One of the following: Pure Mathematics, Applied Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry; (iv., v.) Two of the following, one at least of which shall be a modern language:—Greek, Latin, French, German, Italian, Spanish, English Literature, Logic, Pure or Applied Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry (if not taken under (iv.)). Before entering a course of study for the Second Examination, candidates shall be required to afford evidence satisfactory to the Professor of Architecture that they have attained a degree of proficiency in drawing necessary for the purposes of their architectural studies.

The student is expected to attend the Architectural Studio when not engaged in the above work.

Second and Third Years' Courses and Second Examination.—The subjects of the second and third years' courses of study and of the Second Examination are:—(i.) History of Architecture, with special study of an approved period; (ii.) Architectural Design; (iii.) Building Construction; (iv.) Mechanics of Structures; (v.) A subject in the Fine Arts other than Architecture. Candidates may also present as an additional optional subject either Drawing or Modelling. Candidates are required to present designs worked during the course of study and measured drawings of a building approved by the Professor of Architecture, and such work shall be taken into account by the examiners in making their award. A student, before presenting himself for examination, shall be required (a) to carry out in the School of Architecture a programme of four large designs (to each of which not more than six weeks shall have been devoted) and of four small designs (to each of which not more than a fortnight shall have been devoted); (b) to submit measured drawings of a building previously approved for that purpose by the Board of Studies; (c) to have reached in these parts of his work such a standard of proficiency as the Board of Studies may deem satisfactory. Candidates are required to attend approved courses of instruction in all the subjects offered for examination. During these two years the student spends his whole time, except for lectures, in the Studio.

Fourth and Fifth Years' Courses and Final Examination.—Candidates are required, after passing the Second Examination, to spend at least two years, under conditions to be approved by the Faculty, in the office of a practising architect or in such other form of practical work as may be recognised, and to attend during that time courses of instruction approved by the Faculty of Arts, either in the University or in some other recognised School of architectural training. Candidates are required to:—(i.) Submit for the approval of the examiners a complete set of working drawings, details and specifications of a projected building, produced under conditions previously approved by the Faculty; (ii.) Submit measured drawings of a building approved by the Professor of Architecture, with a dissertation on cognate work. Candidates are required to present designs and other work done by them during the two years before the Final Examination, and such work is taken into account by the examiners in making their award. Candidates may obtain distinction in subjects (i.) and (ii.).

(II.) The Certificate and Diploma Courses.—Students entering on this course must not be less than seventeen years of age. They need not have passed the Matriculation Examination, but must be able to furnish evidence of having attained a satisfactory standard in general education and drawing. The course falls into two periods, each of two years. In the first period the student's time is devoted to professional studies in the School, on the lines of the course laid down for the second and third years of the Degree Course. The second period is spent in an architectural office, while the student continues studies, similar to those of the fourth and fifth years of the Degree Course, either in Evening or Day Classes in the School itself, or in some other Architectural School recognised by the University. Two examinations must be passed, one at the end of each period. This course, like the Degree and Certificate Course, is designed to meet the requirements laid down by the Board of Architectural Education.

(III.) Certificate in Architectural Design.—This Certificate is designed to meet the needs of students who wish to come to the School of Architecture for its special teaching in Architectural Design. The following regulations govern the course:—(1) Students for the Certificate in Architectural Design, unless admitted by the Board of Studies on the ground of special qualifications, must have already obtained the Certificate in Architecture awarded by the University, or have been exempted at that Standard. (2) Candidates for the Certificate in Architectural Design must have attended approved courses in the School of Architecture, (i.) during one day Session, or (ii.) during the Autumn and Lent Terms of two Evening Sessions, and have satisfied the Board of Studies in not less than six designs to approved programmes. (3) The examination shall consist of a design made in the School of Architecture under approved conditions, for which at least five days shall be allowed.

Vacation Work.—During the Long Vacation, students, whether taking Degree or Diploma Courses, are expected to spend a portion of the time in preparing drawings, particularly in making measured drawings from actual buildings, on which advice will be given.

EVENING SCHOOL.

The Evening School is organised with a view to meeting the requirements of those students who are already engaged in office work during the day-time. The work done tends towards the Degree and Diploma in Architecture for such students who have already taken the Certificate. For others who are qualified differently the University grants on evening work a special Certificate in Architectural Design. The work of the Evening School consists of designs carried out under instruction in the School Studio, and a course of more advanced lectures related to the design work on the principles and details of classic architecture. The designs required for the R.I.B.A. Final Examination will in future form the main bulk of the work done in the Evening Studio.

The School publishes annually the Liverpool Architectural Sketch-book, containing reproductions of the best work of present and past students and of others connected with the School, both in measured drawings and design.

DEPARTMENT OF CIVIC DESIGN.

(TOWN PLANNING AND LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE.)

Founded by SIR WILLIAM LEVEY, Bart. [Hon. A.]

CIVIC DESIGN.—Professor, ~~W. H. Murray~~ (in charge of the Department); Lecturer and Research Fellow, P. Abercrombie, M.A.

LANDSCAPE DESIGN.—Lecturer, T. H. Mawson [H.A.].

CIVIC ENGINEERING.—Associate Professor, J. A. Brodia, M.Eng., M.INST.C.E.; City Engineer for Liverpool; Lecturer, H. E. L. Martin, M.Eng., A.M.INST.C.E.

CIVIC HYGIENE.—Professor, E. W. Hope, M.D., D.Sc.; Medical Officer of Health for Liverpool.

CIVIC LAW.—Lecturer, H. Chulston Dowdall, M.A., B.C.L.; Barrister-at-Law.

The Autumn and Lent terms of the academic year constitute a Session of the Department; and in connection with the work of the School the University has instituted a Certificate and a Diploma. The Certificate will be granted to students who have done satisfactory work during one Session. The courses leading to a Certificate are especially arranged to deal with the basic principles of Town Planning, and will treat of problems involved in class distribution, industrial development, traffic, and suburban extension. During the course students will attend lectures on Civic Development, Engineering, Law, and Landscape Design. Studio work will include the plotting of new lines of communication and the sub-division of areas on plans of existing towns, site planning, and the planning of important features.

The Diploma will be granted to those students who, having obtained the Certificate, or who, under exceptional circumstances, are qualified to take the Certificate and Diploma at the same time, are desirous of proceeding with their studies in town planning to a stage in the completion of the subject demanding a trained artistic sense and a knowledge of the problems involved in civic composition. The courses will include advanced Outlines of Town Planning, Civic Architecture and Town Furnishing, and schemes will be prepared in the Studio for the complete development of areas and important town features, both on plan, in elevation and in perspective.

The Certificate Course is especially designed to qualify the Municipal Engineer to undertake the work required of him under the Town Planning Act in its earlier stages. The Diploma Course is designed to meet the needs of architects engaged in the development of estates, in the execution of work under the Town Planning Act in its final stages, and in the arrangement of streets and buildings where architectural problems are involved.

Certificate Course.—Students entering the course must be less than 19 years of age. They must (a) satisfy the Professors of Civic Design and Architecture of their competency to profit by the course; (b) either have graduated in Architecture or have obtained a first-class Certificate in Architecture in the University of Liverpool, or have graduated in Architecture in any other University approved by the Faculty, or have passed or been exempted from the Intermediate Examination in Architecture of the Royal Institute of British Architects, or have passed or been exempted from the Examination qualifying for Associate-Membership of the Institute of Civil Engineers, or have served their articles during a period of not less than three years in the office of an architect or in the office of a borough engineer or city engineer, or present such other qualification as the Faculty may approve. The course of study, which extends over not less than one Session, includes:—(i.) The Development of the City and the Influences affecting its growth, (ii.) Civic Engineering and Hygiene, (iii.) Law as related to Town Planning, (iv.) Landscape Design. Studio work forms an essential part of the course of study.

Diploma Course.—Students entering upon the course for the Diploma in Civic Design must either (a) have obtained a Certificate in Civic Design or (b) be members of the Royal Institute of British Architects, or, in the case of non-British students, members of an institution in the country of their origin which has an equivalent status. A candidate offering qualifications referred to in (b) must on application, and before admission to the course, submit specimens of his work to be reported upon to the Faculty of Arts by the Professor of Civic Design and the Professor of Architecture. The course of study includes:—(i.) The preparation of at least two Town Planning schemes for definite areas; plans, supplemented by written matter, presenting general provisions; (ii.) A study for the reconstruction of an existing area; (iii.) Design for an incident in Town Planning to specified conditions; (iv.) Town Planning; (v.) Civic Architecture; (vi.) Civic Design.

The Lecture Courses embrace COURSE A, Outlines of Town Planning (The Development of the City and the Influences affecting its growth); COURSE B, Civic Engineering and Hygiene; COURSE C, Civic Law; COURSE D, Civic Architecture (Composition, Colour and Material, Character and Style); COURSE E, Civic Decoration; COURSE F, Landscape Design.

The Studio work undertaken by the Certificate students consists largely in the ~~practical~~ exposition of the knowledge acquired in attendance at the Lecture courses. The Diploma students will devote particular attention to the preparation of original Town Planning schemes, both in general and in detail, and to the presentation thereof in bird's-eye view perspective as well as on plan and in elevation.

The Department of Civic Design issues quarterly a Journal, known as The Town Planning Review, which records the research work of the staff and students, reviews contemporary work, and presents original designs for Town Planning incidents and schemes.

MANCHESTER SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS.

[16 St. Mary's Parsonage, Manchester.]

[Province: Westmorland, part of Lancashire, and part of Cheshire.
Centre: Manchester.]

Secretary:

Arthur S. Brewis, F.C.A., Canada Chambers, 36 Spring Gardens.

The Manchester Society of Architects (originally founded in 1855, and consisting exclusively of architects who at the time of their election had been in practice at least three years) was reconstructed in 1891 and incorporated under Section 23 of the Companies Act, 1867, as a limited company, the Articles of Association bearing date the 16th June 1891. The objects are:—

(a) To support and protect the character, status, and interests of architects practising in, or in the vicinity of, Manchester, and to promote personal acquaintance and good feeling between members of the Society. (b) To establish and maintain an acknowledged Code of professional practice and charges, &c. (c) To advance and encourage professional knowledge and study in the younger members of the profession by the foundation of classes for study, competition for prizes given by the Society, delivering of lectures and other means. (d) To receive and consider information respecting competitions and all other matters affecting the profession, &c. (e) To afford mutual assistance by advice and mediation in cases of misunderstanding between members, or between members and their employers or those employed under them, and in any other way to promote honourable conduct in the profession generally. . . . (g) To establish, form, and maintain a Library or other collection of architectural works, and to acquire, by purchase or donation, books, designs, drawings, and other articles of interest in connection with the profession.

The members consist of Fellows, who have been engaged in practice at least five years, and who are entitled to use the affix F.M.S.A.; Associates, who are at least 21 years of age, engaged in the study or practice of Architecture as a profession, and who are entitled to use the affix A.M.S.A.; Students, who are under 21 years of age and are engaged in the study of Architecture either as assistants or Pupils. The Society possesses a Loan and Reference Library, containing some eleven hundred volumes, which is open to students, other than members, on certain conditions. Students' meetings are held during the Session, when Papers on architectural subjects read. A large number of prizes offered by the Society in competition to members of the Society, or to pupils assistants in the offices of architects in Manchester or in the offices of members of the Society. The more important include the President's prize of Three Guineas for water-colour sketches; Mr. Beaumont's Prize (Three Guineas) for the best selection of Measured Drawings, &c., for the Society's Sketch-Book; Prizes for Sketches and Measured Drawings; the Mills and Holden Prizes; and Prizes for the best work done in connection with the School of Architecture. The Council meet every month; General Meetings of the Society are held every three months, and Sessional Paper Meetings held during the winter. The Annual General Meeting is held in April.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES, MANCHESTER DISTRICT.

MANCHESTER SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE.

The Manchester School of Architecture has been established pursuant to arrangement made between the University, the Manchester Education Committee, and the Manchester Society of Architects.

It is arranged so as to take full advantage of: (a) The technical instruction, both elementary and advanced, on the practical and constructive side, provided by the departments of Building Construction, Sanitation, etc., of the Municipal School of Technology, Sackville Street; (b) The thorough training in draughtsmanship and design provided by the Municipal School of Art, Cavendish Street; and to combine these with: (c) The University lectures in Architecture and the History of Art, which cover the historical development of architecture in Europe in ancient, mediæval, and modern times; the general history of sculpture and painting; and special branches of classical and mediæval art.

* The asterisk (*) denotes a Licentiate R.I.B.A.

Professor Arch. G. Dickie, M.A., F.S.A. [A.], Director.

J. Lindsay Grant, Lecturer.

W. Leicester, Lecturer in Building Construction.

Mr. R. Glazier (A.), R.C.A., Head Master of the Municipal School of Art, and other members of the Staff of the Municipal School of Art, of the Municipal School of Technology, and of the University, take part in the instruction given in these institutions respectively.

Professor Beresford Pite (F.), External Examiner for the Degree of B.A. and B.Sc.Tech.

The Architectural courses are intended to meet the requirements of students who desire—(1) To take a degree of the University either in the Faculty of Arts or in the Faculty of Technology; (2) To take the Certificate of the University in Architecture; (3) to prepare for the qualifying examinations for Associatehip of the Royal Institute of British Architects; (4) to take a ~~course~~ in Architecture without proceeding to a degree as qualification; (5) to attend any of the special lecture courses in Architecture; (6) to attend evening classes in the subjects of Architecture and Building Construction.

The University offers two degrees to students of Architecture: (1) in the Faculty of Arts, B.A. with Honours in Architecture; (2) in the Faculty of Technology, B.Sc.Tech.

I. Candidates are required to have passed the prescribed Matriculation Examination in the following subjects:—(1) English Language and Literature; (2) English History; (3) Mathematics; (4) Three of the following (one of which must be a language); i. Greek; ii. Latin; iii. French; iv. German; v. ~~any~~ other language approved by the Board; vi. Mechanics or Physics; vii. Chemistry; viii. Geography (Physical, Political, and Commercial); ix. Natural History (Plants and Animals) or Botany.

II. Candidates are required to have attended the approved classes for the Intermediate Examination subjects, and to pass the Intermediate Examination for the degree of B.A. or B.Sc.Tech. in the following subjects:—

A. FOR THE DEGREE OF B.A.—(a) One of the following: Greek, Latin, French, German; (b) One of the following: Ancient History, Modern History, English Literature; (c) One of the following: Physics, Pure Mathematics, Applied Mathematics. Candidates who have passed the Intermediate in Science or Technology will be exempted from A (a) and (c).

B. FOR THE DEGREE OF B.Sc.TECH.—1. Mathematics; 2. Physics; 3. Chemistry. Inorganic; 4. A Language (other than English).

III. The Final Course for the degree of B.A. and B.Sc.Tech. includes the following subjects:—

A. For the Degree of B.A.:—

1. History of Architecture.—(a) General Architectural History (first year); (b) Renaissance and Modern Architecture (second and third year).

2. Architectural Construction.—(a) Building Construction (including Steel and Ferro-Concrete Construction) and Sanitation; (b) Graphic Statics; Theory of Structures; Strength and Testing of Materials.

3. Architectural Design.—(a) Freehand and Architectural Drawing; (b) Thesis Design with Memoir.

4. Architecture (Special Subject), second and third year.

5. (a) Advanced Freehand Drawing; (b) Measured Drawing of a Building (to be approved by the Professor of Architecture), with Memoir; (c) Modelling.

6. History of Art.—(a) Greek and Roman Sculpture; (b) Italian Mural Painting.

Candidates will be examined in Subjects 1 to 6.

Candidates may be required to submit to an Oral Examination on the Thesis Design with Memoir, under A3 (b).

. Before presenting themselves for the Final Examination, candidates ~~are~~ required to attend an approved class in the Department of Engineering.

COURSES OF STUDY.

The University Degree Course covers three years, subsequently to Matriculation, which are respectively described as the First, Second, and Third or Final Years.

The Course for the First Year is as follows:—

I. The Three classes for the Intermediate Examination.

II. Classes in Architecture.—(a) History of Architecture; (b) Elements of Architecture. Students intending to take the R.I.B.A. Examinations may prepare their "Testimonium of Study" in the Drawing class. (c) Freehand Drawing; (d) Applied Geometry and Building Construction; (e) Architectural Drawing.

The Course for the Second Year is as follows:—

(1) Mechanics (unless Applied Mathematics have been already taken); (2) Renaissance Architecture; (3) Elements of Architecture (Classical and Gothic Construction and Detail); (4) General History of Art; (5) Sanitation; (6) Building Construction; (7) Architectural Drawing and Design; (8) Freehand Drawing; (9) Modelling or Decorative Design; (10) Surveying.

The Course for the Third or Final Year is as follows:—

(1) History of Art; (2) Medieval, Renaissance, and Modern Architecture; (3) Advanced Building Construction; (4) Engineering, with Testing Laboratory; (5) Architectural Design; (6) Drawing from the Antique and Modelling; (7) The Fine and Industrial Arts.

CERTIFICATE COURSE.

The Course of Study given below has been framed to conform with the curriculum laid down by the R.I.B.A. Board of Architectural Education. The arrangement by which many architects in Manchester have agreed to allow assistants to devote Monday and Thursday afternoons to attend the architecture classes at the Schools of Art and Technology and the University lectures, greatly facilitates the adoption of this scheme, under which a Certificate in Architecture is offered by the University. The R.I.B.A. Council grants exemption from the Intermediate Examination to students who obtain a first class in the Certificate examinations; further, the Certificate examination is permitted to be taken at the end of the third year, if desired.

Candidates before entering upon a course leading to a certificate are required to pass an entrance examination in the following subjects, which will be held at the Municipal School of Technology, in July and October:—

Mathematics. (A three hours' paper, including Arithmetic, Elementary Geometry, Algebra, up to and including simultaneous equations.)

English. (A three hours' paper, including an Essay.)

Another approved language, which ordinarily would be Greek, Latin, French, or German*; one paper of two hours including translation at sight of easy passages into English. Translation of English passages into the foreign language.

*Application to be allowed to take a foreign language other than the above must be sent into the Registry not later than 1st September.

An additional subject or subjects may also be required by the various Faculties from students seeking admission to courses within the Faculties. Fee for the Entrance Examination, £1 1s.

Candidates who have passed the Matriculation Examination of the Joint Matriculation Board are exempt from the above.

In lieu of this special examination, candidates may offer a certificate of having passed any public examination of adequate standard as exempting from the whole or any part of the above entrance examination. Application for such exemption with full particulars should be made to the University Registrar not later than 15th September.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The Course of Study is similar to that for the B.Sc.Tech. (see above), with the following variations:

In the first year, Mathematics, six hours a week.

In the second year, Mechanics, two hours' lectures and three hours' laboratory a week.

The Course for the Final Year is as follows:—

1. Architectural Design; 2. Building Construction (Honours Stage).

ARCHITECTURE STUDIO.

The Studio for Architectural Drawing and Design at the School of Art, Cavendish Street, is open each week day, except Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, and is available throughout the School session.

Lectures in the Studio, combined with sketching and drawing, are given on the following subjects:—Elementary History of Architecture; The Fine and the Industrial Arts; Elements of Architectural Design; Advanced Architectural Design.

The subjects studied in the class of Advanced Architectural Design are, more especially, those set by the Education Committee of the Manchester Society of Architects: students send in their work on these designs as competition for the prizes offered by the Society. Short introductory lectures are given discussing the special conditions for each subject, and the designs are worked out under instruction and criticism, in which visiting members of the Manchester Society of Architects take part.

The "Testimonies of Study," required of candidates for Association of the Royal Institute of British Architects, may be prepared in the Architecture Studio. Students are free to work at their designs, class-exercises, measured work, or other architectural drawing, Professor Dickie or Mr. Grant being present for advice and criticism at stated times.

The collection of architectural casts, both Gothic and Renaissance, in the School of Art Museum, adjoining the studio, affords opportunity for measured work and architectural freehand drawing. A weekly course of instruction is given in Shades and Shadows, with exercises in Architectural Rendering.

Measuring Class.—A class is held for measuring and plotting existing buildings, and old work in and near Manchester.

SPECIAL R.I.B.A. COURSE UNDER THE DIRECTION OF PROFESSOR DICKIE, M.A., F.S.A.

The two years' R.I.B.A. Course has been established for some years in preparation for the Intermediate Examination of the Royal Institute.

This course, supplemented by the evening classes in Building Construction and Graphics at the School of Technology, and by Drawing classes at the School of Art, is intended expressly for Architects' Pupils, Apprentices, and Assistants desirous of presenting themselves for the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examinations. The required "Testimonies of Study" are prepared in this course.

In addition, students are expected to take, in the first year, Professor Dickie's Lectures on History of Architecture, and, in the second year, his Lectures on Renaissance Architecture.

First Year Course.—I. Applied Geometry and Building Construction; II. Elements of Architecture; III. Architectural Drawing; in this class the "Testimonies of Study" required for the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination are prepared; IV. History of Architecture.

Second Year Course.—I. Building Construction; II. Architectural Drawing; III. Elements of Architecture; IV. History of Renaissance and Modern Architecture.

The above classes are also open to students who desire to take ~~courses~~ in Architecture or to attend any special classes without proceeding to a degree or qualification. Evening courses in Architecture, Building Construction and allied subjects, are also provided at the University.

BURY MUNICIPAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL.—Instruction is given at moderate fees in geometrical drawing, perspective, shading from the east, principles of decorative art and design, historic ornament, architecture, modelling in clay, drawing from the antique, wood-carving, embroidery, and painting from life. There are also classes in practical geometry and calculations, building science, and mechanics, building construction and drawing, carpentry and joinery, structural engineering, builders' quantities, metal plate work and plumbing. (Mr. Robert Wilkinson, B.A., Principal.)

BLACKBURN MUNICIPAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL.—In addition to a full curriculum of drawing subjects, this School offers instruction in advanced perspective, principles of ornament, historic ornament, principles of architecture, architectural design, and the history of architecture. A four years' course of instruction is given in building construction, and students are prepared for both grades of the examination held by the Board of Education in this subject; instruction is also given in sanitation, graphic statics, builders' measurements, brick-work and masonry; carpentry and joinery; practical electricity, the best methods of lighting buildings.

ACCRINGTON MUNICIPAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL.—At this School there are classes and lectures in applied mechanics, practical mechanics, carpentry and joinery, surveying, historic ornament and principles of ornament, building construction, geometry and mathematics, and art classes (including designing and architectural draughtsmanship), all under the control of the Board of Education.

ROCHDALE MUNICIPAL SCHOOL OF ART.—The regular classes include those for drawing plant forms, ornament, and models, perspective and geometrical work, light and shade, decorative and applied design, modelling and painting. There are also three life classes per week. Special classes are held for Architecture, Architectural Design, and Decoration. The school buildings are new and well equipped.

ROCHDALE MUNICIPAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL provides complete courses for the Building Trades, including building construction, carpentry and joinery, builders' quantities, plumbing, and painting and decorating.

TODMORDEN.—The Borough Education Committee have established Science, Art, and Technological Classes, where instruction is given in all branches of drawing, in mathematics, practical plane and solid geometry, chemistry, mechanics, wood-carving, &c. Clerk to Committee: Mr. James Whitehead.

NATAL INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

[Durban.]

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer:

H. E. Chick, 21 ■ ■ Southern Life Building, Smith Street, Durban.

The Natal Institute of Architects was founded ■ 1901, and was incorporated the 23rd May, 1902. The objects for which the Institute is established are the promotion and advancement of architectural art and practice, and its allied arts, sciences, and crafts, and the maintenance ■ the honour and the interests of the profession of architecture. In furtherance of those ends the Institute seeks " ■ improve and elevate the technical and general knowledge of persons engaged in, or about to engage in, the architectural profession, or any employment connected directly ■ indirectly therewith, and to provide for the delivery of lectures and the holding of classes, and to test by examination ■ otherwise the competence of such persons; and with such object to award prizes, certificates, and distinctions; and to make, institute, and establish scholarships, grants, rewards, and other benefactions; to establish and maintain in Natal libraries and museums of models, designs, drawings, and such other things ■ may be deemed of interest to the members of the Institute, and lecture and class-rooms or other institutions; to institute lectures or courses of lectures; and to establish schools for the study of architecture and its allied arts, sciences, and crafts in Natal"; to arrange and promote the settlement of disputes by arbitration; to provide for and facilitate social intercourse between members; to organise ■ hold architectural congresses, exhibitions, and award medals and certificates; to prepare, edit, and publish architectural books, pamphlets, maps, drawings, &c. The Institute consists of three classes of members—viz. (1) Honorary Members; (2) Members, who must be directly engaged in the profession of architecture and be above twenty-three years of age; (3) Associates, who must be strictly engaged in the pursuit of architecture and be above eighteen years of age. As a condition precedent to admission Members have to sign a Declaration identical in terms with that of the R.I.B.A. The Annual General Meeting is held in January, and Ordinary General Meetings are held at such times and places as the Council appoint. Special Meetings may be called by the Council or on the requisition of members. Professional practice as to charges is regulated by a printed schedule based upon that of the R.I.B.A.

NORTHERN ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION.

[Province: Northumberland, Cumberland, and Durham.
Centre: Newcastle.]

Hon. Secretary.

H. L. Hicks [d.], 6 Higham Place, Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

The Northern Architectural Association was founded in 1858, and the rules and constitution were revised in 1885, and again in 1911. The objects of the Association, as stated in the new rules, are to promote union amongst the members; the elevation of the profession of Architecture; the establishment of uniformity of practice and professional charges; and the general advancement of the art and science of Architecture. There are 214 members in the Association, consisting of four classes, viz.: Members—architects in practice as principals, or as town or county architects, who have so practised for not less than three consecutive years immediately preceding their nomination; Associates—architects not yet eligible as Members, or assistants (over twenty-one years of age) in the offices of gentlemen eligible as Members or Associates; Students—persons engaged in the study of Architecture in the offices of gentlemen eligible as Members or Associates, and not exceeding the age of twenty-one years, except when they are still pupils and exceed that age; and Honorary Members—gentlemen eminent for distinguished attainments recommended by the Council. Members and Associates only have the right to vote. Under the Glover Trust the Council offer Prizes in books of the following value during the Session :—

(1) Prize of Two Guineas (age limit 25 years) and Prize of Two Guineas (age limit 21 years) for Measured Drawings of existing work.

(2) Prize of Two Guineas (age limit 25 years) and Prize of Two Guineas (age limit 21 years) for Architectural Sketches made from and finished at the actual building.

(3) The Glover Travelling Studentship, the Glover Medal, and a Prize of Ten Guineas open to Students or Associates for Architectural Study in the United Kingdom.

The Council also offer Prizes in books of the following value :—

(4) First Prize of Two Guineas and Second Prize of One Guinea for a Design for the Interior of an Entrance Hall and Staircase for a Town Hall.

(5) First Prize of Two Guineas and Second Prize of One Guinea for the best Historical Description of any one, two, or three of the Pre-Reformation Churches of Tyne-side.

There is a Students' Sketching Club and Class in connection with the Association, and a library. The session commences in November; and meetings, at which Papers are read and professional questions discussed, are held in each month up to and including March of the following year. The Annual General Meeting is held in March.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN NEWCASTLE.

ARMSTRONG COLLEGE, NEWCASTLE.—The new and thoroughly equipped building for the accommodation of the Art Department (known as the King Edward VII. School of Art) affords increased facilities for the study of Architecture. The accommodation includes a lecture room, a library and an exhibition gallery; classrooms and studios specially fitted for work in connection with Architecture, painting, sculpture, and the arts and crafts of stone carving, woodwork, metal work, stained glass, enamelling, printing, etc. Two large studios are set apart for the use of the Architectural section under the supervision of Mr. F. N. Weightman [Licentiate], with Mr. W. H. Knowles, F.S.A. [F.], Mr. Arthur B. Plummer [F.], and Mr. H. C. Charlewood [F.], as Honorary Visiting Architects. Classes are provided as follows:—

(a.) Evening class for students in architects' offices ■ pupils or assistants—Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

(b.) Day class for students who can devote additional time to study—Tuesday and Thursday.

The course of instruction is arranged in preparation for the R.I.B.A. Examinations.

Studio work forms an important part of the course of study, which includes exercises in the orders and other elements of Architecture; sciography and perspective; measuring examples under guidance and instruction; lectures on Architectural history and form. Design subjects are set and worked out. The studios are available at all times for students who wish to prepare their testimonies of study for the R.I.B.A. Examinations under advice and guidance. Students can also work out the design subjects for the R.I.B.A. Final Examination. Architectural students are advised to take a supplementary course in drawing, modelling, "life" drawing, and general art study.

The College also provides instruction by means of lectures and classes in geometrical drawing, mathematics, mechanics, surveying, practical and theoretical plumbing.

ROTTERFORD TECHNICAL COLLEGE AND SCHOOL OF ART, NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE.—An organised course of study is provided as follows:—

First Year.—Building Construction; Practical Mathematics; Solid Geometry.

Second Year.—Building Construction; Practical Mathematics; Applied Mechanics; Carpentry and Joinery.

Third Year.—Building Construction, with Carpentry and Joinery; Graphics; Geometry; Architectural Drawing.

Fourth Year.—Building Construction; Architectural Drawing; History of Architecture; Land Surveying; Mechanics of Structures; Buildings (special lectures); Geometry.

Fifth Year.—Building Construction (Design of Steel and Masonry Buildings or Mechanics of Structures and Strength of Materials); Quantity Surveying; History of Architecture; Architectural Design; Land Surveying; or Geometry.

ELSWICK INSTITUTE TECHNICAL SCHOOL: Day and Evening Classes.—The Day Class Course extends over two years, and is arranged to meet the requirements of pupils intending to enter drawing offices or engineering shops. The Evening Classes are more advanced, and include courses in building construction, art, engineering, &c.—Mr. Henry Murray, Head Master.

NOTTINGHAM AND DERBY ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY.

[Province: Part of Nottinghamshire, and South Parts of Derbyshire and Lincolnshire, including Lincoln. Centre: Nottingham.]

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer:

Fred. H. Rayls. Licentiate R.I.B.A., A.M.Inst.C.E., Milton Chambers, Milton Street, Nottingham.

The Nottingham Architectural Society was instituted in 1862, and its rules were revised in the year 1910. The Derby Architectural Society was founded in 1908 and amalgamated with the Nottingham Society in 1913. The objects of the Society are the promotion of union and professional integrity among its several classes of members; the establishment as far as possible of uniformity of practice; and the general advancement of Architecture and the various arts and sciences con-needed therewith. The members consist of three classes, viz., Members—architects engaged as principals not less than two years; Associates—architects not eligible as Members, architects' assistants, and articled pupils; and Honorary Members—gentlemen distinguished for their attainments. Three General Meetings are held during the year, viz., in October, February, and April, besides Special General Meetings which may be convened at any time. The Annual General Meeting is held in April. Students' Competitions are held annually, and in addition the Council offer prizes for the best sets of measured drawings of any building of interest. Classical or Mediæval. The Society possesses an interesting and useful Library.

THE QUEENSLAND INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

Hon. Secretary.

Lango L. Powell, 289 Queen Street, Brisbane.

The Queensland Institute of Architects was founded in 1888, and its Rules and Regulations were revised in 1904, and again in 1910. The objects of the Institute are the advancement and elevation of architecture as an art; the promotion of friendly intercourse and maintenance of a uniform system of practice amongst its members; and the protection of the public against unqualified men. There are four classes of members—vis., Fellows, who must be architects who have been in regular or responsible official practice for not less than five years; Associates, who must be duly qualified architects who have been less than five years in practice, and architectural assistants over the age of twenty-one years who have been for five years actually engaged in the study of architecture in an architect's office; Students, who must be actually engaged in the study of architecture in an architect's office; Honorary Members, who must be persons who have distinguished themselves by their researches or practice in science, literature, or art. The Annual General Meeting is held in January, and General Meetings are held in October, January, April and July.

SHEFFIELD, SOUTH YORKSHIRE AND DISTRICT ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY.

The University, Sheffield.

[Province: Derbyshire, Northern Lancashire, and part of South Yorkshire. Centre: Sheffield.]

Hon. Secretary:

James H. Wigfull (A.), 14 Parade Chambers, East Parade, Sheffield.

The Sheffield, South Yorkshire and District Architectural Society was founded in 1886 for the advancement of the profession of architect and surveyor; for promoting and facilitating the acquisition of a knowledge of the various arts and sciences connected therewith, and the education of the junior members thereof; and for the consideration of questions of professional practice. The members consist of five classes:—Fellows, Associates, Students, Honorary Members, and Lay Members. The Fellows are practitioners who have been engaged as principals for not less than five years in their professions; the Associates are principals

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN SHEFFIELD.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SHEFFIELD (DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE).

Lecturer: W. S. PARCHON, M.A. (A).—Assistant Lecturer: J. M. JENKINSON (A).—History of Ancient Art: E. S. FORMER, M.A., F.S.A.—Structures in Architectural Ornament: A. C. C. JAHN, A.R.C.A., and staff of Technical School of Art.

Hon. Lecturers for Evening Courses:—English Medieeval, G. P. INNOCENT (A.); J. R. WIGFALL (A.); J. B. MITCHELL-WITHERS (F.).—Italian Architecture: H. L. PATERSON (A.).

This Department was founded in the desire of the Sheffield Society of Architects and Surveyors, which is associated with the Council and Senate of the University in its management. The following particulars are extracted from the University Calendar:—

The Department provides:—1st, A Course leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts with Honours in Architecture; this consists of a three years' Day Course and two years' part time Course.—2nd, A Certificate Course consisting of a two years' Day Course and a third year part time Course.—3rd, A Diploma Course: this is a two years' part time course following the Certificate Course.—4th, Special Evening Courses in Architectural Drawing, and the History of Architecture.—5th, Courses in Surveying.

The Day Courses give a systematic course of training for students wishing to become Architects, to be taken by them before entering an Architect's office, though not necessarily before they are articled. The part time Courses (consisting principally of evening lectures) form a continuous course of study for students during their pupilage, and also for qualified assistants.

All the Courses are open to those who are already in Architects' or Surveyors' offices. Students who are unable to take a complete course may, by arrangement, attend any part or parts of the Course approved by the Lecturer.

The University grants the Degree of Bachelor of Arts with Honours in Architecture to students who have attended the Three Years' Day Course and the Two Years' part Day and part Evening Course, and who have complied with the regulations for the Honours School of Architecture. First and Second Class Certificates are awarded to students who have attended the Two Years' Day Course, and the Third Year part Day and part Evening Course, and have passed the prescribed examinations. Diplomas are awarded to students who have taken the Two Years' Day Course and the Three Years' part Day and part Evening Courses, and who have complied with the regulations for the diploma.

* The asterisk (*) denotes a Licentiate R.I.B.A.

The Courses are adapted to the requirements of the Examinations of the Royal Institute of British Architects. Subject to the approval of the Council of the Royal Institute of British Architects, exemption from the R.I.B.A. Intermediate Examination will be granted to students of the University of Sheffield who obtain the First Class Certificate.

The Lecturer is assisted in the work and supervision of the Advanced Courses by leading members of the architectural profession in the city, and in the Two Years' Day Course by members of the staffs of the Faculties of Arts, Pure Science, and Applied Science, and of the Technical School of Art.

Students attending the courses must be 16 years of age. Students should not commence their technical training until they have acquired a good general education. Students proceeding to a degree must first have passed the Matriculation Examination of the Joint Board. Other students are very strongly recommended to matriculate, taking Physics and Chemistry as optional subjects in the Matriculation Examination. Candidates for the Certificate and Diploma who have not passed the Matriculation Examination of the Joint Board or some equivalent Examination, may be required to satisfy the Faculty of Arts that they are qualified to profit by the Course.

A Preliminary Year Course has been arranged to meet the requirements—(1) Of the R.I.B.A. Preliminary Examination; (2) Of students desiring to pass the Matriculation Examination; (3) Of those students whose previous training has not been such as to enable them to follow with advantage the instruction given in the Two Years' Day Course.

Homework. Students are expected to undertake a course of reading, and to answer papers which are set at intervals.

Vacation Work.—Arrangements are made to enable the students to sketch and measure suitable buildings of architectural interest during one week of the Easter Vacation and four weeks of the Summer Vacation. Students in the last three years of the Degree Course and in the Certificate Course must attend two vacation Courses, of which one at least must be a Summer Vacation Course. Candidates for the Degree or the Diploma must attend two of these Courses, of which one at least must be a Summer Course in addition to those they attended during the first three years.

In addition to access to the University Library, students have the use of the Library of the Sheffield Society of Architects and Surveyors, which, together with current numbers of the principal architectural periodicals, is kept in the Architectural Room. This Department is adequately equipped with samples of materials, models of construction and casts of ornament, etc.

Students are eligible for election as student members of the Sheffield Society of Architects and Surveyors.

PRELIMINARY YEAR COURSE.—English Literature; History; Mathematics; Greek, Latin, French or German; Physics; Chemistry; Drawing of Ornament from the Round; Drawings suitable for submission for exemption from R.I.B.A. Preliminary Examination will be prepared; Model Drawing; Descriptive Geometry, Plane and Solid Geometry and Graphic Statics.

DEGREE COURSE.

First Year.—Honours Students in Architecture will be required to take the Intermediate Examination in Arts in the following subjects:—(1) Latin; (2) English or French or German, or one of the other languages recognised under Section IV. of the subjects of the Ordinary Intermediate; (3) Ancient or Medieval or Modern History; (4) History of Architecture; (5) Mathematics (Pure or Pure and Applied).

Second Year.—Descriptive Geometry; Laboratory Course in Mechanics including Testing Materials; Chemistry of Building Materials; Applied Construction; History of Architecture (Ancient Architecture and Italian Renaissance Architecture); History of Ancient Art; Architectural Drawing. OUTDOOR WORK.—Visits to Buildings in course of erection and to Workshops. Sketching and measuring details of Buildings of architectural interest.

Third Year.—Architectural Features and Design; Theoretical Construction; Applied Construction; English Architecture; Architectural Drawing. OUTDOOR WORK.—Visits to Buildings in course of erection and to Workshops. Sketching and measuring details of Buildings of architectural interest.

Fourth Year.—Design and the Principles of Architecture; Theoretical Construction and Construction in Steel, etc.; Sanitation. OUTDOOR WORK.—Visits to Buildings in course of erection and to Workshops. Sketching and measuring details of Buildings of architectural interest.

Fifth Year.—Design; Applied Construction and Materials; Specifications, Estimating, and Professional Practice. Studio and Outdoor Work.

CERTIFICATE COURSE

First Year.—Descriptive Geometry; Elementary Mechanics; Applied Construction; Architectural Drawing; Ancient History. Outdoor Work.

Second Year.—Theoretical Construction; Applied Construction; Laboratory Course in Mechanics, including Testing Materials; Chemistry of Building Materials; History of Architecture; Architectural Drawing; Medieval and Modern History.—Outdoor Work.

Third Year.—Architectural Features and Design; Applied Construction and Materials; English Architecture.—Studio and Outdoor Work.

DIPLOMA COURSE.—The Courses for the Diploma (Fourth and Fifth Year) are the same as those given for the Degree (Fourth and Fifth Year).

SPECIAL EVENING COURSES.—Architectural Drawing; History of Architecture; A Course of ten lectures on the History of Architectural Development.

Surveying.—Courses in Surveying have been arranged in consultation with the Sheffield Society of Architects and Surveyors. The complete scheme will consist of a Three Years' Day Course, but arrangements may be made by which the third year work may be taken as a two years part-time course.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

(INCORPORATED.)

North Terrace, Adelaide.

Hon. Secretary

L. Laybourn-Smith, B.Sc., North Terrace, Adelaide.

The South Australian Institute of Architects, founded in 1883 and incorporated in 1890, was admitted to alliance with the Royal Institute in 1912. The objects of the Institute are:—The diffusion of architectural knowledge and the promotion of friendly intercourse and maintenance of a uniform system of practice among the members.

There are three classes of members: Fellows, Associates, and Honorary Members. Fellows must have attained the age of 25 years, and practised as principals for at least three years. Associates must be not less than 21 years of age and have served ~~the~~ least three years' articles to a practitioner approved by the Institute and have passed such examinations as may be required by the Council. Under the new rules contemplated by the South Australian Institute, the articles of apprenticeship of pupils in its district will have ~~be~~ be registered with the Institute, and the date of registration will be taken ~~as~~ the date of commencement of apprenticeship. No articles will be registered until the pupil has passed the Junior Public Examination of the University, or its equivalent. Candidates for Associateship must submit Testimonies of Study required by the R.I.B.A., and pass an examination following the lines of the R.I.B.A. Intermediate and Final. The Annual General Meeting is held in October.

THE SOUTH WALES INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

(Province: Glamorgan, Brecknock, Radnor, Cardigan, Pembroke, Carmarthen, and Monmouth. Centre: Cardiff.)

Hon. Secretary :

J. A. Sant [Licentiate], 1 St. John's Square, Cardiff.

The South Wales Institute of Architects was founded in 1890. The objects of the Institute are—To advance the Art and Profession of Architecture; to consider questions of professional practice; to promote and afford facilities for the study of architecture; and to serve as a medium of friendly communication between the members and others interested in the progress of architecture. The Institute consists of Members, Associates, Honorary Members, and Lay Members. Members must be practising architects, not combining any other business with their profession of architecture except those of land and quantity surveying, land agency and valuing, and civil engineering, and must either have served articles to architects of recognised qualifications, or be members of the Royal Institute of British Architects, unless the Council see reason to relax the rule in any special case. Associates of the Institute must be architects' assistants or pupils who have served or are under articles to qualified architects, unless the Council see reason to relax the rule in any special case. Hon. Members must be gentlemen distinguished as Patrons of the Arts and Sciences and for their acquaintance therewith, or as Painters, Sculptors, Architects, Engineers, and Scientists. Lay Members must be gentlemen interested in Architecture or Surveying, but not practising either or following any of the building trades. The Council meet for the transaction of business whenever necessary, meetings being convened by the Hon. Secretary.

The Institute offer prizes from time to time, to be competed for by Associates, for the best specimens of work done in sketching, measuring, and designing.

ROYAL VICTORIAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS (INCORPORATED.)

57-59 Swanston Street, Melbourne.

Hon. Secretary

John Little, Collins House, Collins Street, Melbourne.

The Royal Victorian Institute of Architects was founded in 1871, and incorporated under the Statutes of the Parliament of Victoria, Nos. 100 and 704, in 1890. Its objects are the advancement, protection, and elevation of Architecture as an art, and the cultivation of friendly intercourse between members. The Institute consists of Life Fellows, Fellows, Associates, and Honorary Fellows. Life Fellows are architects elected by the Institute for eminent services rendered to the Institute. Fellows are architects who have attained the age of thirty years, and have served articles for at least three years to a recognised practitioner, or have satisfied the Council as to their qualifications and have been engaged as principals for at least ten years in the practice of Architecture, and have erected buildings of sufficient importance in the judgment of the Council. The Institute has power to declare that every person desiring to be admitted as a Fellow shall be required to have passed such examination or examinations as may be directed by the Institute. Honorary Fellows are gentlemen not practising as architects, and distinguished by scientific, artistic, or literary attainments. Associates must be persons engaged in the study or practice of Architecture who have attained the age of twenty-one years, and have served at least four years' articles, or otherwise can satisfy the Council as to training, and who have passed such examination or examinations as the Institute may direct. In special cases the Council have power to dispense with such Examination. Associates of the Royal Institute of British Architects, or of any other incorporated Association of Architects which the Council may from time to time recognise as upholding a sufficiently high standard of membership, may be admitted to ballot without being required to pass an examination. The Institute has power to hold examinations at such times and places within the State of Victoria, or elsewhere, and in such a manner, as the Council may determine. The Institute has power to grant diplomas or certificates in connection with examinations as the Council may prescribe.

WEST AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.
(INCORPORATED.)

Samson's Buildings, Barrack Street, Perth, Western Australia.

Hon. Secretary:

William A. Nelson, Commercial Bank Chambers, St. George's Terrace, Perth.

The West Australian Institute of Architects was founded in 1892, incorporated in 1902, and admitted to alliance with the Royal Institute in 1910. The objects for which the Institute is established are: The study and cultivation of the ~~science~~ and art of Architecture; advancing, protecting, and elevating the practice of it in its several branches; and the cultivation of friendly intercourse between the Members of the Institute. The Institute consists of Life Fellows, Fellows, Associates, and Honorary Fellows. Life Fellows are elected for eminent services rendered to the Institute. Fellows are architects who have attained the age of thirty years, and have served articles for at least three years to a recognised practitioner, or otherwise have satisfied the Council as to their qualifications, and who have been engaged as principals for at least seven years in the practice of Architecture, and have erected buildings of sufficient importance in the judgment of the Council. The Institute has power to declare that every person desiring to be admitted a Fellow shall be required to have passed an examination or examinations directed by the Institute. Honorary Fellows are gentlemen not practising as architects, who are eminently distinguished by scientific, artistic, or literary attainments. Associates are persons engaged in the study or practice of Architecture who have attained the age of twenty-one years, and have served at least four years' articles to a recognised practitioner, and have passed such examination or examinations as may be directed by the Institute, according to a standard fixed from time to time by the Council. Associates of the Royal Institute of British Architects, or of any other incorporated Association of Architects, which the Council may from time to time recognise as upholding a sufficiently high standard of qualification, may be admitted to ballot without being required to pass an examination. Examinations may be held at such times and places within the State of West Australia, or elsewhere, and in such a manner, as the Council may determine. The Institute has power to grant diplomas or certificates in connection with examinations or otherwise in such manner as the Council may prescribe.

The official journal of the Institute is "The Salon," which is published bi-monthly. This journal is also the organ of the New South Wales Institute of Architects and of the Queensland Institute.

Hon. Secretary:

E. F. Ronald Sample, Grosvenor Terrace, Bootham, York.

The York and East Yorkshire Architectural Society was founded in 1882, the objects being to afford facilities for the study of Architecture, sanitary engineering, and other subjects identified with the architectural profession; and to advance the professional interests of the members. It is endeavoured to carry out these objects by means of (1) Papers and discussions upon all subjects and questions connected directly and indirectly with Architecture; (2) The preservation of ancient and historical architectural monuments and buildings; (3) The advancement and encouragement of professional knowledge and study in the younger members of the profession by the foundation of classes for study and the award of prizes for satisfactory work, visits to works in progress, and to buildings ancient and modern; sketching, and such other methods as may be determined from time to time. Further, by supporting and protecting the character and uniformity of practice of the profession, and promoting personal acquaintance and good feeling between the members, and honourable conduct in the profession generally. The members consist of three classes, viz., Fellows—architects who have been in practice more than two years, or hold chief public appointments; Associates—students of Architecture, assistants, or others in the profession who are not eligible as Fellows; Honorary Members, those who have any direct or indirect interest in Architecture, or in some of the collateral arts and sciences. The Annual General Meeting is held in November.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN YORK.

YORK SCHOOL OF ARTS AND CRAFTS, ST. LEONARD'S PLACE.

ARCHITECTURAL DEPARTMENT.—Head Master : W. E. PARKINSON, A.R.C.A. Architectural Master : J. STEART SYME (Licentiate.)

A full ■■■■■ of architecture is provided at the above School for students who propose to become architects as well as for those who desire to study the subject in its relation to any of the other arts ■■ crafts. The course is planned to prepare students for the examinations of the R.I.B.A., but it includes also cognate subjects of interest to architectural students generally, in addition to the requirements of these examinations. The studies of students comprise both Elementary and Advanced work.

The Elementary work includes the following: Drawing from the round, Geometry, Perspective, Lettering, and Architectural Drawing.

Advanced work includes:—Lectures ■■ the History of Architecture, viz.: Greek, Roman, Byzantine, Romanesque, Gothic (English and French), and Renaissance (Italian, French and English). Students are required to draw examples of the various periods dealt with, and ■■ write and illustrate short essays on the same.

Architectural Design: Practical and Theoretical.—Subjects set for the students to work out are arranged to suit the extent of their study and experience, and are chosen with a view to furthering a knowledge of composition and architectural form while illustrating problems met with in actual work. Lectures are given on the relation of construction and design, the artistic use of material, and other general principles.

The following subjects are also included in the complete architectural course:—Architectural Perspective and Scenography, Drawing from the antique and the life, Modelling, History and Principles of Ornament, Craft Work, including wood and stone carving, metal work, jewellery and enamelling, &c.

* The asterisk (*) denotes a Licentiate R.I.B.A.

Building construction and cognate subjects are included in the syllabus of the Technical School and are correlated to the architectural course in this School.

The course also includes sketching and measurement of existing examples of the various styles of architecture to be found in the vicinity, with special reference to the study of mouldings and distinctive features and ornament of the various periods.

Architectural Design.—Subjects are set for the students to work out according to their experience and length of time they have been following the study of Architecture, and the work deals with problems such as occur in actual practice. Short lectures on the artistic uses of material and the general principles of architectural design are given.

Architectural History.—Lectures are given on the History of Architecture: Greek, Roman, English, Gothic, Ecclesiastical, and Domestic, Byzantine, English and Italian Renaissance. The students are required to draw the various details and examples dealt with, and, in addition, to write and illustrate short essays on the work, which will be criticised by the architectural master. Sketching and measurement of existing examples of Architecture, and the special study of mouldings and ornament in the different styles of Architecture to be found in the vicinity, are included in the course, together with General Art Work, Freehand Drawing, Geometry, Perspective, Modelling, Decorative Design, and Craft Work. Mr. J. H. Mason, Secretary, Education Offices, York.

ARCHITECTURAL EDUCATION.

THE Royal Institute of British Architects desires to obtain for all those entering the profession a systematic course of education tested by progressive examinations, the passing of which forms the primary qualification for admission to its class of Associates. By careful preparation on the proper lines, a youth, even before entering an office, may acquire enough of the rudiments of professional education to submit to an examination testing his capacity for the career of an architect; and if he pass it, he may then follow a continuous series of studies, in accordance with a definite programme, thereby laying a foundation of artistic and scientific knowledge upon which to cultivate any natural gifts and develop any aptitude for invention or design he may possess.

V. EXAMINATIONS.

30. Examinations by or under this Charter or which the Royal Institute now is or may hereafter be empowered or required by Statute to hold and such other Examination or Examinations as the Royal Institute may from time to time think fit to establish shall be held at such times and places within the United Kingdom or India or any Colony or Dependency of the United Kingdom and in such manner as the Council may from time to time determine.

31. The Royal Institute shall have power to grant such Diplomas or Certificates in connection with Examinations or otherwise in such manner as By-laws may from time to time prescribe.

Extract from Supplemental Charter 1909.

4. Subject to the By-laws for the time being the Council shall formulate and from time to time alter and amend a scheme or curriculum for education in architecture and may appoint in relation thereto such boards or committees (whether or not consisting wholly of members of the Royal Institute) as may from time to time be prescribed by By-laws and the Council may apply the funds of the Royal Institute in making provision for and furthering and developing any such scheme or curriculum and in providing for lectures or teaching and for the holding of examinations in accordance therewith and for granting certificates in connection therewith and (subject to such exemptions as may be allowed by or in accordance with the By-laws) no person shall in or after the year One thousand nine hundred and thirteen become entitled to admission to the Final Examination for Associateship of the Royal Institute unless he shall have passed through a course of study under or in accordance with such scheme or curriculum and shall have passed such examinations in relation to the subjects comprised in that course of study as shall from time to time be prescribed by or in accordance with the By-laws.

Extract from By-laws.

V. EDUCATION AND EXAMINATION IN ARCHITECTURE.

45. The Council shall annually appoint a Board of Architectural Education to deal with the education of students in architecture, and to conduct by Examiners approved by the Council such examinations as are required by the Royal Institute under the provisions of any Act of Parliament or of the Charter and By-laws. The Board shall not exceed twenty-one in number, inclusive of the President, who shall be an ex-officio member, and shall consist of such subscribing members of the Royal Institute and such other persons as the Council may invite. The Council may on the advice of the Board invite other representative persons to act as advisory members of such Board. The Board shall have power to elect its own officers from its members and to draw up regulations for its procedure. The Board may conduct its ~~own~~ correspondence, but shall take no public action nor incur any pecuniary responsibility. The Board shall submit any scheme they may devise for education and examination to the Council for their consideration; and if and when the Council shall approve such scheme the Board shall have the supervision thereof, and shall annually report ~~on~~ the Council thereon, and may submit any suggestions for variations thereof to the Council for their consideration.

The scheme adopted by the Council and any variation thereof adopted by the Council from time to time shall be forthwith published in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute. No such variation shall in any way prejudice any student in respect to any work done by him under the scheme existing previous to such variation.

Every student who has passed the examination for that grade instituted or to be instituted by the Royal Institute, and shall have satisfied such other requirements as the Council may from time to time prescribe as applying to students, shall be entitled to be registered as Student of the Royal Institute of British Architects subject to such conditions and to such restrictions as to continuance as the Council may determine, and a Register shall be kept setting forth the Students' names in the chronological order in which they have passed.

In regard to preliminary education, it is recommended that satisfactory evidence of general education, and of some capacity in drawing, should be produced by intending students.

In regard to the duration of the course, it is recommended that the total course should occupy at least four years—two or three years' preliminary work in the schools, followed by work in an architect's office, either as pupil, improver or assistant; that the training in schools should continue during the term in an architect's office, and that the student's training should be kept under supervision by the Board or its delegates during the whole term; that certificates be granted to students at the end of the course in consideration of their satisfactory progress and capacity, as proved by their work in the schools attested by their teachers, and by a study embodying some architectural project, to include working drawings and specifications, and also ~~an~~ analytical account of the nature and intention of the architectural project. The complete study to be submitted to the Board of Architectural Education or to delegates appointed by the Board. It is further suggested that the certificate should be endorsed by the architect in whose office the student has worked.

In regard to the syllabus of training it is recommended that this, ~~as~~ far as possible, be uniform for the various schools, and be governed by the principle that construction is the basis of architecture, and its correlative principle that architecture is the interpretation of construction into forms of æsthetic value. The student should therefore be thoroughly trained in construction—the problems in the first instance being elementary, and becoming more intricate ~~as~~ the student advances, the object being to familiarise the student with the actual facts of building, and to train him to ~~use~~ his brains in dealing with building. In order to furnish the student with materials on which his mind can work by analogy, he should be introduced to examples of architectural form which illustrate the solution of building problems in the past. The genesis of these forms in constructional and social conditions should be explained to him, and he should be taught to understand that legitimate architectural form is the result of the application of the intelligence to actual and specific problems. The teaching of design and the history of architecture should be undertaken in the preliminary course from this point of view, rather than from the point of view of archaeology, and it will be necessary to teach him so much of the theoretical basis of construction as will enable him to work out constructional problems. Mathematics and applied science should also be included.

Drawing, as the vehicle of architectural expression, should be cultivated through the whole course of study, all the courses to include geometrical, freehand, and perspective drawing, and sciography. It is recommended that the aim of the drawing taught in the architectural school should be to enable the student to put his ideas on paper, and to record his observations of existing work freely and accurately. Study from the life is very desirable in order to improve the student's draughtsmanship; if a competent teacher can be found, but it should be borne in mind that the object of this training is to produce not a painter, but an architect.

Generally the object of the course should be to concentrate his attention not so much upon paper work as on the actual facts of the problems which he will have to encounter in practice. The student should be taught that it is the architect's province to see that his construction is not only scientifically sound, but also aesthetically expressive. He should therefore be trained from the first in the selection of form, and in the study of mass and proportion.

The following subjects are recommended as all that are necessary for the course of training in the schools (see detailed syllabus below) :—

- I. The nature and property of building materials.
- II. Construction, including (a) applied mechanics and mathematics in so far as they are necessary to the solution of problems of construction; (b) the practical methods of the building trades.
- III. Architectural drawing.
- IV. The study of architectural forms that have been evolved in the architecture of the past out of constructional necessities, and exercises in the design of construction to meet definite problems.
- V. The study of the history of architecture in so far as it illustrates and explains the evolution of architecture through constructional material and social conditions.

Training in the workshop as supplementary to the course in the schools is desirable and should take the shape of demonstration in the actual materials so far as possible, and, where the dimensions render this impracticable, of demonstration in model materials to scale. Students should take every opportunity of visiting buildings in course of construction.

THE SYLLABUS.

I. Building materials, the nature and properties of sand, lime, and cement; the composition of mortar and concrete and their application; the qualities of brick, stone, tile, slates, timber, illustrated by specimens; their right use in construction as limited by their respective properties.

II. Construction, simple foundations, the behaviour of various kinds of soils under pressure, and the safe loads in relation to area that can be placed on them; simple subsoil drainage, footings, brickwork, including the various bonds in walls, flues, and fireplaces; arches, the operation of thrust in arches and methods of counteracting it, buttresses and counterweight, varieties of simple masonry, composite construction of brick and stone, plain carpentry, floors, partitions, roofs and their coverings, simple joinery, plastering, plumbing, painting, and glazing.

Applied mechanics, strictly in practical relation to construction; e.g., the concentration of loads on points of support, the effect on beams of concentrated and distributed loads, the triangle and polygon of forces, with simple exercises in graphic statics.

III. Architectural drawing, the preparation of working drawings, solid geometry, with special reference to the setting out of masonry, the properties of the cone, the cylinder, prism, sphere, their sections, projections, and interpenetrations, geometrical projection, sciography, and perspective. The student should from the first be encouraged to supplement his studies by freehand sketches in the nature of marginal notes, in order that he may realise for himself the shape and form of his constructional details, and so that he can imagine his building as a whole.

Students should also be taught to measure and draw standard examples of architecture, and attention should be given to their training in freehand drawing.

IV. The teaching of design should deal with the solution of easy constructional problems in specified materials, proceeding to more advanced but simple exercises, such, for instance, as the various methods of covering a given space for a given purpose. In such exercises the student should be taught to aim at the best practical use of material and at simple forms without attempting the introduction of ornament or the direct copying of known examples and the reproduction of known phases of historical styles.

V. The teaching of the history of architecture should be supplemental to and elucidatory of the study of construction. The student should be familiarised with historical examples of the methods of architecture in order that his mind may have something to work upon and some clue to follow. The introductory course should therefore include lectures showing the growth of architecture through constructional and actual necessities, the use of the lintel, the column, the arch, the dome and vaulting, the modifications due to conditions of place and materials, the rise and development of historical schools of building, together with studies of individual buildings considered as examples of actual methods of dealing with difficulties of construction. In lectures on the history of architecture the attention of the student should be directed to the historical development of plan and construction in the successive periods of architecture, rather than to accidents of style, which at this stage need not be considered, except in so far as they express or illustrate points of construction. Short written studies to be corrected by the teacher are recommended as a means of training the student in clear thought and logical expression.

The study of materials, construction, and applied mechanics should, so far as possible, be supplemented by practical demonstrations and visits to buildings, in order that the student may be familiarised with the materials of construction and the various processes of the building trades.

Each architectural school should be provided with specimen materials and models of details of construction and of buildings which are indispensable to their proper equipment.

The advanced course would be taken during the term of training in an architect's office. The studies would be in continuation of those undertaken in the introductory course, but the student's attention should now be drawn to more complex problems of construction and design. The following subjects are recommended for the advanced course:-

F.—The further study of materials, including iron and steel, their properties and application, strength, weight, and preservation. The further study of construction, to include foundations in bad ground, retaining walls, inverted arches, subsoil drainage, drains and sewers, brickwork and masonry of all kinds, skew-arches, stone stairs, and their setting out, vaults and domes. Fire-resisting construction, shoring and underpinning, and methods of dealing with dangerous structures, centering, concrete construction, including concrete domes and vaulting, methods of forming built-up girders and stanchions in steel and iron, trussed steel and iron construction, methods of constructing wooden spires, domes, cupolas and lanterns, advanced joinery of staircases and the like; plumbing, hot and cold water supply, heating and ventilation, methods of ventilating drains and sewers, and electric light installations.

II*.—(a) Designs to specified programmes, e.g. domestic buildings, farm buildings, schools, churches, hospitals, municipal buildings: (b) schemes for the laying out of streets, squares, public spaces, parks and gardens.

It is recommended that designs in class (a) should be carried through as complete schemes to scale with details, specifications, and report.

The student's attention should be particularly directed to the study of scale and proportion, and the spacing and disposition of buildings and parts of buildings, rather than to the elaboration of details of ornament.

III*.—More advanced studies in the history of architecture. It is recommended that these should deal with such subjects as the development of specific schools of building, the analysis of various uses of materials and methods of construction exemplified in historical buildings, the critical study of proportion and composition. The student should be trained in the preparation of short written studies as recommended above.

IV*.—Architectural drawing of a more advanced kind. Where facilities exist for drawing from the antique and the life it is recommended that the student should avail himself of the instruction given under fully competent teachers. Such studies should not interfere with the time allotted to the subjects already enumerated.

V*. It is recommended that students should receive some training in modelling.

Such subjects as professional practice and building legislation should receive some attention, but these are more conveniently studied in an architect's office.

THE EXAMINATIONS,

QUALIFYING FOR REGISTRATION AS PROBATIONER AND STUDENT, AND FOR CANDIDATURE AS ASSOCIATE R.I.B.A.

The Examinations, qualifying for registration as Probationer and Student, and for candidature as Associate R.I.B.A. are in three stages: I. Preliminary [see p. 416]; II. Intermediate [see p. 419]; and III. Final [p. 423], qualifying for the grade of Probationer, Student, and Associate respectively.

I. The Preliminary Examination (Written and Graphic) is to test the general knowledge of candidates in ordinary subjects of school education, and subjects of a technical character, such as Elementary Mechanics and Physics, Geometrical Drawing, Perspective, and Freehand Drawing from the Round. Exemption from attending this Examination is granted to applicants who submit satisfactory drawings and certificates from well-known educational bodies. A candidate who is thus officially exempted or who passes the Preliminary Examination is registered as Probationer of the Royal Institute of British Architects'

II. The Intermediate Examination (Written, Graphic, and Oral) is to test the Probationer's progress in Architecture, while engaged as pupil, improver, or assistant in an office. During the period following his registration as a Probationer he has to prepare eight sheets of carefully finished drawings. If these "Testimonies of Study" be approved, and if he afterward pass the Intermediate Examination, he is registered as a Student of the Royal Institute of British Architects.

III. The Final Examination (Written, Graphic, and Oral) is to test the Student's further progress. The work to be done by the Student, and submitted by him before entering, necessitates good draughtsmanship and an acquaintance with executed works both ancient and modern, gained by actual measurement of them. It requires a knowledge of Design and of the practical details of Construction, which latter can be best obtained by personal experience of buildings in progress. If the Student pass, he becomes qualified for candidature as Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects, and receives notification thereof. In the event of any Student failing to submit himself for the Final Examination within four years of having passed the Intermediate, his name will be removed from the Register of Students, unless the Council are satisfied that good cause exists for allowing it to remain.

The Examinations are held by the Board of Architectural Education in June and November, or at such other times as may be appointed, and due notice thereof is given in the KALENDAR, the JOURNAL, and the Professional Papers.

The Testimonies of Study are examined by the Board, who decide whether an applicant shall be admitted.

The Board report to the Council the results of the Examinations, and the names of those who pass are published in the JOURNAL.

The Testimonies of Study are returned, but the drawings and answers produced during the Examinations are retained.

Moderators to superintend the Examinations are appointed by the Board. Their functions are to distribute the question papers; to take care that no assistance is given by one examinee to another, and that (except themselves) no persons hold communication with the examinees during the hours of examination; to allow no books to be used (except such as may be specially permitted); to verify the work produced in the room by each examinee; to see that the proper number is affixed thereto, and generally to see that the instructions of the Board are fulfilled.

[For particulars of the Special and Colonial Examinations, see pp. 448, 450; Examination of Licentiates, 451; Statutory Examinations, p. 452].

ADVICE TO CANDIDATES.

1. The Preliminary, qualifying for PROBATIONER.—The subjects comprised in this Examination are those in which proficiency should be attained by the applicant before entering an architect's office, and it is desirable that special attention be given to them before he leaves school.

Clear and well-formed handwriting, correct spelling, grammar, and punctuation are indispensable.

Powers of observation and of description, facility of composition and lucidity in the expression of ideas, should be sedulously cultivated, as being of the utmost value in the prosecution of further studies and in the work of later years.

Arithmetic, algebra, and plane geometry should be familiar to the applicant, and a knowledge of their application in the solution of simple problems in elementary mechanics and physics should be acquired.

Geography and History should be studied, regard being had to the connection between the history of a country and its Architecture.

A good knowledge of Latin or of one modern language is essential and of two modern languages very desirable. A clear understanding of the Continental metrical system will also be useful.

Geometrical drawing and the elements of perspective are indispensable subjects of study, and should receive particular attention; while freehand drawing with rapidity and precision from the east and the antique, and sketching with accuracy, should be carefully cultivated. Reasonable proficiency in these subjects is of the first importance.

II. The Intermediate qualifying for STUDENT.—The first aims of the Probationer should be to acquire facility and accuracy in the geometrical and perspective drawing of architectural subjects, and a knowledge of the principles of planning and construction in architectural design.

The course of study necessitates the continuous use of a notebook, in which important passages of the books under study should be written down in the Probationer's own words, and freely illustrated by careful sketches from all available sources (notes on one page, sketches on the opposite page); and the subjects, being systematically arranged, might be further illustrated by notes and sketches from other books and authorities. A sketch notebook—to be freely and continually used—should be the inseparable companion of the Probationer.

The drawing of set subjects from memory is a most useful exercise, impressing on the mind the general proportions and harmony of the several parts of the details. The art of accurately sketching plans, elevations, sections, features and details from memory, should therefore be sedulously cultivated. Such a system of study proves of the greatest service, not only at the time of examination, but afterwards in actual practice.

The study of the scientific subjects in the programme should be followed out in a similar manner, knowledge of details of construction being acquired, as far as possible, by actual measurement of work. Formulas for calculating the strength of beams, columns, &c., should be worked out, and the results compared with actual experiences. The careful study of plane geometry as applied to actual work, and the acquisition of a thorough knowledge of the projection of solids and development of surfaces, are essential.

The admission of the Probationer to the Intermediate Examination will depend on the satisfactory execution of the Testimonies of Study, which are not to be considered merely as samples of drawing, although good drawing is required, but should be evidence of study of the subject represented. In all cases where it is possible to obtain the information, the jointing of both wood and stonework must be shown. Any additional information as to materials used and methods of construction should be given, and attention be called by notes or sketches (or both) to any peculiarities, and the reason for them explained. Different kinds of materials may be indicated by colour. Wherever possible, the subjects illustrated must be from old examples, and should be measured from the actual building; when the example is copied from any published drawings, the authorities from which the information is obtained should be stated, and it is desirable to add the date of erection of the work. An inside as well as an outside elevation of a door or window should be shown; and when, in consequence of the size of the subject chosen, space will not admit of this, half the elevation may be outside and half inside, or, if the subject be very elaborate, half of each may be in block. It is recommended that the Orders should be from an actual building, in which case a column of not less than about 18 feet in height may be shown. Some mouldings full size should be given, and they may form a separate sheet or sheets, and, if necessary, may be on a double-elephant sheet, folded. All drawings of ornament should have a section showing the projection, and, if not full size, should be figured or have a scale. Where possible, information as to the given as to its source, position in the building, and material in which it is executed, and notes as to how these have influenced the design or execution. To show that the design has been studied, a small scale sketch (perspective or elevation), with plan and, if necessary, sections, which may be in skeleton only, may be added, so that the relation of the part shown to the whole design may be seen. The written memoir must be prepared with care and neatness, and the illustrative sketches be well and accurately drawn.

III. The Final, qualifying for candidature as ASSOCIATE.

The principles of study recommended for the Intermediate apply equally to the Final Examination.

Reading, to be of permanent value, should be supplemented by the taking of copious notes, fully illustrated by careful sketches, and by the collection of information under various heads from different authorities. Combined with the study of the best accessible examples of old work, the habit of accurately sketching Architecture in plan, elevation, detail, ornament, and construction, especially from memory, should be assiduously cultivated, eye, brain and hand being brought into common harmonious action.

When a knowledge of detail has been thoroughly acquired, the Student should take up the study of the general principles of design in both plan and elevation, and of the combination of parts to produce an effective and well-proportioned composition.

The Student should also master the principles and practice of the preparation of contract and working drawings and specifications, and of the control of actual work; he will thus qualify himself to deal with the ordinary and many of the difficult problems which arise in the designing and carrying out of modern buildings. He should miss no opportunity of visiting buildings in course of erection.

As in the Intermediate, the admission of the Student to the Final Examination will depend on the sufficiency and excellence of his Testimonies of Study; poor composition, careless or imperfect execution, lead to disqualification.*

The Student is urged to take every opportunity to consult standard works in the Library.

The Student having passed the "Final" will have shown himself to be possessed of a solid groundwork of knowledge, on which he may proceed with those more advanced studies in Design and Construction, proficiency in which will qualify him to engage in successful practice as an architect.

I. THE PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION:

To Qualify for Registration as Probationer R.I.B.A.

Examinations of persons intending to follow the profession of Architecture are held by the Royal Institute of British Architects, and some of the non-metropolitan societies allied to the Royal Institute, twice a year, in the months of June and November, in accordance with the particulars given on the official form † Except for those who have passed certain Examinations (hereinafter specified), this Preliminary Examination embraces the following subjects, particulars of which are given in the Time-table: I. Short English Composition. II. Writing from Dictation. III. Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elements of Plane Geometry. IV. Geography and History. V. Latin, Italian, French, or German: one language to be selected by the candidate. VI. Geometrical Drawing or Elements of Perspective, either subject to be selected by the candidate. VII. Freehand Drawing from the Round. VIII. Elementary Mechanics and Physics.

* For a further description of what is required in the Testimonies of Study, see preceding page.

† To be obtained at the Office of the Institute, and to be sent in on the dates specified in the ALMANAC, p. IV.

Persons preparing to follow the profession of Architecture who have passed any of the following Examinations :—The Matriculation Examination at any University in the British Empire, the Senior or Junior (Honours) Local Examinations conducted under the authority of any University in the British Empire, the School or Leaving Certificate of the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board, the Examinations held under the Central Welsh Board, the Examinations for the First Class Certificate of the College of Preceptors, the Senior or Junior School Examination or the Matriculation Examination of the University of London, or a Senior School Certificate or a School Certificate of the Joint Matriculation Board of the Universities of Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds, and Sheffield, or the School Certificate of the University of Bristol, or such other Examinations as may be satisfactory to the Board—are exempted from submitting themselves for examination in the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, and eighth subjects ; but Certificates of having passed such Examinations only exempt applicants in the subjects covered thereby.

Candidates who have obtained a success in any of the Board of Education Examinations in Art held in 1913, and subsequently, will be exempted from subjects VI. and VII.

Certificates, as follows, from the Board of Education, S. Kensington, are accepted as exempting from Subject VIII. :—

From Subject VIII.—A first class in the two Board of Education Examinations : Subject 6, Theoretical Mechanics, A, Div. 1, Solids ; B, Div. 2, Fluids—Stage 1.

An applicant claiming exemption from sitting in the first five and the eighth subjects, who submits, with his application and the evidence required in support of his claim for exemption, drawings (not exceeding four) which show his acquaintance with " Geometrical Drawing " or the " Elements of Perspective," and with " Freehand Drawing," will be further exempted from examination in the sixth and seventh subjects, should his drawings be considered satisfactory by the Board of Architectural Education.

All drawings submitted by applicants claiming exemption must be delivered flat, in a portfolio 30 inches by 22 inches.

The carriage of the certificates, drawings, &c., to and from the office of the Royal Institute, and all expenses incidental thereto, must be defrayed by the owners. They will be delivered on demand to any person authorised by the owner to receive them, but the Royal Institute will not incur any expense in returning them. Due care will be taken of such drawings, certificates, &c., but the Royal Institute will not be responsible for any loss of or damage to them while they remain in its keeping or are in transit from the Royal Institute. Partially exempted applicants are required to remove their certificates, drawings, &c., immediately after the Examination ; and those who are wholly exempted on receiving notice of such exemption. All drawings, certificates, &c., not removed within three months of the Examination will be destroyed.

Every applicant desirous of qualifying for Registration as Probationer R.I.B.A., whether he claim exemption from submitting himself for examination or not, must make an application on the official form, to be filled up as directed thereon, and to be accompanied by an admission fee of two guineas, which will be returned should the application be refused. If approved, the Secretary of the Royal Institute will communicate in due course with the applicant in reference to the place at which he is expected to attend for the Examination. In the case of applicants claiming exemption, the evidence they have to submit in support of the claim must accompany their applications." Applicants unsuccessful at their ~~first~~ sitting may present themselves at one subsequent Examination without further fee; should they then fail to pass, a fresh fee must be paid for each subsequent attempt. Relegated candidates who fail to obtain half marks at a subsequent examination will not be allowed to sit again for their relegated subjects only, but will be required to take the whole examination.

The Time-table for the Preliminary Examination to be held in London, and at ~~some~~ of the non-metropolitan centres in the United Kingdom, during November 1914 and June 1915 is as follows:—

TUESDAY, 24th November 1914 and 8th June 1915.

Hours. Division.

- 10.0-11.0. I. SHORT ENGLISH COMPOSITION.—Simple subjects will be given to test the candidate's powers of observation and description.
- 11.0-11.30. II. WRITING ~~AND~~ DICTATION.—A ~~short~~ passage from ~~some~~ standard English author will be given. Clear and well-formed writing, with accurate spelling and correct punctuation, should be aimed at.
- 11.30-1.30. III. ARITHMETIC, ALGEBRA, ~~AND~~ ELEMENTS OF PLANE GEOMETRY.—The questions in arithmetic will include the first four rules, simple and compound proportion, and vulgar ~~and~~ decimal fractions, and will include such ~~as~~ have a practical bearing on the candidate's future work. The Algebra will include the elementary rules, with simple equations, and the use of symbols and factors. In the Elements of Plane Geometry, a knowledge of the first two books of Euclid will be required, and of the subjects treated therein. For the benefit of candidates who have not studied the text of Euclid there will be set equivalent alternative questions on Practical and Theoretical Geometry. Every candidate intending to answer these must ~~be~~ provided with a ruler graduated in inches and tenths ~~of~~ an inch and in centimetres and millimetres, a small set square, a protractor, compasses furnished with a hard pencil point, and a hard pencil.
- 1.30-2.30. INTERVAL.
- 2.30-4.0. IV. GEOGRAPHY ~~AND~~ HISTORY.—Short questions will be ~~set~~ to test the candidate's knowledge of the geography of Europe, especially the British Isles, and of the prominent events in English History from the Norman Conquest to the end of the Tudor period.

The questions will not be such as to involve any trigonometrical calculations.

The number of marks allotted to each subject in the Examination is under consideration.

* * The Questions set in June 1914 are printed on p. 430 ff.

The results of these Examinations, whether held in London or in non-metropolitan centres, are reported to the Council by the Board of Architectural Education, who recommend as to the fitness of applicants for registration as Probationers, and return the names of those who pass in alphabetical order. On the approval by the Council of such recommendations, the name of every successful applicant is forthwith entered on the Register of Probationers of the Royal Institute of British Architects, and published in the JOURNAL; and he receives in due course a notification of his registration.

Every Probationer R.I.B.A. has the privilege of using the Library and Loan Collection of Books.

II. THE INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATION:

To Qualify for Registration as Student R.I.B.A.

Examinations (Written, Graphic, and Oral) of Probationers are held by the Royal Institute, and some of the non-Metropolitan Societies allied thereto, twice a year, in the months of June and November, in accordance with the particulars given on the official form.*

A Probationer R.I.B.A. who has attained the age of at least 19 years, and who is desirous of qualifying for registration as Student R.I.B.A., must make an application on the official form,* to be filled up as directed thereon; and to be accompanied by an admission fee of Three Guinea, which will be returned should the application be refused. He must also send with his application Testimonies of Study as hereinafter set forth, accompanied by a certificate from a member of the Royal Institute, or other person of recognised position, that the Probationer is a proper person to be admitted to this Examination, and that the Testimonies of Study he submits are his own work.†

The Examination, which is known as the Intermediate, embraces the following subjects:—

Two Papers on the Principal Styles and General History of Architecture, and the Purpose of Architectural Features in relation to the Buildings in which they occur.—Two Papers on Construction: 1. Simple

* To be obtained at the Office of the Institute, and to be sent in, with the Testimonies of Study, on the dates specified in the ALMANAC (p. 13).

† In order to test the Probationer's knowledge of what he has drawn and described in his "Testimonies of Study," they are brought up at the Oral Examination, when he is required to answer questions respecting them.

Applied Construction in Elementary Design and the Properties and Uses of Ordinary Building Materials; 2. Theoretical, including stresses and strains.—One Paper on one of the following subjects:—1. Historical Architecture—showing knowledge of one of the following periods, to be selected by the Candidate: (a) Greek and Roman; (b) Byzantine and Romanesque; (c) French and English Gothic; (d) Italian, French, and English Renaissance.—2. Mathematics and Mechanics—Algebra, up to and including the binomial theorem; The use of the Slide Rule; Plane Trigonometry, including the Solution of Triangles; Descriptive Geometry, including the Mensuration of simple Plane and Solid Figures; Simple Conic Sections treated geometrically; General Statics and Dynamics, including graphic statics; 3. Design—dealing with simple subjects.

Probationers who have attended the full course at the School of Architecture, University College, London, and obtained the First-class Certificate; or have attended the two years' course at King's College, London, and obtained the First-class Certificate; or have attended the full course in Architecture at the University of Liverpool, and obtained a First-class Certificate at the College Final Examination, or have obtained the Degree of Bachelor of Architecture at Liverpool University; or have obtained either a first class in the Terminal Certificate Examinations of the Final year or passed a University degree Examination in Architecture at the Victoria University, Manchester, or have obtained the Diploma or Senior Certificate of the Glasgow School of Architecture; or who, under certain conditions, have passed through the three years' course at the Architectural Association, London; or a two years' ~~course~~ at the Architectural Association followed by a two years' continuation course at the Royal Academy Schools; or have passed through the five years' course of the School of Architecture, Sheffield University, and obtained the degree of Bachelor of Arts with Honours in Architecture or the Diploma in Architecture, or have passed through the three years' course and obtained the First-class Certificate at the School of Architecture, Sheffield University; or have obtained the diploma of the combined ~~course~~ of instruction in Architecture at the Edinburgh College of Art and the Heriot Watt College, may ~~be~~ exempted from sitting for the Intermediate Examination and be admitted as Students R.I.B.A. on making a formal application and paying the fee of Three guineas, provided that the work done by them during the Session be submitted ~~in~~ and approved by the Board of Architectural Education as Testimonies of Study, or has been previously examined and approved by the External Examiners. [It is the desire of the Institute, as recommended by the Board of Architectural Education, that students within reach of the Universities and Schools above mentioned should avail themselves of the opportunities these institutions afford, and take up the architectural courses provided, rather than submit themselves for the examination without such recognized training.]

Students who can produce Certificates that they have passed with distinction through a full course of study (on lines similar to those now approved by the Institute) in Colonial or Foreign Schools of Architecture to the satisfaction of the respective Professors, may, at the discretion of the Board, be recommended to the Council for exemption from the Intermediate Examination. This privilege is also extended to the Students of the Architectural Schools at all Colonial or Foreign Universities.

Exemption from the following subjects of the Examination is granted to students who produce evidence of having passed approved Examinations in certain subjects in Schools of University rank, viz. : The Principal Styles and General History of Architecture, and the Purpose of Architectural Features in relation to the Buildings in which they occur : Theoretical Construction, including Stresses and Strains. Students who are thus exempted must submit Testimonies of Study as specified and must pass the Intermediate Examination in the following subjects, viz. : Simple Applied Construction in Elementary Design and the Properties and Uses of Ordinary Building Materials. Design : Dealing with Simple Subjects.

The 'Testimonies of Study' required from Probationers R.I.B.A. must consist of eight sheets of drawings (half double-elephant, i.e., 27 inches by 20 inches), neatly and carefully finished. The subjects of the eight sheets of drawings must be as follows :—

- 1 and 2. Two sheets, giving examples (one on each sheet) of any two of the Orders of Architecture here named—the Doric, the Ionic, or the Corinthian—drawn in outline, with the ornament and enrichments filled in; each sheet to contain two columns of one Order with entablature complete, drawn on scale (the columns being not less than 10 inches high on the paper), and details to three times the scale of the columns, with diagrams showing application to whole building.
3. One sheet of details of Classic Ornament from the round, or one sheet of Medieval Ornament—freeland drawing from the round.
- 4 and 5. Two sheets of measured drawings of an existing building, a portion of a building, to be selected by the candidate, with the plottings and sketches.

Probationers R.I.B.A. who are Architectural Students of the Royal Academy are permitted, in lieu of the Testimonies of Study Nos. 3 to 5 above specified, to submit for the approval of the Board of Architectural Education their work done in and for the Royal Academy School, provided that the drawings so submitted comprise studies applicable to paragraphs Nos. 4 and 5, whether prepared for the Royal Academy or otherwise.

- 6 One sheet containing diagram of timber-framed Roof Truss, not less than 30 feet span, with the nature of the strain on the several parts marked thereon, the ironwork and the junctions of the timbers drawn to a scale of $\frac{1}{4}$ inch and a half to the foot, in isometrical projection and disassociated.
- 7 One sheet showing the construction of Floors—Framed timber, combined iron and timber, and fire-resisting materials, suitable for a room 30 feet by 20 feet, drawn to a scale of half-inch to the foot.
- 8 One sheet of details of Joiner's Work in doors, windows, and fittings, shown in plan, elevation, and section, to a scale of one inch to the foot, with details to a large scale, of mouldings and framing.

. Each of the eight sheets must be carefully finished as a complete work and bear the name of the candidate. They must be delivered flat, in a portfolio 30 inches by 22 inches.

Drawings prepared in the Architectural Association Day School by Probationers R.I.B.A. may be submitted by such Probationers in lieu of the Testimonies of Study above set out, and if the work be approved by the Board, the candidates will be admitted to the Examination.

In order to test the Probationer's knowledge of what he has drawn and described in his 'Testimonies of Study,' they are brought up at the Oral Examination, when he is required to answer questions respecting them.

The carriage of the Testimonies of Study, &c., to and from the office of the Institute, and all expenses incidental thereto, must be defrayed by the candidate. They will be delivered on demand to any person authorised by the candidate to receive them, but the Royal Institute will not incur any expense in returning them. One ~~year~~ will be taken of such Testimonies of Study, &c., ~~and~~ the Royal Institute will not be responsible for any loss of or damage to them while they remain in its keeping or are in transit to or from the Royal Institute. All Relegated Candidates are required ~~to~~ bring their original Testimonies of Study to the Oral Examination.

Applicants unsuccessful at their first sitting may present themselves at one subsequent examination without further fee, should they then fail to pass, a fresh fee must be paid for each subsequent attempt.

The Intermediate Examination, ~~is~~ be held during November 1914 and June 1915, consists of Written, Graphical, and Oral Work. The time-table is as follows:—

Oral Examination on the various Papers and the Testimonies of Study.

N.B.—The Oral Examination at Provincial Centres will take place on Wednesday.

The number of marks to be allotted to each subject is under consideration.

*. * The Questions set in June 1914 are printed on p. 435 ff.

The results of these Examinations are reported to the Council by the Board of Architectural Education, who recommend ~~as~~ to the fitness of the candidates for admission as Students, and return the names of those who pass in order of merit. On the approval of such recommendations the successful candidates are registered as Students, and their names and addresses are published in the JOURNAL of the Royal Institute, and also in three issues of the KALENDAR following the registration.

In the event of any Student failing to pass the Final Examination within four years of having passed the Intermediate, his name will be removed from the Register of Students, unless the Council are satisfied that good cause exists for allowing it to remain.

Every Student R.I.B.A. has the privilege of using the Library and Loan Collection of Books, and of admission to the Ordinary Meetings of the Royal Institute; and on successfully passing the Final Examination (to be passed by Students who have attained the age of at least 21 years) he is qualified, subject to the provisions of Section 8 of the Charter, for candidature as Associate R.I.B.A.

" See p. 426 for a List of Books drawn up, and recommended to Students generally, by a Joint Committee of members of the Board of Architectural Education, of the Examiners, and of the Standing Committees of the Institute.

III. THE FINAL EXAMINATION.

To Qualify for Candidature as Associate R.I.B.A.

Examinations (Written, Graphic, and Oral) of Students of the Royal Institute of British Architects are held by the Royal Institute twice a year, in the months of June and December, in accordance with the particulars given on the official form to be obtained at the Institute.

A Student R.I.B.A. who has attained the age of at least 21 years, and who is desirous of qualifying for candidature as Associate R.I.B.A., must make an application on the official form, to be filled up as directed thereon, and to be accompanied by a remittance of Four Guineas, which will be returned should the application be refused. He must also send with his application four accepted Problems in Design, accompanied by a certificate from a ~~member~~ of the Royal Institute, or other person of recognised position, that the Student is a proper person to be admitted to this Examination.

Alternative Problems in Design, set for candidates by the Board of Architectural Education, will be published every six months in the JOURNAL of the Institute and the professional journals. Every candidate will be required to submit Designs in answer to at least four of these problems. The Designs, when they have been submitted to and approved by the Board, will be considered as qualifying the Student to enter for the Examination. The Designs so submitted and approved will be marked by the Examiners. Students in the Royal Academy School may submit, in lieu of these Alternative Problems in Design, the Designs made by them at the Royal Academy, provided that the same are approved and initialed by the Visitor. Candidates who have been awarded the Soane Medallion or the Tate Prize, or who have received a Certificate of Honourable Mention in either of these Competitions, may submit in place of the aforesaid Designs their Soane or Tate Designs, and receive marks for the same. Non-premiated designs in these Competitions may be submitted to the Board for approval in lieu of one of the Problems in Design. Students may submit in lieu of one of the Alternative Problems, designs made by them in a recognised School of Architecture.

The candidate must submit a thesis showing advanced and individual work in one only of the following subjects:—

1. HISTORICAL ARCHITECTURE—implying as far as possible the direct study of actual historical buildings.

2. SCIENCE, AS APPLIED TO BUILDING.—By this is intended a special study of the application of science to definite problems of building.

3. DESIGN INCLUDING DECORATION—such as a study in Civic Monumental, Decorative, or other branch of architectural design.

The subject selected for the thesis is to be notified for the approval of the Board four months before the date of the Examination, and the thesis itself is to be submitted four weeks before that date. The thesis, which may be either an illustrated essay or a design with a detailed report, will be assessed by Examiners specially appointed for the purpose, who will also examine the candidate orally in his thesis if necessary. It is open to candidates to obtain distinction in the advanced work, and such distinction will be appended to the candidate's name in the KALENDAR. This mark of distinction will only be given to candidates who pass the Examination at one sitting. Essays submitted in competition for the Royal Institute Silver Medal and Twenty-five Guineas may be sent in as the Thesis.

The carriage of the Problems in Design to and from the office of the Royal Institute, and all expenses incidental thereto, must be defrayed by the owner. They will be delivered on demand to any person authorised by the owner to receive them, but the Institute will not incur any expense in returning them. Due care will be taken of the drawings, but the Royal Institute will not be responsible for any loss of or damage to them while they remain in its keeping or are in transit to or from the Royal Institute. All relegated candidates must bring their Problems in Design to the Oral Examination.

The Student who successfully passes the Final Examination becomes qualified, subject to the provisions of Section II of the Charter, for candidature as Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects; he receives, in due course, a notification to that effect, and his name is published in the Institute JOURNAL. He is then eligible on certain conditions for the award of the Arthur Cates and Aschpöhl Prizes.

No entrance fee is required from candidates elected Associates within eighteen months of passing the Final Examination. Those not elected within that period are required to pay an entrance fee of Three Guineas.

Applicants unsuccessful at their first sitting may present themselves at one subsequent Examination without further fee; should they then fail to pass, a fresh fee must be paid for each subsequent attempt.

In the event of any Student failing to pass the Final Examination within four years of having passed the Intermediate, his name will be removed from the Register of Students, unless the Council are satisfied that good cause exists for allowing it to remain.

The Final Examination, to qualify for candidature as Associate, and to be passed by Students whose Problems in Design before described have been approved, will be held in December 1914 and June 1915. The timetable is as follows:—

THURSDAY, 3rd December 1914 and 24th June 1915.

8.0-1.30. (A.) DESIGN.

(A.) DESIGN for a building of moderate dimensions, or a portion of a more important edifice, to be made from particulars given. The drawings to comprise plans, elevation, and section, to a scale of $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch to the foot, some details to a large scale, with a sketch perspective.

The subject will be communicated in general notice to the Student some days before the Examination.

QUESTIONS SET AT THE PRELIMINARY, INTER-MEDIATE, AND FINAL (OR SPECIAL), JUNE 1914.

I. ■■■■ PRELIMINARY.

To qualify for Registration ■■ Probationer R.I.B.A.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

I. SHORT ENGLISH COMPOSITION.

(From 10 a.m. till 11 a.m.)

Write a short essay on one only of the following subjects:—

1. The Ideal City.
2. Airships.
3. A Week at the Seaside.
4. Great English Architects.
5. The Utility of Electricity in Modern Life.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

II. WRITING FROM DICTATION (from 11 a.m. till 11.30 a.m.)

A short passage from some standard English author will be given. Clear and well-formed writing, with accurate spelling and correct punctuation, should be aimed at.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, ■■■ June 1914.

III. ARITHMETIC, ALGEBRA, AND ELEMENTS OF PLANE GEOMETRY.

(From 11.30 a.m. till 1.30 p.m.)

1. A bankrupt's debts are £5,817 6s., and his assets are £4,076 11s. 2d. How much can he pay his creditors in the £ after defraying the expenses of the bankruptcy, which amount to 10 per cent. of debts.
2. Given that a metre equals 39.3708 in., find how many square metres are in 1,000 sq. yds.
3. At what rate per cent. will £540 amount to £734 8s. in 9 years at simple interest?
4. Find the remainder when $x^4 - 8x^3 - 5x^2 + 20x - 8$ is divided by $x - 4$.
5. Solve the equations:—

$$(i) \frac{x-4}{x-3} + \frac{x+7}{x+8} = 2$$

$$(ii) \sqrt{x-2} = 5, \quad \frac{x+7}{8+y} = 2$$

6. A man put £2,000 in two investments; for the first he gets 5 per cent.; for the second, 4 per cent. and by the first he has an income of £1 more than by the second: how much does he invest in each case.

4. Describe the important changes effected under Tudor rule in the government of either Wales or Ireland.
5. Explain briefly the objects of:—
 - (a) The Statute of Labourers.
 - (b) The Elizabethan Poor Law.

Afternoon Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

V. LATIN, FRENCH, OR GERMAN.

(From 4 p.m. till 5.30 p.m.)

The candidate is to answer the following questions in Latin, or French, or German, as previously selected:—

LATIN.

1. Translate into English:—

Consurgitur ex consilio; comprehendunt utrumque et orant, ne sua disensione et pertinacia rem in summum periculum deducant: factum esse rem, ut innotuit, seu professantur si modo animi omnes sentiant ac probant; contra in disensione nullam se salutem perspiciere. Res disputationis ad medium noctem perducitur. Tandem dat Cotus percutus manus superat sententia Sabini. Pronuntiatur prima luce ituros. Consurgitur vigiliis reliqua pars noctis, cum una quisque illius circumspiceret, quid secum portare posset, quid ex instrumentis hibernorum relinquere cogeretur.

II. GRAMMATICAL QUESTIONS.

1. In the above extract explain the case of facilem, the tense of consurgitur, the mood of maneant, and parce deducant, profiscantur, cogeretur, circumspiceret.
2. Decline in the singular equus, astus, iter; in the plural manus, milis, nox; give the comparative and superlative of audax, pulcher, noquam.
3. Put into Latin—three times, a thousand soldiers, in the city, he promised to come, about nightfall, June 17th.
4. Give the principal parts of do, edo, repello, pario, spondeo.
- III. Translate into Latin:—
 1. The army which Hannibal brought with him was small.
 2. Lucullus was the richest person then living in Rome.
 3. After his Consulship Cotta set out for Gaul.
 4. She hopes to go with you to Athens.
 5. Let me advise you to start at once.
 6. I have no doubt that I shall be at home to-morrow evening.

FRENCH.

1. Translate into English:—

Il n'y a pas aujourd'hui un homme intelligent qui ne se sente lié par des fils invisibles à tous les hommes passés, présents et futurs. Nous sommes les héritiers de tous ceux qui sont morts, les associés de tous ceux qui vivent, la providence de tous ceux qui naîtront. Pour témoigner notre reconnaissance aux mille générations qui nous ont fait graduellement ce que nous sommes, il faut perfectionner la nature humaine en nous et autour de nous. Pour remercier dignement les travailleurs innombrables qui ont rendu notre habitation si belle et si commode, il faut la livrer plus belle et plus concomode encore aux générations futures. Nous sommes meilleurs et plus heureux que nos devanciers; faisons que notre postérité soit meilleure et plus heureuse que nous. Il n'est pas d'homme si pauvre et si mal doué qu'il ne puisse contribuer au progrès, dans une certaine mesure.

II. GRAMMATICAL QUESTIONS.

- Parse fully vivent, naître, faisons, puisse.
- Form adverbs from the following adjectives: vaill, bon, méchant, gentil, vaillant, vrai, bel, présent.
- Give instances of the omission of the definite article in French.
- Distinguish the meanings of pays, compagnie, patrie; battre and so battre, fatigant and fatigant.

III. Translate into French:—

- When I offered you ~~two~~ you took two.
- The workmen have struck work.
- I will tell you exactly what it has cost you.
- Do not forget to close the door when you go out.
- You came off cheaply. He is a scapegrace.
- We only came back the day before yesterday.

GERMAN.

I. Translate into English:—

Der Kaiser Joseph II. wollte der Vater seines Volkes sein. Jeder durfte frei zu ihm kommen und mit ihm reden. Vor der Türe seines Kabinetts, in welchem er von frühem Morgen bis spät in die Nacht arbeitete, standen immer zahllose Leute jedes Standes; da ging Joseph von Stunde zu Stunde hinaus, nahm ihnen ihre Bittschriften ab, und führte sie oft in sein Zimmer, dass sie alles sagten, was sie auf dem Herzen trugen. Zum Beweise, wie hoch er den Bauernstand achtete, trat er einst auf einer Heide zu einem Bauer auf freiem Feld, ergriff den Pflug und neckte selbst eine Strecke Land. Das Volk bewahrte diesen Pflug, den der Kaisers Hand gerührt hatte, zum Andenken.

II. GRAMMATICAL QUESTIONS.

- Decline in full dieser Herr, dasselbe, kein anderes Volk.
- Give the German for one of two, on the 17th inst., 3 few apples, 1914, at half-past seven.
- Give the first person singular imperfect, indicative, and the present participle of halten, halten, glauben, stehen.
- What cases are governed by the following prepositions? Construct sentences to illustrate your answers: auf, durch, bei and von.

III. Translate into German:—

- I have lost my purse.
- To whom do those fine horses belong?
- You won't succeed unless you take pains.
- Have you often been in Scotland?
- I have read the first twenty pages of his book.
- I saw the dog running across the garden.

Morning Sitting, Wednesday, 17th June 1914.

VI. GEOMETRICAL DRAWING [A], or ELEMENTS OF PERSPECTIVE [B].

(From 10 a.m. till 1.30 p.m.)

The candidate is to answer questions in A or B, as he may have previously selected.

A.—GEOMETRICAL DRAWING.

- Construct (i) a plain scale 6 inches long to read feet and inches R.P. Fraction $\frac{1}{4}$.

- (ii) A diagonal scale to read yards for a drawing on a scale of four chains to an inch.

A chain = 22 yards.

- (iii) A diagonal scale one tenth full size by which centimetres may be measured up to 1 metre. Take 1 metre = 39 inches.

- Construct a rectangle of 4 square inches area and having a perimeter of 11 inches.
- Draw a circle $1\frac{1}{2}$ inch radius and in it describe a regular heptagon. Find graphically the area of the heptagon.
- Construct a regular pentagon of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches side and place within it a similar figure having its sides = 1 inch parallel to and equidistant from those of the outer one.
- Three posts B, C, D, are in a straight line at intervals of 100 yards. An observer at A finds that the angle B, A, C is 20° and the angle C, A, D 30° . Determine the position of A (scale $\frac{1}{2}$ inch).
- A square pyramid having a base of 2 inches side and height of 3 inches has its base inclined to the H.P. at 40° and one edge of base inclined to H.P. at 30° . Draw its plan and elevation.

B.—ELEMENTS OF PERSPECTIVE.

- Define and explain by diagrams—

(i) The line of direction.

(ii) The horizontal line.

(iii) A vanishing point.

[The problems are to be worked to a scale of half an inch to the foot, the distance of the spectator from the picture being 10 feet, and the horizon 5 feet above the ground plane. The lines by which each problem is solved must appear on the paper sent up to the Examiner].

- A right prism, the base of which is an equilateral triangle, side 5 feet, stands on its base on the ground plane. The height of the prism is 3 feet. The edge of the base of the prism that is farthest from the picture is parallel to it, and the angular point of the base nearest to the picture is 5 feet to the left of the spectator, and 3 feet within the picture.

A second right prism, the base of which is an equilateral triangle, side 2½ feet, is placed upon the first, so that the angular points of its base coincide with the middle points of the sides of the upper face of the first prism.

The height of the second prism is 1½ feet.

Draw this group in perspective.

- A circle is traced on the face of a vertical wall which makes an angle 40° with the picture plane to the left. The base of the wall touches the picture plane 3 feet to the right of the spectator. The radius of the circle is 3 feet, and its centre is 3 feet above the ground plane and 4 feet from the edge of the wall touching the picture plane.

Draw the circle in perspective.

- Find at point A, 4 ft. to the left and 4 ft. from the picture. From A draw lines inclined at 45° , 60° , and 90° to the picture plane. Find the vanishing point and measuring point of each and distinguish by writing. Measure off 4 ft. from A on each line.

Afternoon Sitting. Wednesday, 17th June 1914.

VII. FREEHAND DRAWING FROM THE ROUND (from 2.30 p.m. till 4.30 p.m.)—Make a drawing of the object placed before you.

Hon. Examiner H. P. BURKE DOWNING.

Afternoon Sitting, Wednesday, 17th June 1914.

VIII. ELEMENTARY MECHANICS AND PHYSICS.

(From 4.30 p.m. till 5.30 p.m.)

*. Not more than five questions — to be attempted, and — credit will be given to answers unless the work necessary for producing them is shown fully.

1. State the parallelogram of velocities: two velocities of 12 feet per second and 16 feet per second are inclined at an angle of 60° ; find the magnitude of their resultant.
2. Define acceleration and uniform acceleration. How is uniform acceleration measured? If a body moves in a straight line under the action of a constant force, what change does its velocity undergo?
3. A body starts from rest with a velocity of 1,000 feet per second, and its motion is uniformly retarded by a velocity of 16 feet per second each second. Find when it would be brought to rest.
4. Explain fully the mode of measuring the work done by a force. What unit is adopted? A weight of 5 cwt. is drawn from a mine 26 fathoms deep by a chain weighing 1 lb. per linear foot; find the number of units of work done.
5. Define centre of gravity. Find the centre of gravity of a quadrilateral lamina which has two sides parallel, and one of the parallel sides double the other.
6. Describe the common balance. A balance rests with its beam horizontal when unloaded, and its arms are 16 cm. and 16½ cm. respectively. What will be the apparent weight of a vertebra, whose real weight is 200 grms., when weighed in each scale pan in turn?
7. How do you construct a simple mercurial barometer? What is it a barometer measures, and for what purposes?
8. What is meant by saying that the specific heat of water is 80 times as great as that of mercury? If a pound of boiling water is mixed with a pound of ice-cold mercury, what will be the temperature of the mixture?

II. THE INTERMEDIATE.

To qualify for Registration — Student R.I.B.A.

Morning Sitting, Friday, 12th June 1914.

A.—GENERAL HISTORY OF ARCHITECTURE AND THE PURPOSE OF ARCHITECTURAL FEATURES IN RELATION TO THE BUILDINGS IN WHICH THEY OCCUR.

(From 10 a.m. to 1.30 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: GODFREY FINKERTON
Professor S. H. CUPPER, M.A., F.S.A.

Not more than three questions to be attempted.

1. Describe any important ancient Greek columnar building, stating such facts as to its date and history as are known. Give sketch plan and elevation; further, to larger scale, cross-section through entrance, with sketches, so as to show more particularly the construction of the entablature of the order and of the ceiling of the pronaos. Comment on any points of construction that seem to you noteworthy.

2. Discuss the materials and the methods employed by the Romans for the construction of vaulted buildings. Give a description and analysis of any one such building erected in Roman times (either of the Western or the Eastern Empire), with plan, section, and illustrative sketches, adding short notes as to the history of the building.
3. What do you consider the points to be noted as characteristic in the construction of Romanesque vaulted buildings? Illustrate your answer by sketches, and discuss briefly how far the vaulting of thirteenth-century Gothic architecture is to be considered as the direct development of Romanesque; or, alternatively,

Describe, with illustrative sketches, any important mediæval building with which you are acquainted. Taking this building for purposes of illustration, discuss the statement that "construction beautilied" is the characteristic note of Gothic architecture.

4. Give an account of any one important building attributed to Brunelleschi. Discuss the chief causes that led to the rise of Renaissance architecture in Italy. How far do you consider the statement accurate that "the renaissance constitutes a complete break with mediæval tradition" in architecture?
5. Give a brief account of either Inigo Jones or Sir Christopher Wren, mentioning his more important works. Give a fuller account of any one of his buildings, with a critical estimate of his influence upon the development of architecture in England.

Afternoon Sitting, Friday, 12th June 1914.

A.—GENERAL HISTORY OF ARCHITECTURE AND THE PURPOSE OF ARCHITECTURAL FEATURES IN RELATION TO THE BUILDINGS IN WHICH THEY OCCUR.

(From 2.30 to 5.30 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: GODFREY DINGEMAN, Professor S. H. CAPPEL, M.A., F.R.S.

Not more than three questions to be attempted.

1. Sketch (preferably in perspective looking up) a Greek Doric capital and entablature. Analyse the parts of which it is composed, and criticise it from (a) the constructive, (b) the æsthetic, point of view. How far in your opinion is the frieze constructively necessary?
2. Sketch in elevation (with plan) a Roman composite arcade, analysing the constituent elements in the design, and discussing its architectural suitability and effect, as used (for instance) for the exterior of the Flavian Amphitheatre ("Colosseum"). How far do you consider it interprets construction?
3. Summarize the development of fenestration in English Gothic architecture from the thirteenth-century "lancets" to "perpendicular" tracery. What practical considerations (for mason and glass worker) do these successive changes embody?
4. Sketch any example of constructive mediæval woodwork with which you are acquainted, and discuss how far the decorative forms employed are derived from the material itself; how far they reflect the influence of contemporary architecture in stone.
5. Trace some of the changes in design of the Ionic capital from ancient Greek architecture through Roman (including Byzantine) to the early Renaissance.

Morning Sitting, Monday, 15th June 1914.

B.—1. SIMPLE APPLIED CONSTRUCTION IN ELEMENTARY DESIGN AND PROPERTIES AND USES OF ORDINARY BUILDING MATERIALS.

(From 10 a.m. to 1.30 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: { H. M. FLETCHER, M.A. Cantab.
F. W. TROUP.
H. ALSTEN HALL.

All candidates are to attempt question No. 1.

1. The showroom of a shop is 40' 0" long, 24' 0" wide, 15' 0" high (to ceiling) and is lighted and ventilated by a lantern light only, erected upon a flat lead roof.

Show the design and construction of roof and lantern by a plan and sections to half inch scale—(details may be given, if desired, to a larger scale). NOTE—No regard need be taken of the Building Act or any By-laws in answering this question.

2. How would you fix an iron railing on a stone coping? What method would you adopt if the railing were of wood?

Give sections to a scale of 3" to one foot.

3. The facing bricks for a house are to be 2" thick. The internal bricks are 3" thick.

Describe and illustrate the ~~method~~ ~~ways~~ of building the external walls.

4. Show by section and plan to 1" scale the proper construction and finish for a hearth:—

(a) On the Ground Floor;

(b) On an Upper Floor.

In both cases the floors consist of wooden joists and boarding.

5. How would you lay and fit on a concrete floor:—

(a) 1" flooring boards;

(b) Wood Blocks.

Give sections to a scale of $\frac{1}{2}$ " to one foot.

Afternoon Sitting, Monday, 15th June 1914.

B.—2. THEORETICAL CONSTRUCTION.

(From 2.30 p.m. to 5.30 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: { H. A. NEWTON.
MATT. GARBUTT.

Not more than eight questions to be attempted.

The attention of candidates is most particularly drawn to the necessity of stating clearly the scales to which stress diagrams are drawn. Linear scale, scale of loads and of bending moments must all be given.

1. A steel girder is made up of a 14 inch by 6 inch R.S.J., whose flanges are 0.7 inches thick, and plates riveted to the top and bottom flanges. The girder is subjected to a bending moment of 80 foot tons. What size should the plates be?
2. A beam, freely supported, has a span of 3 metres and carries a distributed load of 10,000 kilogrammes. What is the maximum bending moment?
3. A rolled steel joist, freely supported, has a span of 16 feet and just carries safely a load of 1 ton per foot run. If the same R.S.J. is used as a cantilever, whose length is 4 feet, what is the maximum load per foot run it will carry safely.
4. The moment of resistance of a rolled steel joist 10 inches deep is 525 inch tons. It is proposed to use this joist to carry a distributed load of 14 tons over a span of 35 feet. What is your opinion of the proposal?

5. A reservoir wall of concrete, weighing $1\frac{1}{2}$ cwt. per cubic foot, is of rectangular section, 80 feet high and 6 feet thick. Draw the section of the wall to $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch scale, and find graphically the resultant thrust when the reservoir is full.
6. A wooden beam, freely supported, 12 feet span, has five loads of 2 cwt. each concentrated at points 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 feet from one end. Find graphically or by calculation the bending moment at the centre.
7. The beam in question (6) is 2 inches wide. How deep would you make it? Stress not to exceed 10 cwt. per square inch.
8. Find the amount and nature of the stress in each member of the king-post truss shown in the diagram.

9. A bar, whose weight may be neglected, is 7 feet long and is supported at a point in its length. A weight of 20 lbs. is hung at one end, and a weight of 8 lbs. at the other. Where must the point of support be so that the bar just balances?

10. A beam, freely supported, has a span of 18 feet and loads of 10 tons concentrated 6 feet from each end. Draw bending moment and shearing force diagrams.

11. A workshop is 30 feet long and 20 feet wide, and the floor is divided into three equal bays of 10 feet by two rolled steel joists, the floor joists running into these steel joists. The load on the floor (including the weight of the floor) is 140 lbs. per square foot. What size should the steel joists be? The following table gives the section modulus of some steel joists.

SIZE OF R.S.J.	SECTION MODULUS IN EACH UNIT.
16" x 5" x 42 lbs.	67.
14" x 6" x 67 lbs.	70.
14" x 6" x 66 lbs.	70.
12" x 6" x 64 lbs.	63.
12" x 6" x 64 lbs.	63.
13" x 5" x 39 lbs.	37.
10" x 6" x 42 lbs.	42.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

C.—1. HISTORICAL ARCHITECTURE—(a) GREEK AND ROMAN. (From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: ARTHUR E. HENDERSON, F.S.A.
W. S. GEORGE.

Five questions to be answered.

1. Discuss briefly the general characteristics of the plan of Greek, Roman, Byzantine and Romanesque buildings erected for religious worship from the 5th century B.C. to the 12th century A.D., and the influences which governed the modifications in the design of those buildings during that period. The greater part of your answer should be given to Greek and Roman building.
2. Describe any structure of the Corinthian order you may know in Greece, stating for what purpose it was erected, and give sketches showing its general design and detail.
3. What methods were employed by the Greeks in building marble walls and columns to secure fine jointing, unbroken edges, and perfect surfaces in the finished work?
4. What alterations were made in the proportions of Doric columns between the 5th and 4th centuries B.C.? Give a method of setting out an entablature.
5. What differences between Greek and Roman architecture were brought about by the greater variety of building materials used by the Romans?
6. Describe and give sketches of a circular Roman building, or of a circular portion of a Roman building.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

C.—1. HISTORICAL ARCHITECTURE—(b) BYZANTINE AND ROMANESQUE. (From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: ARTHUR E. HENDERSON, F.S.A.
W. S. GEORGE.

Five questions to be answered.

1. Discuss briefly the general characteristics of the plans of Greek, Roman, Byzantine and Romanesque buildings erected for religious worship from the 5th century B.C. to the 12th century A.D., and the influences which governed the modifications in the design of those buildings during that period. The greater part of your answer should be given to Byzantine and Romanesque building.
2. Give an illustration of a Byzantine Atrium and also a Romanesque Cloister showing how they were attached to their respective Churches.
3. Sketch a plan and section of an Italian or Sicilian Romanesque Church or Cathedral such as S. Miniato, Florence, or Monreale Cathedral, near Palermo.
4. Sketch the plans of SS. Sergius and Bacchus, Constantinople and S. Apollinare Nuovo, Ravenna, or any two buildings of the eastern and western empires not later than the 6th century A.D. respectively, and give a short description of each with four sketches of details.
5. Describe the construction and give sketches of a typical Byzantine vault other than a true dome.
6. Sketch the interior surface treatment of a portion of a Byzantine Church including a vault and the walls below.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

C.—1. HISTORICAL ARCHITECTURE—(c) ENGLISH AND FRENCH GOTHIC. (From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: C. WONTNER SMITH.
P. LESLIE WATERHOUSE, M.A. Cantab.

Not more than four questions to be attempted.

1. Draw to $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch scale external elevation, section and plan of a five- or seven-light window of an English Church building of the Decorated period. Sketch the mouldings to larger scale.
2. Draw to inch scale a typical plan, with section of the cap and base, of a 13th century nave pier of (1) an English, and (2) a French Cathedral. Name the buildings from which the examples are taken.
3. Sketch the stone spire of an English Church of the Early English and of the Decorated period, and illustrate the methods of springing from the square tower at the base.
4. Make sketches to scale of characteristic English and French buttresses, two of each, and state to which period they belong.
5. Give a sketch transverse section of a French Cathedral, and draw to $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch scale one bay of the clerestory.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

C.—1. HISTORICAL ARCHITECTURE—(d) ITALIAN, FRENCH AND ENGLISH RENAISSANCE.

(From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: G. LOVETT GILL.
WALTER H. GODFREY.

Not more than four questions to be attempted.

1. Comment on the introduction of the baluster in Renaissance architecture and give sketches of French, Italian and English examples.
2. What do you know of the Brothers Adam; compare their decorative design with that of the contemporary period in France, name some examples of both.
3. Describe any example of Church architecture of the French or Italian Renaissance; give sketch plan, section and one elevation.
4. Show by sketches the difference between the Florentine, Venetian and Roman schools of Renaissance design. Name examples and give dates and names of Architects.
5. Contrast briefly (a) by plans, or (b) by elevations, the internal arrangements and external design of an Italian palace and an English mansion of the same period.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

C.—2. MATHEMATICS AND MECHANICS.

(From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.)

Hon. Examiner: DIGNY L. SOLOMON, B.Sc.

Note.—Candidates are not to attempt more than ten questions.

All calculations must be shown.

1. Solve the equation: $x^2 - 4x + \sqrt{x^2 - 4x + 4} = 16$.
2. How many numbers greater than a million can be formed with the digits 2, 3, 0, 3, 4, 2, 3?

3. If 10 and $12\frac{1}{2}$ are the geometric and harmonic means respectively between two numbers, find the two numbers.
4. Find by means of the binomial theorem the value of $\sqrt[1]{47}$ to four places of decimals.
5. Prove that in a parabola the semi-latus rectum is a harmonic mean between the segments of ~~any~~ focal chord.
6. A stone is thrown vertically upwards with a velocity which would just carry it to a height of 100 feet. Two seconds later another stone is also thrown vertically upwards from the same place and with the same velocity. When and where will they meet?
7. Two billiard balls travelling at equal speeds impinge, their directions being inclined at 90° and 60° to the line joining their centres at the instant of impact. If the "coefficient of restitution" be unity, show that after impact they are moving in parallel directions inclined at 45° to the line of centres.
8. A rod 12 feet long has a mass of 1 lb. suspended from one end, and, when 15 lbs. ~~is~~ suspended from the other end, it balances about a point distant 8 feet from that end; if 3 lbs. be suspended there it balances about a point 4 feet from that end. Find the weight of the rod and the position of its centre of gravity.
9. A shopkeeper, using ~~an~~ ordinary steelyard, changes the movable weight for which it has been graduated. Does he cheat himself or his customers?
10. How many cubic feet of water will an engine of 50 H.P., raise in one hour from a depth of 100 feet?
11. The sides of a triangle are $x^2 + x + 1$, $2x + 1$, and $x^2 - 1$. Show that the greatest angle is 120° .
12. Two chimneys are of equal height. A person standing between them in the straight joining their ~~bases~~ observes that the elevation of the one ~~chimney~~ to him is 60° . After walking 80 feet in a direction at right angles to the straight line joining their bases he observes that the elevations of the two are respectively 45° and 80° . Find their height and distance apart.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 16th June 1914.

C. B. DESIGN. (From 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners
 { A. DUNBAR SMITH.
 { T. GEOFFREY LUCAS.
 { LOUIS AMBLER.

A Village Hall ~~on~~ an open level site, to seat about 300 (s. 1,500 ft. super), with Stage to seat about ~~100~~ in addition, and in connection with Stage, Ladies' and Men's Retiring Rooms and Lavatory accommodation. Also to be provided a small Kitchen, a Room suitable for Committee or Reading Room (s. 200 ft. super.) with fireplace, Cloakrooms for both ladies and men and Heating Chamber.

Drawings required. 1/16th Scale Plan, two Elevations, Cross Section and 1/4-inch Sketch Details (if time permits).

June 1914.

DESCRIPTIVE GEOMETRY: THE PROJECTION OF SOLIDS.

One hour and a half.

Hon. Examiner: ALAN E. MURBY, M.A. Cantab.

Not more than four questions to be attempted. Answers must be on separate sheets and distinctly numbered.

1. Draw in elevation at 60 degrees to the plane of vision (i.e., to true elevation), but still vertical, a semi-circular window 10 ft. in diameter,

- the frame $\frac{1}{4}$ inches back from the face of a 9-inch brick arch supported by two 14-inch brick mullions. The windows are to be double hung sashers with ordinary wood and projecting stone sills. (Half inch scale).
2. Project at 45 degrees the shadow of two posts, 8 inches square and 8 ft. apart, of a verandah 4 ft. high to the gutter, upon a level floor and vertical wall 6 ft. behind the posts. (1 inch scale).
 3. Make a careful sketch of one detached stone from the ashlar face of a curved wall on the water. Letter the bed and unreavey or other contour of each face.
 4. Describe, with comments on their characters and sketches, the various ways of vaulting the intersection of two passages of different widths, the curvature of ceilings and heights of crowns and springings being given as desired.
 5. Make an isometric sketch to a large scale of an iron-tongued jointed floor carried on R.S.P.'s as beams and strengthened by bridging pieces.

III. THE FINAL (OR SPECIAL).

To qualify for Candidature as Associate R.I.B.A.

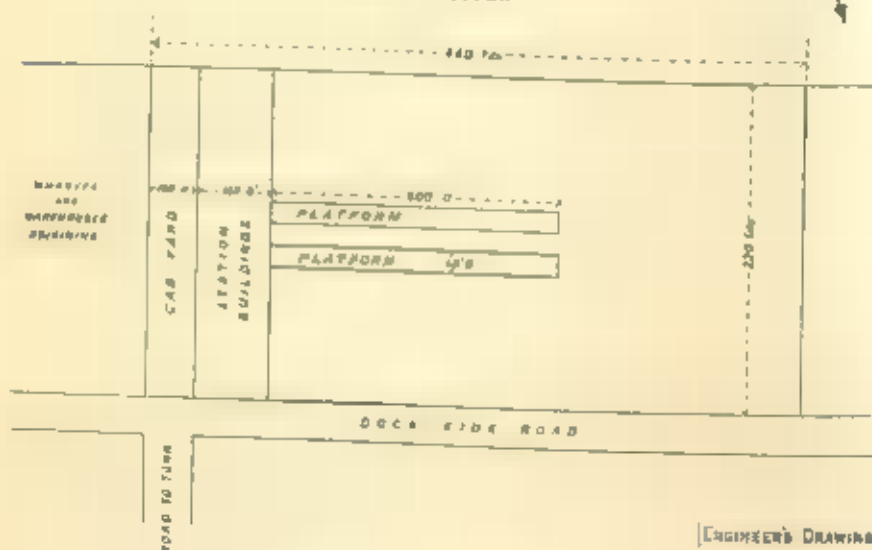

A.—A HARBOUR STATION.

Thursday, 25th June, 1914 (Morning 10 a.m. to 1.30 p.m.; Interval, 1.30 to 2.30; Afternoon, 2.30 to 5.30). Friday, 26th June (Morning, 10 a.m. to 1.30 p.m.; Interval, 1.30 to 2.30; Afternoon, 2.30 to 5.30). Saturday, 27th June (10 a.m. to 2 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: A. E. RICHARDSON.
HARRY REDFERN.

The Directors of an important Railway, desirous of extending cross-Channel travelling facilities and attracting ocean steamship lines to work in conjunction with their system—mainly as regards the transfer of mails and passengers—opened negotiations with the Port Authorities of a West-country seaport for leasing a level site fronting a broad tidal river.

The Company's engineer prepared a scheme to show the feasibility of the project. His plan indicated the proposed wharfage as a platform 440 yards long by 220 yards wide, with a granite retaining wall to the river front. In addition, the engineer's drawings dealt with all points in connection with the natural formation of the site, the stability of the river wall, and the double track of railway proposed between the Quay and Town Stations, through which the main line passed. The Directors, however, wishing to secure the best architectural expression for their undertaking, resolved to promote a competition among Architects.

The following extracts show the published particulars of the requirements they desired; but it was left to the discretion of the competitors to interpret the scheme as they thought the problem demanded:

REQUIREMENTS OF STATION AND OTHER BUILDINGS TO BE BUILT IN GRANITE.

1. Two double curved platforms 600 feet long by 50 feet wide.
2. A "Concourse" 80 feet wide.
3. Refreshment Rooms (First and Second Class), Clock Rooms and Waiting Rooms, Booking Offices, Station Master's Office, Clerks' and Porters' Room; also three small rooms for Shipping Companies.
4. Post and Telegraph Office, Telephone Boxes, Mail Room, Customs Room and Room for Customs Staff.
5. Two towers are desirable, one to be used for signalling, having a revolving light to be seen from the sea; the other a combined clock and water tower with strong room in the basement. These towers are to be 80 feet externally at the base, but can be diminished at the upper stages.
6. A covered garage for Motor Cars with a small depot adjoining to be conveniently placed near the station.

The drawings required are as follows:—

- (a) Block plan of the whole scheme to a scale of 100 feet to an inch, showing suggested arrangement of main buildings with rail tracks.
- (b) Freehand sketch perspective view of half imperial block showing the scheme from above.
- (c) $\frac{1}{4}$ th scale sectional elevation through half concourse showing one of the towers.
- (d) $\frac{1}{2}$ scale elevations, sections and plan of one of the towers.

NOTE.—Each Candidate before leaving the room will be required to deposit with the Moderator, at the end of the first day, a tracing showing the general lines of his design, marked clearly "Preliminary Sketch" and numbered with the Candidate's number.

It may be assumed that the width of a coach is 8 ft. 6 in. and its length 70 ft., also that the width of the rail tracks is 4 ft. 9 in., and the space between the tracks 6 ft. 0 in.

Morning Sitting, Monday, 29th June 1914.

B1.—CONSTRUCTION. (From 10 a.m. to 1.15 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: ALFRED CONDER,
W. E. VERNON CROMPTON.

The first question must be attempted and not more than three others.

1. A Strong Room measuring 24 feet square internally, with a minimum height of 8 feet, is to be constructed in the basement of a tower. The tower is used on the ground floor as an entrance for foot passengers to a Railway Station.

The enclosing walls of the room to be of brick or stone, and the roof of similar material, arched and groined and carried upon a centre pier.

The entrance door to be in the centre of one of the sides; the construction of the ~~door~~ ~~threshold~~ ~~there~~ need not be shown.

The site is wet clay, one half of the site has been previously excavated and ~~filled~~ ~~in~~ with made ground for a depth of 30 feet below the ground floor level.

Draw to a scale of 4 feet to an inch, part plan and section showing the construction, including the foundations, the floors and the doorway, also the means to be adopted for dryness, for ventilation, and for resisting burglary and fire.

2. Draw to a scale of 2 feet to an inch, plan, section and elevation of a Bell Gable to receive three bells, not exceeding 8 cwt. each, and hung to swing, constructed on the west end wall of a church, wholly of stone work. The joining of the masonry ~~to~~ to be indicated.
3. Draw to a scale ~~1/4~~ 4 feet to an inch, part plan, section and elevation of a cricket club pavilion. Its foot by 16 feet internal dimensions—no divisions to be shown—but a verandah is required along one side.

All to be constructed of timber and boarding, including the floor, upon a brick and concrete foundation; the roof to ~~be~~ covered with plain tiles. The scantlings to be figured.

4. An oak framed and panelled partition is to separate the front entrance of a house from the inner hall, the length is 10 feet and the height ~~10~~ feet from floor to ceiling; there is to be

A pair of doors 6 feet wide in same to swing upon floor hinges, and to have a semi-circular or segmental opening in the top.

The upper panels of the doors and framing to be glazed, and the side lights are not to be carried above the level ~~of~~ the springing of the arch.

Draw to a scale of one foot to the inch, an elevation and plan of the above named, and give sketch details of the principal parts.

5. Draw details to ~~1/4~~ inch scale, with key plan to ~~1/4~~ inch scale, to show one or two methods for the construction of the floor of a ball room on the ground floor, size internally 40 ft. \times 80 ft. with no basement below, and show specially what method you would adopt to give flexibility to the floor.

Afternoon Sitting. Monday, 29th June 1914.

B 2.—CONSTRUCTION. (From 2.15 p.m. to 5.30 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: (BERNARD DICKSEE, HARRY L. SOLOMON, B.Sc.)

Note.—All calculations must be shown. Sketches must be clear and distinct.

Candidates must not attempt more than four questions in each part of the paper (i.e. not more than eight questions in all).

PART I.

1. A compound girder ~~is~~ composed of two 16-in. \times 6-in. steel joists with one 14-in. \times ~~1/2~~ 1/2-in. plate ~~on~~ each flange. Calculate what is the maximum safe distributed load that this girder will carry over a span of 24 feet, being given that the greatest moment of inertia of a 16-in. \times 6-in. steel joist is 735, thickness of web ~~3/16~~ 3/16 in., and average thickness of flange ~~1/2~~ 1/2 in.
2. The compound beam in the previous question is to be used ~~as~~ as a cantilever of 8 feet projection. Calculate what is the maximum safe load it will carry concentrated at the free end.
3. The least moment of inertia of a 14-in. \times 6-in. steel joist, whose sectioned area is 16.75 sq. in., is 29. Calculate the maximum safe load that this joist will carry when used as a stanchion 12 feet high,
 - (a) the ends being considered fixed;
 - (b) the ends being considered as one fixed and one "hinged."

4. (a) What do you understand by the terms "bearing" and "shear"?
(b) A $\frac{1}{2}$ -in. rivet in double shear passes through three $\frac{1}{2}$ -in. plates. Calculate whether failure would occur first through "bearing" or "shearing."
5. Describe, with sketches where desirable, the meaning of the following terms.

(a) Plate girder;	(e) Cleat;
(b) Box girder;	(f) Fishplate;
(c) Channel;	(g) Separator.
(d) Lattice stanchion;

PART II.

6. A stanchion, composed of two 10-in. \times 6-in. steel joists with one 16-in. \times $\frac{1}{2}$ -in. plate on each flange, carries a beam on one side as a flange connection composed of three 16-in. \times 6-in. steel joists with one 24-in. \times $\frac{1}{2}$ -in. plate on each flange. Draw to a scale of 1 inch to 2 feet the front and side elevation of such connection.
7. A 24-in. \times 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ -in. steel joist used as a stanchion carries a load of 100 tons. The ground on which it ultimately rests will safely carry only 1 ton to 2500 feet. Sketch to large scale the base of such stanchion.
8. There is a large rectangular corner building with streets on two sides and buildings on the other two sides. The ground floor elevations consist of large shop windows with intermediate brick piers and steel girders supporting the superstructure. The interior of the building on each floor is used as a large open showroom. The floors consist of wood joists carried on steel joists in both directions, which latter rest on the brick piers and walls and on intermediate cast-iron columns. The ceilings and walls are matchlined.
A fire takes place on the premises, the interior being completely gutted.

Describe what will be the probable effect, after extinction, on the steel girders and joists, the cast-iron columns, and the brick piers and walls.

9. "A" and "B" are two buildings in different occupations on either side of a narrow passage-way 6 feet wide. "A" consists of a basement storey, a ground storey used as a shop, and three upper storeys, the upper floors and walls being carried on columns in the ground storey, which latter rests on brick piers in the basement.

It is proposed to pull down the building "B" and to erect new premises consisting of a deep sub-basement, basement, ground and several storeys over.

Draw to a scale of 4 feet to an inch the shoring and other precautions you would adopt to support "A" whilst "B" was being rebuilt.

10. Describe in detail, with any sketches you may consider desirable, the various operations entailed in forming the sub-basement and basement described in the preceding question.

Morning Sitting, Tuesday, 30th June 1914.

C.—HYGIENE, INCLUDING DRAINAGE, VENTILATION, HEATING, LIGHTING, AND WATER SUPPLY.

(From 10 a.m. to 12.30 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: W. HENRY WHITE.
HERBERT SHEPHERD.

Note.—Not more than five questions ~~may~~ to be answered, but No. 1 must be attempted.

1. A Ground Plan of a town house necessitates this question.
Show on the plan the system of underground drainage you would adopt, figuring on sizes of pipes and manholes, and state falls and give inch scale details of two manholes, and specify tests you would require for (a) the underground drains and (b) for vertical soil pipes.
2. Authorities differ as to the advisability of putting a disconnecting trap between the main drain of a house and the public sewer. State what you know of the advantages and disadvantages of each theory.
3. Show to 4-in. scale a plan of one floor of the sanitary wing to a Hospital Ward with Bath Room, Sink and W.C.; show the fittings on the plan with enlarged sketch details of W.C. and Bath and their connections to soil and waste pipes.
4. Describe the "Plenum" Ventilating System and give explanatory sketches. State ~~in~~ what class of buildings you would advocate its use in preference to natural ventilation and also the advantages claimed for ~~it~~ over the latter. Give the quantity of fresh air required per hour per person (1) for a church, (2) for a hospital, (3) for a dwelling room.
5. How can "hard" water be softened for domestic purposes? Give particulars of any apparatus you are acquainted with.

What materials would you specify for the boilers and piping for a domestic Hot Water Supply (a) for a "hard" water, (b) for a "soft" water?

What precautions should be adopted in the storage of water for domestic purposes?

6. Give a short general description of the plant necessary to install in a country house:—
(1) Acetylene Gas;
(2) Air Gas;
(3) Electric Light.
7. Give a rough sketch section through a two-storey house showing heating system with boiler, radiators and feed cistern, and indicate how they are connected together. ~~State~~ the superficial heating surface you would require for a radiator to heat a room 20 x 20 = 12 feet high.
NOTE.—Windows to ~~be~~ 1/6th of floor area.

Afternoon Sitting, Tuesday, 30th June 1914.

D.—THE PROPERTIES AND USES OF BUILDING MATERIALS. (From 1.30 p.m. to 4 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: H. D. SEARLES-WOOD.
A. H. KERSEY.

Not more than five questions to be attempted.

1. Compare the construction of mass concrete and reinforced concrete foundations and give a list of the materials employed in each, the proportion in which they are combined, and the tests you apply in selecting each material. Under what conditions would you employ mass concrete and reinforced concrete?

2. Assuming a Contractor has submitted to you for selection samples of all the different kinds of bricks, describe briefly the reasons for which you would select each kind and the tests you would apply to ascertain whether the bricks selected would stand the stresses you proposed putting them under.
3. Briefly describe the various kinds of lime used in building and the purposes for which each is best suited. Give the proportions in which each is mixed to form mortar and plaster.
What are the characteristics of a suitable sand for making (a) mortar, and (b) plaster?
4. What building stones are chiefly used in the place where you practice? What are the methods of quarrying and dressing the stones, what defects are they liable to, and how do you discern these defects?
5. Give a list of four kinds of fire resisting floors and the materials used in their construction and the merits or demerits of each.
6. Given that in the construction of a public building, durability is an important consideration, what description of woods would you select for this purpose?
7. Give a description of the various metals used for roof covers, methods of preparation, defects of each, and various ways in which they are laid.
8. Give a list of the various forms of glass in use for building purposes and in what way you ascertain that you have the quality specified.

Afternoon Sitting, Tuesday, 30th June 1914.

F.—SPECIFICATIONS, BUILDING CONTRACTS, AND THE ORDINARY PRACTICE OF ARCHITECTURE.

(From 11 to 3.30 p.m.)

Hon. Examiners: EDWARD GREENOP.
ALFRED GARRATT.

Note. The Candidate must not attempt more than six questions, of which two must be Nos. 1 and 2.

Each Candidate is to state, at the head of his paper, the locality in which his experience has been gained.

1. An entrance vestibule to an office building, from which the stairs start, has tiled walls with dado, marble mosaic floor (on concrete) with metal sinkhole, and a plain hardwood porter's box in one corner. The stairs are of stone with cast-iron panel balusters and an oak handrail both sides.

Write the specification for the floor and wall finishings, the porter's box in all trades, and the balusters and handrails.

No time is to be occupied in design, the object being to ascertain the candidate's ideas as to construction and workmanship.

2. Specify a good lead paint, describing the component parts in detail and state what purpose each of them serves.
Specify the procedure in painting new interior woodwork and in repainting old woodwork and plastered walls.
3. Give the heads of the Clauses necessary or desirable in a Building Agreement for carrying out an ordinary building in town or country.
4. Under the R.I.B.A. Conditions of Contract, what matters may form the subject of an Arbitration and what may not? State briefly the procedure when one of the parties determines to go to arbitration.

5. You are called in to advise upon a damp basement in a suburban house. You find the conditions are: -
 - (a) The floor is 4 feet below the ground level;
 - (b) The walls on three sides of the building are against the earth, which is gravelly clay.
 - (c) There is no horizontal damp course.
 Describe and illustrate the methods you would adopt to carry out the necessary work in the most economical manner.
6. A client possesses a suburban house having a charming prospect from the windows of the principal living room. An adjoining owner proposes to erect a building which will largely obscure the prospect and slightly diminish the light to the windows of this living room. How would you advise your client?
7. What is a "Schedule of Dilapidations"? If a client took you to a house and said "Make a Schedule of the Dilapidations here," would you ask for any information before beginning the work, and if so, what would you ask for?
8. If you had to build a steel-framed building and you wanted to avoid extras while making certain of a structure that would be permanently safe under normal conditions; how would you arrange to get the steelwork designed and how would you fix its cost, and how would you defray the cost of the design and of the supervision of the work during erection?
9. What is the ordinary London procedure, in connection with adjoining owners, in rebuilding premises having party walls or party structures? Who are adjoining owners under the London Building Acts?

SPECIAL EXAMINATION:

To Qualify for Candidature as Associate R.I.B.A.

[The applicants exempted, by permission of the Council, from the Preliminary and Intermediate Examinations, and from submitting Testimonies of Study:]

The attention of architects in practice, not less than 25 years of age, and of chief assistants over 30 years of age, who may contemplate applying for admission to the Royal Institute of British Architects, is directed to the Regulations of the Special Examination qualifying for candidature as Associate, which is held twice a year, in the months of June and December, in accordance with the particulars given on the official Application Form.

Architects in practice, and chief assistants as above stated, who desire to be admitted as Associates, can be exempted from passing the Preliminary and Intermediate Examinations and from sending in "Testimonies of Study." They can be admitted, by resolution of the Council in each case, to a Qualifying Examination (namely, the Final [ante, p. 423] of the three Examinations), which is conducted with especial regard to the requirements of such architects, their professional works and position being duly taken into account by the Board of Architectural Education.

The probationary work required to be submitted and approved prior to the applicant's admission to the Examination may consist of the working drawings of a building, executed or otherwise, of his own design, with a perspective view, and a drawing of some ornament from the round. All practitioners of architecture who have been in the active exercise of their profession for twelve years are exempted from submitting any probationary work. An applicant who has not been twelve full years in practice may submit the working drawings of any building erected from his design and under his superintendence, with a drawing of a building in perspective, and a sheet of ornament. Due care will be taken of the probationary work submitted by applicants, but the Royal Institute will not be responsible for any loss of or damage to the drawings while they remain in its keeping or are in transit from the Royal Institute; and applicants are required to remove their probationary work immediately after the examination.

The candidate must submit a thesis showing advanced and individual work in one only of the following subjects:—

1. HISTORICAL ARCHITECTURE—implying as far as possible the direct study of actual historical buildings.

2. SCIENCE, AS APPLIED TO BUILDING.—By this is intended a special study of an application of science to definite problems of building.

3. DESIGN, INCLUDING DECORATION—such as a study in Civic Monumental, Decorative, or other branch of architectural design.

The subject selected for the thesis is to be notified for the approval of the Board four months before the date of the Examination, and the thesis itself is to be submitted four weeks before the same date. The thesis, which may be either an illustrated essay or a design with a detailed report, will be assessed by Examiners specially appointed for the purpose, who will also examine the candidate orally in his thesis. It is open to candidates to obtain distinction in the advanced work, and such special distinction will appear against their names in the KALENDAR.

A fee of Six Guineas must be paid by each applicant on sending in his formal application. The fee will be returned should the application be refused. Applicants unsuccessful at their first sitting may present themselves again within twelve months without further fee; should they then fail to pass, a fresh fee must be paid for each subsequent attempt. On passing the examination the applicant will be qualified, subject to Section 8 of the Charter, for candidature as Associate. The names of those who pass are returned alphabetically, and they are at once informed thereof, with a view to their presenting themselves for election as Associate—the entrance fee to which class is Three Guineas, and the annual subscription Two Guineas. Should an applicant fail to pass he will be informed of the fact, but the names of unsuccessful candidates are not published.

Applicants availing themselves of the foregoing special concessions are not eligible for the Ashpitel Prize.

COLONIAL EXAMINATIONS:

To Qualify for Candidature as Associate R.I.B.A.

Architects of not less than 25 years of age working in the Colonies, either as architects in practice or as assistants, can be admitted to the "Special Examination" [p. 458] qualifying for candidature as Associate, which is held at such colonial centres as the Council may from time to time determine. All applications must be made on the official form, to be obtained from the Secretary R.I.B.A., or at the colonial centres indicated below.

Prior to the applicant's admission to the Examination, probationary work must be submitted to, and approved by, the Board of Architectural Education sitting in London. Such probationary work must consist of the working drawings of a building, executed or otherwise, of the applicant's own design, with a perspective view, and a drawing of some ornament from the round. All practitioners of architecture who have been in the active exercise of their profession for twelve years are exempted from sending in probationary work. Probationary work must be forwarded to London at the expense of the applicant, but will be returned at the expense of the Institute.

A fee of Six Guineas must be paid by each applicant on sending in his formal application. Should the application be refused, this fee will be returned. If the application be approved, the candidate will receive intimation from the Secretary as to the place he will be required to attend for the Examination. Successful candidates are qualified, subject to Section 8 of the Charter, for candidature as Associate. The names of those who pass are returned alphabetically, and they are at once informed thereof, with a view to their presenting themselves for election as Associates—the entrance fee to which class is Three Guineas and the annual subscription Two Guineas. Should an applicant not be passed by the Board, he will be informed of the fact: the names of unsuccessful candidates are not published. Candidates unsuccessful at their first sitting may present themselves once more for examination without further fee. Should they then fail to pass, a fresh fee will be required for each subsequent attempt.

R.I.B.A. COLONIAL EXAMINATIONS, 1915: CANADA, AUSTRALIA, AND SOUTH AFRICA: Preliminary and Intermediate.—The Institute of Architects of New South Wales (who conduct the Examinations at Sydney) and the Royal Victorian Institute of Architects (who conduct the Examinations in Melbourne) are empowered by the Council of the R.I.B.A. to grant at their discretion exemption from the Preliminary Examination to candidates who desire to enter for the Intermediate. Candidates desirous of admission to these Examinations must address their Testimonies of Study, Application Forms, and Fees as follows:—

To Mr. Nicholas Shiels, Institute of Architects of New South Wales, Royal Society's House, 5, Elizabeth Street, Sydney, if the candidate desires to sit for the Examination in Sydney.

To Mr. John Little, Hon. Secretary, The Royal Victorian Institute of Architects, Collins House, Collins Street, Melbourne, if the candidate desires to sit for the Examination in Melbourne.

Candidates will be informed in due season of the time and place of the Examination.

Final and Special.—Examinations will be held in Sydney from the 24th June to the 2nd July 1915 inclusive, and in Toronto in the following December simultaneously with the Final and Special Examinations to be held in Great Britain. Application forms, fees, and probationary work must reach London from Sydney by the first mail arriving after the 31st March 1915, and from Toronto by the first mail arriving after the 31st August 1915.

Application forms may be obtained from the Secretary R.I.B.A. at the Offices of the R.I.B.A. in London; from Mr. F. S. Baker, Hon. Sec. B.I.B.A. for Canada, The Traders' Bank Building, Toronto; from Mr. G. C. Inskip, Hon. Sec. R.I.B.A. for Australia, Prell's Buildings, corner of Collins and Queen Streets, Melbourne; from Mr. Nicholas Shiels, Royal Society's House, 5, Elizabeth Street, Sydney; from Mr. John Little, Hon. Secretary, The R.V.I.A., Collins House, Collins Street, Melbourne.

EXAMINATION OF LICENTIATES.

To Qualify for Candidature as Fellow R.I.B.A.

A Special Examination is held for those Licentiates who, being otherwise qualified, may desire admission to the Fellowship of the Royal Institute of British Architects. This examination will be held on dates to be announced by the Council. All applications must be made on the official form, to be obtained from the Secretary R.I.B.A.

The candidate will be required to submit for the approval of the Council working drawings of one or more of his executed buildings, which may be supplemented by photographs thereof, and by original sketches or measured drawings of actual work. If the drawings submitted are approved by the Council, the candidate will be required to submit himself to an examination which will be held on the premises of the Royal Institute of British Architects, or elsewhere, as the Council may appoint. Should the work so submitted be, in the opinion of the Council, inadequate, the application will not be further entertained.

Should however the work submitted be, in the opinion of the Council, of sufficient merit, the candidate may be exempted from any further examination.

Ten days before the examination a list of subjects will be issued to all candidates, and from this list each candidate will be required to select one subject and to inform the Secretary of the Royal Institute, five days before the examination, which subject he selects. When the candidate attends for examination, he will be furnished with particulars of the selected subject, and will be required to prepare a set of working drawings and certain details thereof, together with full descriptive notes. The candidate will also be required to write a short paper or report on a subject previously selected by himself and approved by the Council. This report will be prepared on the fourth day, and the time occupied will be at the discretion of the candidate. Four days will be allowed for the examination, and the candidate may be required, at the option of the Council, to attend subsequently for an oral examination on his papers. Candidates must provide their own drawing boards and instruments. The hours of the examination are from 10 to 1.30 and 2.30 to 5.30. At the end of the first day the candidate must hand in to the Moderators a rough tracing of his design, and there will be a lunch interval on this day. The fee for the examination is Six Guineas, which must be sent to the Secretary R.I.B.A., with the candidate's application for admission to the examination. If the candidate fails to pass the examination the fee will not be returned, but he will be allowed to sit for one subsequent examination without further fee.

Should a candidate be admitted and pass, he will be qualified, subject to Section B of the Charter, for candidature as Fellow.

Should a candidate fail to pass he will be informed of the fact, but the names of unsuccessful candidates are not published.

BUILDING SURVEYING.

EXAMINATION QUALIFYING FOR CANDIDATURE AS DISTRICT SURVEYOR IN LONDON.*

Section 140 of the London Building Act, 1894, provides:

The Royal Institute of British Architects may cause to be examined by such persons and in such manner as they think fit all candidates presenting themselves for the purpose of being examined as to their competency to perform the duties of District Surveyor, and shall grant certificates of competency to the candidates found deserving of the same, and a person who has already filled the office of District Surveyor shall not be qualified to be appointed to that office unless he has received a certificate of competency from the said Institute or has been examined in such other manner as the Council may direct and been found competent in such examination.

* Application forms, to be filled up by persons desirous of being examined, can be obtained free of charge at the Office of the Institute.

The candidate must be prepared to answer orally, in writing, or by means of architectural drawing, questions upon the following points, in order to satisfy the Board as to his competency for the office of a District Surveyor:—

1. The materials used in building; their strength under various stresses, their excellences, defects, weight, decay, and other properties, and the indications of their being of good or bad quality. The rough methods of testing them on the spot. The bonding of masonry and brickwork, use of mortar and cement, framing of carpentry, and the testing of trusses and timber girders.

2. The loads and stresses affecting structures, and the modes of estimating them and calculating arches and the different parts of timber and iron structures; especially such rapid modes of calculating as can be employed on the spot readily.

3. Cast iron, wrought iron, and steel. The design, testing, and fixing of constructional iron and steel work.

4. Foundations in various kinds of soil, and precautions to be taken in digging them; expedients when the bottom is bad or under water. The risks of accident due to interference with foundations after they have been put in, or to increasing the load on them. The foundations of high chimney shafts. Indications of the failure of foundations.

5. Usual defects in construction and materials. Decay of structures. Neglected and dangerous structures. Shoring, underpinning, repair of walls, tying buildings together, forming openings in existing walls. The effects of storms and stability of high structures.

6. The behaviour of various materials and modes of construction with reference to fire. Fire-resisting construction. Precautions necessary in heating and lighting buildings. Precautions to be taken in the storage of water.

7. The London Building Act of 1894, and Amending Acts, and the by-laws in force; and the ordinary procedure thereunder, including the mode of valuing a party wall.

8. Defects or deficiencies in plans for a proposed building.

The Examination is held once a year—viz. in the month of October. For particulars as to attendance, fees, &c., see page 457.

CONDITIONS OF THE APPOINTMENT.

No person is accepted as a candidate for the appointment of District Surveyor unless he shall have attained twenty-eight years of age and be under fifty years of age, and every candidate must deliver with his application satisfactory evidence of his age.

Every candidate is required to sign a declaration and deliver it with his application that he becomes a candidate, and will accept the appointment if he should be appointed, on the following understanding:—

- (a) That he will personally discharge the duties of his office, subject to section 142 of the London Building Act 1894.
- (b) That he will give his whole time to the duties of the office.
- (c) That he will not during his continuance in office (except in the discharge of the duties thereof) carry on business as an architect, surveyor, or builder, or directly or indirectly, as a partner or otherwise, be interested in such business.
- (d) That he will make no claim for compensation in case a diminution of his income shall at any time hereafter arise.
- (e) That he will keep his District Office open from Monday to Friday (both inclusive) between the hours of 9.30 a.m. and 5 p.m., and on Saturdays from 9.30 a.m. until 1 p.m., and give his personal attendance there daily from 9.30 to 10.30 a.m.

(f) That he will retire, if required to do so, on attaining ~~the~~ age of ~~the~~ ~~at~~ any date subsequent to his attaining that age.

The County Council reserves to itself the exercise of its powers of dismissal if the District Surveyor ~~is~~ appointed should not act consistently with the understanding above set forth in any of the matters referred to therein, or for other sufficient reasons.

THE TRIBUNAL OF APPEAL.

The London Building Acts 1894 to 1905.

Clerk of the Tribunal: Mr. CHARLES HERBERT LOVE.
Offices: 13, Great George Street, Westminster, S.W.

THE Tribunal of Appeal, as constituted under sections 175 and 178 of the London Building Act 1894, is composed of three members—one appointed by a Secretary of State, one by the Council of the Royal Institute of British Architects, and one by the Council of the Surveyors' Institution. The members are appointed for a term of five years, and are eligible for re-appointment. Appeal may ~~be~~ made to the Tribunal under the several sections ~~set~~ out in the London Building Act 1894 (57 & 58 Vict., c. cxxiii.) and in the London Building Acts (Amendment) Act, 1905 (5 Edw. 7, c. ccix.), the Tribunal having power to hear the parties interested in person, or by counsel, solicitor, or agent; to administer oaths; to hear and receive evidence; to require the production of documents or books; and to confirm, reverse, or vary any decision appealed against, and to make any such order as they may think fit, also to award costs in their discretion.

When any question of law is involved in any appeal submitted to them, the Tribunal may, on the request of the parties, and if ordered by the High Court, or a Judge thereof, on application in a summary manner made by any party to the appeal, shall state a case for the opinion of the High Court, which shall hear and determine any such question of law, and thereupon reverse, affirm, or amend the decision of the Tribunal, or remit the matter to them with the opinion of the Court on the case stated, or make such other order as to the matter and as to the costs of the case as the Court sees fit.

Any order of the Tribunal may be enforced by the High Court as if it had been an order of that Court.

With the approval of ~~the~~ Lord Chancellor, amended Regulations have been made as to the procedure to be followed in cases of appeal, and as to fees to be paid ~~at~~ the Tribunal by the Appellants and other parties, copies of which may be obtained from the Clerk to the Tribunal on application (price 1s.).

Appeals are to be lodged (by hand) at the Office of the Tribunal, and the fee thereon paid, within the periods (if any) prescribed by the Acts, and where no period is so prescribed, within the time required by the Regulations.

The Tribunal consists of the following members:—

Mr. ALFRED ARTHUR HUDSON, K.C. [H.A.], appointed by the Home Secretary (President of the Tribunal)

Mr. JOHN SLATER [P.], appointed by the Council of the Royal Institute of British Architects.

Mr. HERBERT THOMAS STEWARD, appointed by the Council of the Surveyors' Institution.

All communications should be addressed to the Clerk of the Tribunal. All payments to be made in cash. Office hours, 10 to 4 (Saturdays, 10 to 1).

THE LIBRARY.

THE Library of the Royal Institute of British Architects consists principally of books presented by their authors, members of the corporate body. Many have been received in large donations, others by bequest. From time to time standard works of reference are purchased, to meet the requirements of the professional student, as well as to maintain the special character and historic value of the collection. Not the least interesting portion of the Library is that which includes rare and valuable editions of Foreign Works, mostly presented by Hon. Corr. Members.

For convenience of reference the Catalogue is kept up to date with printed slips inserted as they appear in the announcements in the Supplement to the JOURNAL, together with cross-references. A Catalogue published in 1889, which was printed at the cost of the late David Brandon, contains all the works presented and purchased up to June, 1887, with an Appendix comprising all the publications acquired up to the 31st December, 1888. A Supplement to this Catalogue comprises additions from June, 1887, to December, 1899. Copies of the Catalogue complete, strongly bound in buckram, gilt lettered, may be purchased at the Institute, price 10s. 6d. The Supplement above mentioned may be had separately, price 1s.

From the 1st October till the end of June the Library is open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. (Saturdays 6 p.m.): in July and September it closes at 7 p.m. (Saturdays 5 p.m.): The Reference Library is closed during the whole of August, but Loan books may be received or issued between the hours of 12 and 2 daily.

All Probationers, Students, and Qualified Candidates for Associateship, on registration in the books of the Institute, are furnished with a card of admission, and such card must be shown by the reader at every visit. Members of the Architectural Association under the age of 23 years must be provided with a specially stamped card, to be annually renewed, signed by the Hon. Secretaries of the Association. Cards are also granted on the recommendation of members of the Institute, professors of colleges, schoolmasters, and others, who are required to certify, on a form to be obtained at the Institute, that the persons they recommend are fit to be admitted to the privileges of the Reference Library and the Loan Collection.

The Council, after due application has been made and inquired into, afford facilities to architects and others, not members of the Institute, to consult books in the Reference Library, and to have the use of the Loan Collection. Applications should be made in writing to The Secretary R.I.B.A. at the Office of the Institute.

The Loan Library.—Books borrowed by members from the Loan Library are despatched at the cost of the Institute, but the return postage must be paid by the borrower.

RULES TO BE OBSERVED IN THE LIBRARY.

THE REFERENCE LIBRARY.

1. Every one using the Library must sign the Attendance Book placed at the entrance.
2. The front and back rooms are reserved for members of the Institute, but non-members are allowed access to any special books of reference there on application to the officer in charge.
3. No book or other work forming part of the Reference Library is allowed to be taken from the premises of the Institute, except by special resolution of the Council.
4. Readers desiring to trace are required to apply to the Librarian or officer in charge for a form, which must be duly filled up, giving particulars of the work and specifying the portion it is intended to trace. Soft pencils only may be used in tracing. In the case of rare and other valuable works, in order to preserve the print from injury, isinglass will be supplied for the purpose of tracing.
5. No compasses of any kind may be applied to any of the works, and the use of ink is prohibited at any table on which rare or costly works are placed.
6. Readers are requested to inform the officer in charge when they have finished with any work, in order that it may be restored to its place.
7. Silence is necessary in the Library, and all oral communications should be conducted in an undertone.

THE LOAN LIBRARY.

8. The Loan Library is open for the issue and return of books during the same hours as those appointed for the Reference Library.
9. Not more than one volume at a time is issued to any one borrower, except by permission of the Librarian, and no volume may be retained longer than fourteen days, unless a written renewal from the Librarian has been obtained [see No. 12].
10. Application for works must be made personally, except in the case of members (and "Students") of the Institute, who may send a written request by a person authorised to receive and sign for them, or may apply in writing to the Librarian for the volume to be sent by post or rail.
11. A borrower is required to sign a voucher for each book he takes out, and is responsible for the work so long as the voucher remains uncancelled. A book will not be accepted as returned unless it be delivered by hand to the officer in charge at the Library during Library hours, and the borrower's receipt obtained in exchange. In the case, however, of a member of the Institute borrowing through the post, his letter of request shall be countersigned by the Librarian on the day when the volume is despatched, and shall be regarded as the member's voucher. Volumes shall be despatched at the cost of the Institute and returned at the cost of borrowers. On the return of a book the Librarian shall at once send the member a receipt. Books due for return on days when the Library is closed must be returned on the first following day when it is open.

12. Application for renewal must be made personally or by post-card in sufficient time to allow of the book being punctually returned if it cannot be renewed; if renewed or otherwise, a notice from the Librarian will be sent.

13. A fine of sixpence must be paid for every day or portion of a day during which any volume is retained beyond the time allowed, unless the borrower can show a written renewal from the Librarian. And a fine of one shilling must be paid for every day or portion of a day during which any volume is retained after delivery at the borrower's address of a notice from the Librarian for its return (the day of delivery of such notice not included).

14. Borrowers are not to trace with ink or with a hard pencil, nor apply compasses of any kind to the works. Marking any book by writing, turning down leaves, &c., is strictly prohibited: this applies even to correction of a misprint, or to a single additional mark in a book, however much previously disfigured. Infringement of this rule will render the borrower liable to suspension from the use of the Loan Library. A borrower is liable to be called upon to replace at his own expense any work lost, marked, or injured while in his possession, or to pay a fine.

15. A borrower whose fines are unpaid will not be permitted to use the Loan Library; and if not a member of the Institute, he will also be debarred the use of the Reference Library.

THE LOAN LIBRARY CATALOGUE.

A Catalogue of Works in the Loan Library, revised to December 1908, may be had at the Institute, price 6d.

THE PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE AS TO THE CHARGES OF ARCHITECTS.*

Schedule sanctioned by the Royal Institute of British Architects, confirmed at a General Conference of Architects of the United Kingdom 1872, and revised by the Royal Institute 1889.

1. The usual remuneration for an architect's services, except as hereinafter mentioned, is a commission of 5 per cent. on the total cost of works executed under his directions. Such total cost is to be valued as though executed by a builder with new materials. This commission is for the necessary preliminary conferences and sketches, approximate estimate when required (such, for instance, as may be obtained by cubing out the contents), the necessary general and detailed drawings and specifications, one set of tracings, duplicate specification, general superintendence of works, and examining and passing the accounts, exclusive of measuring and making out extras and omissions.

2. This commission does not include the payment for services rendered in connection with negotiations relating to the site or premises, or in supplying drawings to ground or other landlords, or in surveying the site or premises and taking levels, making surveys and plans of buildings to be altered, making arrangements in respect of party-walls and rights of light, or for drawings for and correspondence with local and other authorities, or for services consequent on the failure of builders to carry out the works, or for services in connection with litigation or arbitration, or in the measurement and valuation of extras and omissions. For such services additional charges proportionate to the trouble involved and time spent ~~may~~ made. The clerk of the works should be appointed by the architect, his salary being paid by the client.

3. In all works of less cost than £1,000, and in works requiring designs for furniture and fittings of buildings, or for their decoration with painting, mosaics, sculpture, stained glass, or other like works, and in cases of alterations and additions to buildings, 5 per cent. is not remunerative, and the architect's charge is regulated by special circumstances and conditions.

4. When several distinct buildings, being repetitions of one design, are erected at the same time from a single specification and one set of drawings and under ~~one~~ contract, the usual commission is charged on the cost of one such building, and a modified arrangement made in respect of the others; but this arrangement does not apply to the reduplication of parts in one building undertaking, in which case the full commission is charged on the total cost.

5. If the architect should have drawn out the approved design, with plans, elevations, sections, and specification, the charge is $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. upon the estimated cost. If he should have procured tenders in accordance with the instruction of his employer, the charge is $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. in addition. Two and a half per cent. is charged upon any works originally included in the contract or tender, but subsequently omitted in execution. These charges are exclusive of the charge for taking out quantities. Preliminary sketches and interviews, where the drawings are not further proceeded with, ~~are~~ charged for according to the trouble involved and time expended.

6. Should the client, having approved the design, and after the contract drawings have been prepared, require material alterations to be made, whether before ~~or~~ after the contract has been entered into, an extra charge is made in proportion to the time occupied in such alterations.

7. The architect ~~is~~ entitled during the progress of the works to payment by instalments on account at the rate of ~~10~~ per cent. on the amount of the certificates when granted, or alternatively on the signing of the contract, to half the commission on the amount thereof, and the remainder by instalments during their progress.

8. The charge per day depends upon an architect's professional position, the minimum charge being three guineas.

9. The charge for taking a plan of an estate, laying it out and arranging for building upon it, is regulated by the time, skill, and trouble involved.

10. For setting out an estate the position of the proposed road or roads, taking levels, and preparing drawings for roads and sewers, applying for the sanction of local authorities, and supplying all necessary tracings for this purpose, the charge is 2 per cent. on the estimated cost. For subsequently preparing working drawings and specifications of roads and sewers, obtaining tenders, supplying one copy of drawings and specification to the contractor, superintending works, examining and passing accounts (exclusive of measuring and valuing extras and omissions), the charge is 4 per cent. on the cost of the works executed, in addition to the 2 per cent. previously mentioned.

11. For letting the several plots in ordinary cases the charge is a sum not exceeding a whole year's ground rent, but in respect of plots of great value a special arrangement must be made.

12. For approving plans submitted by the lessee, and for inspecting the buildings during their progress, so far as may be necessary to ensure the conditions being fulfilled, and certifying for lease, the charge is a percentage not exceeding 1½ per cent. up to £5,000, and above that by special arrangement.

13. For valuing freehold, copyhold, or leasehold property the charge is:—

On £1,000	1 per cent.
Thence to £10,000	½ "
Above £10,000	¼ " on residue.

In valuations for mortgage, if an advance is not made, one-third of the above scale. The minimum fee is three guineas.

14. For valuing and negotiating the settlement of claims under the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act or other Acts for the compulsory acquisition of property, the charge is on Rydø's Scale as follows:—

On amount of Settlement, whether by Vendor, Acquirer, or otherwise

Amount	£	Amount	£	Amount	£	Amount	£	Amount	£
100	5	1,000	35	1,200	38	1,400	41	1,600	44
200	7	1,200	38	1,400	41	1,600	44	1,800	47
300	9	1,400	41	1,600	44	1,800	47	2,000	50
400	11	1,600	44	1,800	47	2,000	50	2,200	53
500	13	1,800	47	2,000	50	2,200	53	2,400	56
600	15	2,000	50	2,200	53	2,400	56	2,600	59
700	17	2,200	53	2,400	56	2,600	59	2,800	62
800	19	2,400	56	2,600	59	2,800	62	3,000	65
900	21	2,600	59	2,800	62	3,000	65	3,200	68
1,000	23	2,800	62	3,000	65	3,200	68	3,400	71
		3,000	65	3,200	68	3,400	71	3,600	74

Beyond this Half-a-Guinea per cent.

The above scale is exclusive of attendances on juries or umpires, or at arbitrations, and also of expenses and preparation of plans.

15. For estimating dilapidations and furnishing or checking a schedule of same, the charge £ 5 per cent. ~~on~~ the estimate, but in no case less than two guineas. For services in connection with settlement of claim by arbitration or otherwise, extra charges are made, under Clause 8.

16. For inspecting, reporting, and advising ~~on~~ the sanitary condition of premises, the charge must depend on the nature and extent of the services rendered.

17. In all cases travelling and other out-of-pocket expenses are paid by the client in addition to the fees. If the work is at such a distance as to lead to an exceptional expenditure of time in travelling, ~~an~~ additional charge may be made under Clause 8.

18. When an architect takes out and supplies to builders quantities on which to form estimates for executing his designs, he should do ~~so~~ with the concurrence of his client, and it is desirable that the architect should be paid by him rather than by the builder, the cost of such quantities not being included in the commission of 5 per cent.

REGULATIONS* OF THE ROYAL INSTITUTE OF BRITISH ARCHITECTS FOR ARCHITECTURAL COMPETITIONS.†

Revised after revision December 1910.]

It is assumed that the object of the Promoters is to obtain the best design for the purpose in view. This object may best be secured by conducting all Competitions upon the lines laid down in the following Regulations, which have been framed with a view to securing the best results to the Promoters with scrupulous fairness to the competitors.

Members of the Royal Institute of British Architects and Allied Societies do not compete excepting under conditions based ~~on~~ these Regulations.

The conditions of a Competition shall contain the following Regulations (A) to (F) as essential:—

(A) There shall be appointed for every Competition ~~one~~ or more fully qualified professional Assessors, to whom the whole of the designs shall be submitted.

(B) No Promoter of a Competition, and no Assessor engaged upon it, ~~nor~~ any employee of either, shall compete OR ASSIST A COMPETITOR, or act as Architect, or joint Architect, for the proposed work.

(C) Each design shall be accompanied by a declaration, signed by the competitor, or joint competitors, stating that the design is his ~~■~~ their own personal work, and that the drawings have been prepared under his or their own supervision. A successful competitor must be prepared to satisfy the Assessor that he is the bonâ fide author of the design he has submitted.

* The Regulations are not intended to apply to small limited private Competitions.

† To be obtained at the Office ~~of~~ the Royal Institute.

(D) The premiums shall be paid in accordance with the assessor's award, and the author of the design placed first by the Assessor shall be employed to carry out the work, unless the Assessor shall be satisfied that there is some valid objection to such employment, in which case the author of the design placed next in order of merit shall be employed, subject to a similar condition. The award of the Assessor shall not be set aside for any other reason.

(E) If no instructions ~~■~~ given to the author of the design submitted by the Assessor to proceed within twelve months from the date of the award, then he shall receive payment for his services in connection with the preparation of the Competition drawings of a sum equal ~~■~~ $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the amount of the estimated cost. If the work is subsequently proceeded with, the $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. previously paid to him shall form part of his ultimate commission.

(F) The selected Architect shall be paid in accordance with the Schedule of Charges sanctioned and published by the Royal Institute of British Architects.

1. The Promoters of ~~■~~ intended Competition should, AS THEIR FIRST STEP, appoint one or more professional Assessors, architects of established reputation, whose appointment should be published in the original advertisements and instructions. The selection of an Assessor should be made with the greatest possible care, as the successful result of the Competition will depend very largely upon his experience and ability.

The President of the Royal Institute of British Architects is always prepared to act as honorary adviser to Promoters in their appointment of Assessors.

2. The duties of an Assessor are as follows :—

(a) To confer with and advise the Promoters on their requirements and on the questions of cost and premiums to be offered.

(b) To draw up instructions for the guidance of competitors and for the conduct of the Competition, incorporating the whole of the clauses of these Regulations which are applicable to the particular Competition.

Note.—It is essential in drawing up the Instructions to state definitely which of the conditions must be strictly adhered to, under penalty of disqualification from the Competition, and which of them are optional.

(c) To answer queries raised by competitors within a limited time during the preparation of the designs, such answers to be sent to all competitors.

(d) To examine all the designs submitted by competitors and to determine whether they conform to the Conditions and to exclude any which do not.

(e) To report to the Promoters on the designs not so excluded and to award the premiums in strict adherence to the conditions.

3. Competitions may be conducted in one of the following ways:—

(a) By advertisement, involving architects willing to compete for the intended work ~~to~~ send in designs. FOR COMPETITIONS FOR PUBLIC WORKS OF GREAT ARCHITECTURAL IMPORTANCE THIS METHOD IS RECOMMENDED.

(b) By advertisement, inviting architects willing to compete for the intended work to send in their names by a given day; with such other information as they may think likely to advance their claim to be admitted to the Competition. From these names the Promoters, with the advice of the Assessor, shall select a limited number to compete, and each competitor thus selected shall receive a specified sum for the preparation of his design.

(c) By personal invitation to a limited number of selected architects, to join in a Competition for the intended work. Each Competitor shall receive a specified sum for the preparation of his design.

Note.—Where a deposit is required for supplying the Instructions, it shall be returned on the receipt of a bond fide design; or if the applicant declines to compete and returns the said Instructions within a month after the receipt of replies to Competitors' questions.

4. The number, scale, and method of finishing of the required drawings shall be distinctly ~~set~~ forth. The drawings shall not be more in number or to a larger scale than necessary clearly to explain the design, and such drawings shall be uniform in size, number, mode of colouring, and mounting. As a general rule a scale of 16 feet to 1 inch will be found sufficient for plans, sections, and elevations, or in the case of very large buildings a smaller scale might suffice.

Unless the Assessor advises that perspective drawings are desirable, they shall not be admitted.

5. No design shall bear any motto or distinguishing mark; but all designs shall be numbered by the Promoters in order of receipt.

6. A design shall be excluded from a Competition—

(a) if sent in after the period named (accidents in transit excepted);

(b) if it does not give substantially the accommodation asked for;

(c) if it exceeds the limits of site as shown on the plan issued by the Promoters, the figured dimensions ~~and~~ which shall be adhered to;

(d) if the Assessor shall determine that its probable cost will exceed by 10 per cent. the outlay stated in the Instructions, or the estimate of the Competitor should no outlay be stated. If the Assessor be of opinion that the outlay stated in the Instructions is inadequate, he shall not be bound in the selection of a design by the amount named in such Instructions, but the question of cost shall nevertheless be a material element in the consideration of the award;

(e) if any of the Conditions or Instructions other than those of a suggestive character are violated;

(f) if a Competitor shall disclose his identity or attempt to influence the decision.

7. All designs and reports submitted in a Competition for a public building, except any excluded under Clause 6, shall be publicly exhibited after the award has been made, which award shall be published at the time of exhibition; and all designs and reports submitted in a Competition for a private building shall be similarly exhibited to the Competitors.

8. All drawings submitted in a Competition, except those of the design selected to be carried out, shall be returned to the Competitors.

The usual R.I.B.A. Scale of Charges for Assessing Competitions, whether by jury or otherwise, is the sum of Thirty Guineas, plus one-fifth per cent. upon the estimated cost of the proposed building.

REGULATIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL ARCHITECTURAL COMPETITIONS.

*Settled at Paris, November 1906, by the International Competitions Commission appointed by the VIIIth International Congress of Architects (London, 1906).

1. International Competitions should be reserved for exceptional occasions of a really international character.

2. International Competitions may be either open to all architects without invitation, or limited and by invitation.

Limited and invited Competitions may consist of a single stage.

Competitions open to all should be held preferably in two stages.

3. The "Conditions" of International Competitions are to be identical for all competitors.

No drawing model or document shall be taken into consideration except those specified in the Conditions, nor shall any other drawing model or document be exhibited.

4. The Instructions to Competitors should state definitely the Conditions of the Competition, and matters considered desirable should not be left to the option of Competitors.

* See report of the British delegate, Mr. John W. Simpson, JOURNAL R.I.B.A., 9th January 1909.

5. In limited and invited Competitions, the Conditions should be fully detailed and require the scheme to be fully developed.

In Competitions open to all the Conditions should express the technical requirements in general terms and limit the number and scale of the drawings to the minimum necessary for the jury to understand the design.

The Conditions should require designs to be submitted anonymously under the motto in the first stage, and to be signed by the Authors in the second stage.

Competitors are forbidden under penalty of exclusion to act in any way which would tend to disclose their identity.

6. In double Competitions the Conditions in the first stage should be as those for Competitions open to all, and in the second stage as those for limited and invited Competitions.

Designs selected in the first stage only can be admitted to the second stage.

7. The Conditions of a Competition should be published and placed at the disposal of the Competitors as nearly as possible on the same date in all countries.

Any design not dispatched by the date of closing the Competition shall be excluded; the Carrier's receipt shall be accepted as proof.

8. The Conditions should be prepared in consultation with experienced Architects.

They shall be published in the French language.

9. The jury is to be nominated by the promoters of the Competition; it is recommended that promoters, before nominating the foreign members, should place themselves in communication with the Comité Permanent.

The jury of an International Competition shall be composed of Architects, each of different nationality, one of whom shall belong to the country which institutes the Competition. A legal authority, nominated by the Administration promoting the Competition, shall preside in order to ~~ensure~~ regular procedure, but shall have no vote.

The members of the jury, by accepting nomination, shall be held to have declared themselves to have no material interest, either directly or indirectly, in the result of the Competition.

10. It is desirable in International Competitions, and especially in the preliminary stages, that the limit of cost shall be only approximately fixed in order to leave ~~some~~ liberty to the artistic conception of Competitors.

When the sum available for carrying out the work is specified, the Conditions of Competition should give the information required for preparing approximate estimates on a uniform basis.

11. The total value of the premiums to be awarded shall be 2½% on the cost for works not exceeding £100,000 in value, 2% on those not exceeding £200,000, and 1½% for works beyond that value.

The principle must be enforced that the carrying out of the Parish Registry, ■ any public office in the Diocese suitable for the purpose, and the date of their consignment noted.

Any clearance of wall linings, pavements, flooring, galleries, high pews, modern wall partitions, ■ other encumbrances (provided that they be clearly modern), necessary before detailed arrangements ■ made for the restoration, should only be carried out under the direction of the architect, and after his inspection of the church; and such clearance should not include works of artistic or other interest which it is often most important to preserve. No memorial slabs, tiles, steps, or other pavements, should be removed without his special permission.

2. Careful enquiry should be made for any portions of church furniture—stained glass, sculpture, brasses—or other old work which may at any time have been removed from the building, with a view to their restoration to their proper place.

3. Buildings of the same style and character in the neighbourhood should be examined when any doubts arise as to the original design in any part.

4. Diligent search should be made for indications of ancient doorways, window openings, recesses, aumbries, piscinas, sedilia, Easter sepulchres, altar stones, stoups, rood staircases, hagioscopes, low side-windows, recessed tombs, brasses, incised stones, encaustic tiles, or any other features of ancient character. Should any part be altogether destroyed, careful search should be made for any traces of old foundations or any detached pieces of masonry, &c., built in with the modern walls, so as to obtain a key to the original design of parts which have been defaced or destroyed. When any such stones ■ discovered the architect should be at once informed, in order that he may personally visit and examine the work.

■ All plastered surfaces should be carefully examined with a view to discover any remains of painting upon them, and all painted or whitewashed stone or wood work cautiously cleaned, so that no injury may be done to any painting, diapering, powdering, or other coloured design, if such exist. Where it is proposed to renew the roofs, all cleaning of the walls should be deferred until after they are protected from the weather by the erection of new roofs. Plastered surfaces of ancient date are often found, and should be preserved if possible.

6. Ancient painted glass, with the original leading and iron framework, should be carefully preserved, and never allowed to be taken out of the building, save for the purpose of re-leading when absolutely necessary, and this only by competent workmen. It is not generally desirable to remove ancient stained glass, even when small fragments only remain, from the place it occupies, without first of all learning with certainty that it is not in its original position. If new stained glass be inserted in old windows, care should be taken that the glass be fitted to the old tracery, and that the latter be not replaced by new, as is too often the case. Old clear glass may, for the sake of its superiority of tint, often be re-used with advantage.

The external halves of mullions, sills, tracery, and jambs should, where practicable, have such parts as are decayed restored by dowelling new stone on to the old internal halves, which may frequently be done without taking down the uninjured part of the window.

The ancient ironwork of windows should not be taken out, even when the outer half of the stonework is removed, and it should be retained when new stained glass is put in: the glass, if needful, being designed with regard to it. So much mischief has been done by the destruction of old iron-work throughout the country that this requirement should be most rigidly enforced.

7. Any remains of churchyard walls, with their buttresses, copings, or piers, churchyard or other crosses, lichgates, external monuments, head-stones, stone collars, &c., should be preserved.

Marks of foundations, trenches, mounds, &c., should be examined and noted.

8. Where it appears certain upon investigation that the earth has accumulated above the ancient level it should be removed; but even this should not be done without professional supervision, as it is often attended with risk. Great care must be exercised where several ancient levels exist, in determining which shall be retained, and when the floors are set on a slant, as is often the case, the original lines should, as far as possible, be carefully maintained.

9. In the restoration of stonework, no scraping or tooling of the surface of the stone should take place under any circumstances. As a general rule, no new stonework should be inserted, unless under very strong evidence that it is a renewal of the ancient design and necessary to be done. If any part of the masonry be damaged or decayed, it should not necessarily on that account be wholly rebuilt or renewed, but those parts only which are thoroughly defective should be cut out and carefully renewed with stone of similar character, and always the best of its kind.

No wholesale pulling down should be done unless unavoidable.

In many cases walls which are in themselves sound, but out of plumb, may be restored to the perpendicular without difficulty by use of screwjacks, and without disturbance of the external face.

10. If it be found absolutely necessary to construct a new roof, owing to the existing roof being extremely decayed or modern, one of the two following courses should be adopted: either the old roof where it exists should be carefully reproduced, or the new roof should be made of the same pitch as the original roof, which may generally be discovered by the dripstone against the tower or other walls. Where the dripstones of two or three periods exist against these walls, the question of the pitch of the roof will be one of some difficulty : but, as a rule, it may be said that where there is a clerestory it will be well to keep to the pitch of the roof erected at the time it was built, and where there is none, then the pitch of the earliest roof. Where lead is taken off it ought in all cases to be replaced. Flat roofs are by no means always to be condemned.

The question of the pitch of a new roof depends on so many circumstances that it must be left to the judgment of the architect, but the shape of the old roof should not be lightly altered. In some peculiar cases where there are objections to the external appearance of the flat pitch of an old roof, the flat roof may be retained internally, and the high pitch roof erected over it. Flat roofs are quite as worthy of preservation as any others.

In districts where stone slates are used for the old churches it is most desirable that they should be retained in preference to plain tiles or other covering.

Frequently the ends alone of beams and rafters are decayed through leakages of gutters. An old roof should not for this reason be discarded, but new ends should be scarfed on.

11. Ancient buildings will generally be found to have been altered at various periods ; when this is the case the whole of the old work should be preserved and exposed to view, as to show the history of the fabric, with its successive alterations, as distinctly as possible. This may often be accomplished by showing all the stone and rubble work internally, and leaving it unplastered. It should, however, be understood that this is for the purpose of showing constructional features of interest, and is not intended as a recommendation that old plaster should be stripped off, or that rough stone rubble work should be exposed to sight where originally plastered.

12. In no case should anything be done to monumental effigies, brasses, sculpture of figures and foliage, or other ornamental work, beyond carefully cleaning, or resetting them if necessary, and taking care that they shall be protected from further injury and restored, where requisite, to their original place. In all church restorations the main object should be to get rid of modern additions put up without regard to architectural propriety ; but on this account the church restorer should not set up an ideal model, but regard the productions of every age with as much respect as is compatible with the restoration and use of the building. Still, if monuments deface good old work, they should be refixed in some spot where they can mutilate nothing.

Fonts, piscines, &c., may be carefully repaired, if necessary, to fit them for use, but all features not involved in the stability of the building should be left as far as possible untouched. Fonts, for instance, should not on account be scraped, or re-tooled, as has been too often the case. Features not in use, such as stoups, aumbries, &c., should be left untouched.

13. Mediæval chancel screens should on no account be moved from their old places, but be carefully restored. They seldom present any obstruction to sight or sound. Ancient seats in the body of a church should, where practicable, be retained in their old arrangement. Jacobean and later wood-work is often quite as valuable artistically, and interesting historically, as mediæval work.

14. Where curiosities, fragments of sculpture or wrought stone or wood-work, of tiles or glass too small for re-use, are discovered in the course of the work, it is desirable that they should all be carefully kept in some ~~room~~ or chest in the church, arranged and labelled with a short description of their history. This case should be under lock and key. Care should be taken that the architect's Specification gives the contractor no claim upon any such things as old materials.

15. In the above suggestions it has been assumed that the promoters of the work have a proper appreciation of what is due to ~~the~~ ancient building, and are anxious to carry out its restoration in the most conservative manner possible; such, however, is unfortunately not always the case. The promoters of restorations, whether clergymen or laymen, are sometimes more bent upon carrying out new works than preserving old; it cannot be therefore too strongly insisted upon, that in dealing with an ancient church or other building, the object should be not simply to put it in good repair, but to preserve it as an authentic specimen of the ancient arts of our country. Every old building has historical value, and it should be remembered that this is gone when its authenticity is destroyed.

The duty, therefore, of all those having charge of ancient buildings should be not ~~so~~ much the renewal of what remains as its preservation; and this should embrace every portion of original work which it is in any way possible to save, for it must be remembered that new work is of ~~no~~ value or interest except so far as it serves to preserve the ancient design, and that no interest will ever be attached to it unless original parts remain to attest its authenticity.

There is ample scope for original design in additions which are necessarily made to the size of old buildings, and in these it is usually best to allow the architect ~~to~~ be independent. His work will then have its due historical value; whereas, if he only make a very good copy of the old work to which he is adding, great confusion will be felt hereafter ~~as~~ to which part of the work is old and which modern.

16. A vigilant guard should be kept against the indulgence of individual fancies for or against particular features ~~or~~ styles; and especially against the theory sometimes held, that a restored church must be purged of all features subsequent to some favourite period. All such ideal notions are in the highest degree dangerous, and have rendered many a restored church actually worthless as an historical monument.

17. In vain all the efforts of Central or Diocesan Architectural or Archaeological bodies, with their several visits to buildings of historic interest, if those having charge of precious remains do not cordially embrace such advice as is here laid down for their conservation, embodying principles impossible to controvert, and the neglect of which has been the cause of many districts being robbed of their antiquities through rash and unskillful operations. Influential landed proprietors, the clergy, churchwardens, and others, are earnestly reminded of the responsibility which rests upon them to resist all needless destruction of ancient work, and to seek competent professional aid in cases of interference with ancient building. Questions of considerable embarrassment constantly arise in connection with edifices of mixed dates, involving constructional and chronological difficulties, points requiring the judgment of the most experienced architect and antiquary. Moreover, the successful preservation of old work must largely depend upon the builder. Care, therefore, should be taken to select a man who will take an interest in the work, and who can be trusted to carry out faithfully the instructions of the architect. To prevent the mischief that may otherwise be done in the absence of the architect, it is always desirable, and generally essential, that there should be a resident clerk of the works, familiar with church restoration, appointed by the architect.

18. Vigilance is required to stop injuries to ancient buildings: the utmost watchfulness should be shown by those residing at or near the spot where even well-considered works are in operation, to see that they are really executed in a conservative manner. However frequently the architect may visit the works under his superintendence, he cannot at all times prevent his orders being disobeyed, and a daily and almost hourly inspection is often necessary. Intelligent interposition will always be welcome to a zealous architect, and, by gaining time, will often prevent irreparable mischief. Lovers of antiquities, ecclesiologists, and antiquaries, in the locality, will always do good service by carefully watching works in progress in old buildings.

19. The foregoing suggestions and remarks have been drawn up with special reference to the Restoration of Churches: the same spirit ought to actuate those who have the care or ownership of ancient civil or military buildings, because from their comparative rarity they are even more valuable as historical monuments than the churches.

HINTS TO WORKMEN ENGAGED IN THE REPAIRS AND RESTORATION OF ANCIENT BUILDINGS.*

[First issued in 1865; revised and enlarged in 1888.]

Excavator.—In making excavations in or about an ancient building, be careful to preserve every fragment of wrought stone, tiles, or other ancient objects, which you may meet with.

* To be obtained at the Office of the Institute, price Sixpence.

If you find old foundations, bases of pillars, ancient tombs, stone coffins, pavements, or other work, which appear to be in their original place, do not remove, but carefully expose them to view, in order that proper notes may be taken of them; and that, if possible, the work may be left permanently in its place.

In making drains or excavations around old buildings, do not cut off any of the projecting footings, however rough, and be careful how you expose them, unless they ~~are~~ examined and underpinned by the mason. Do not permanently expose to view, or to the air, work which clearly was not intended to be so exposed. See that your drains ~~are~~ so managed as to draw the water from the foundations and not towards them.

Mason.—If directed to clean off whitewash, or paint, from internal or other stonework, recollect that the object of so doing is to bring to view the original surface, not to destroy it. You must, therefore, avoid the use of the tool, and study what is the best way of removing the whitewash without in any degree disturbing, much less removing, the ancient surface. Remember that the mode of tooling ~~is~~ working the ancient stone is a subject of interest and curiosity, and that the old tool-marks must therefore not be disturbed: more especially does this caution apply to early Romanesque work, where the very coarseness of the stone, and rudeness of execution, are important evidences of date. If indications of ancient colouring be found ~~on~~ the surface of the stone, they should be carefully preserved.

The mode of removing whitewash depends much on the nature of the material. With ~~some~~ materials nothing is so good as the Manchester card, but in each case experiments should be tried to ascertain the best mode. It is better to leave the whitewash wholly or partially on the stone, than to use any tool which would disturb the surface of the stone itself: for it is far better to have the old surface with the whitewash than not at all.

When the removal of plaster shows the marks of ancient string-courses, weatherings, windows, &c., do not conceal these again, ~~but~~ yet tool them off; indeed, as a general rule, no tool should be used upon the surface of ancient stonework.

In removing broken or decayed work, do not take out any but such as is so far gone as to have lost all its original form: better have broken or half-decayed original work than the smartest and most perfect new work.

Especially avoid using a brush with colours to harmonise the new and old work; the old work should be left in all its characteristic tone, and ~~an~~ attempt should be made to harmonise the hue in tint.

Never remove or clean the old mossed surfaces.

In obtaining the true sections of mouldings, &c., for new portions, the most scrupulous accuracy is necessary, ~~as~~ the more delicate features are often to be traced only in a few of the more protected parts.

In taking down portions of walls, be most careful of any old mouldings, or other wrought stone, found embedded in them, and note where they were found, as the fragments have usually been stowed away near to their original site. If any windows or other features are found which have been before concealed, do not disturb them till ~~seen~~ by the architect. Encaustic tiles, or other ancient paving, should be preserved where found, when possible, and the patterns should guide the design of new paving. Ancient monumental remains are never to give way to new encaustic tile flooring, but are in every case to retain their old position.

Carver.—The same principles as are laid down for the mason apply to the carver, but in a higher degree, inasmuch as ancient carving is still more valuable than ancient masonry. When engaged ~~on~~ ~~an~~ old building, bring your own talent and fancy wholly into subjection to the work in which you are engaged, and only seek to preserve and perpetuate the ancient design. Never attempt to dress up or restore old carving.

Plasterer.—If directed generally to remove the plastering, first examine it carefully by removing the whitewash here and there, and if it be found ~~to~~ contain oil painting, &c., do not disturb it without calling the attention of the architect, clerk of the works, or other persons capable of judging it.

If it be absolutely necessary to take down the wall so covered with old paintings, it might be preserved in the following manner: the backing of the wall might be carefully taken away, leaving only a thin piece behind the painting; this might then be backed up with cement and pieces of large size enclosed in wooden frames. The painting might then be removed and deposited in a museum.

As a general rule, ancient plastering should not be removed, but only repaired where necessary. Let new plastering on old walls be thin, and carefully thinned off to meet the stone dressings, as in ancient work. All plasterings should be of a kind suited ~~to~~ receive decorative painting.

Carpenter.—Do not be too ready to condemn an ancient roof, or other piece of timber work. Remember that it has a value quite independent of the cost of renewing it. An ancient roof, carefully preserved by splicing and other means, is infinitely more valuable than a copy of the same in new timber. Very serious defects may be repaired, if you view the roof as a thing of value, and apply your mind to ascertain the best way of securing and preserving it. If you do not do this, very trifling defects may be made the excuses for destroying the finest ancient roof. Do not as a general rule take an old roof off to repair it, but rather repair it in its place, bay by bay; and only in the Spring or Summer months. By a good system of tarpaulins, or other means, keep the roof dry during the operation: exposure to wet is fatal to old timber.

Do not disturb ancient surfaces of timber, nor coat old timber with oil or varnish. Generally (as directed to the mason) remember that your great object is preservation rather than renewal. Preserve with the utmost care all remains of coloured decoration on old woodwork.

Joiner.—The same general rules as are laid down for the carpenter apply to the joiner.

Preserve ancient seating in its proper place if possible, and where practicable avoid removing ■ for repairs, except by special direction. Every remnant of old woodwork, of whatever description, should be carefully preserved, and, where possible, in its place; or, if it has already been removed, it should be brought back to its place if possible.

Glazier.—Be most careful in preserving ancient stained glass. Never remove it from the windows in which it is found (unless under special direction of the architect), but preserve it carefully in its place, however rough and imperfect, or however small the fragments.

Painter.—Preserve all remnants of ancient painting, but do not attempt their restoration unless under special direction.

Smith.—Preserve all remnants of metal-work in their places if possible; and never remove old saddle-bars or stanchions from windows except under direct instructions from the architect.

To Contractors and Workmen in General.—Never forget that the reparation of an ancient church, or other remnant of ancient architecture, however humble, is a work to be entered upon with totally different feelings from a new work, or from the repairs of a modern building.

The object is not simply to put the work in good repair, but ■ preserve and perpetuate an authentic specimen of the ancient Arts of our country. Every ancient building has historical value, and though you may feel that its state of repair would at first sight suggest its renewal, or that you could execute the work better anew, never forget that all its value is gone when its authenticity is destroyed; and that your duty is not its renewal but its preservation.

Be careful, therefore, never lightly to condemn an ancient object as being too far gone to be preserved; as every such work destroyed is a national loss.

"DRY ROT" (Merulius lacrymans) IN TIMBER.

The attention of the Council of the Royal Institute has been drawn to the issue in October 1909 of a leaflet by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries referring to the increasing prevalence of the disease known as "dry rot" in timber used in the erection of buildings, and, having taken the matter into consideration, the Council deem it to be in the interests of the public generally to issue some observations thereon. From the official Leaflet the following extracts are taken : -

"Infection with the dry-rot fungus sometimes takes place in the forest when felled timber remains stored there for some time. The first evidence of such infection is indicated by the presence of red stripes in the sawn wood. If such wood is thoroughly seasoned the mycelium present in the red stripes is killed. If the seasoning be neglected or imperfectly done, the mycelium, which possesses the power of remaining in a latent condition for some time, commences active growth when the wood is used in any part of a building where it is exposed to dampness, and this in ~~some~~ cases is unavoidable, as when the ends of joists ~~are~~ built into a wall.

"Under such circumstances dry rot eventually appears.

"On the other hand, the fungus is by ~~no~~ means rare on old beams and boards stored in woodyards, &c., and it is mainly from such sources that spores or portions of the spreading mycelium are introduced into buildings by new wood which has become infected.

"The fruit of the dry-rot fungus presents the appearance of irregularly shaped, flattened, ~~and~~ undulating patches of variable size, adhering by their entire under-surface to the substance on which they ~~are~~ growing. When mature the central portion of the patch is covered with an irregular network formed by slightly raised anastomosing ribs, and is of a rich brown colour due to the enormous quantity of spores which are deposited ~~on~~ surrounding objects under the form of snuff-coloured powder. These spores are diffused by currents of air, or by rats, mice, and insects.

"The margin of the fruiting-patch is surrounded by a snow-white fringe of mycelium which spreads in every direction over surrounding objects, creeping up walls and passing through crevices, the advancing mycelium being supplied with food and moisture from the parent plant growing on wood.

"This food is conducted through cord-like strands which form behind the thin advancing margin of mycelium.

"Owing to this supply of food from a central ~~source~~ the mycelium can extend over stones and other substances not containing food, and thus spread from the basement to the top of a house. Each time the migrating mycelium comes in contact with wood the latter is attacked and a new centre of food-supply is established, from which strands spread in search of other sources of food. The mycelium often forms felt-like sheets of large size that can readily be removed intact. These sheets are white at first, but soon change ~~to~~ a pale grey colour—a character by which dry rot can be readily distinguished from another wood-destroying fungus, the Polyporus formicarius, even in the absence of fruit, the felted mycelium of the latter remaining permanently white.

"The specific name of lacrymans, or 'weeping,' alludes to the power of the fungus to attract moisture from the atmosphere. Under certain conditions moisture is absorbed to such an extent that it hangs in drops, or even drips from the surface of the fungus. This moisture assists very materially in rotting the timber, which afterwards becomes quite dry and friable. Hence the popular name, 'dry rot,' which alludes to the last and most frequently observed stage of decay."

The depletion of the ~~matured~~ matured forest trees resulting in the importation of immature wood is said to be one of the contributory causes of the spread of the disease.

Spores may exist in the earth arising from the roots of trees or other source.

The rapid completion of a house before the materials of which its carcass is constructed have had time to dry thoroughly conduces to the germination of dry rot.

A warm, damp atmosphere surrounding the wood, such as exists under a floor immediately over the ground and in unventilated cellars, is another condition conducing to the spread of the disease.

Although, as above remarked, immature or imperfectly seasoned timber is said to be a cause of the spread of the disease, yet thoroughly matured and sound timber in a warm, moist atmosphere will readily fall a prey if attacked by the mycelium of dry rot, once a spore has been introduced.

It has been proved that the spores of the disease can be carried from house to house on the clothes or tools of workmen, and that wood can be infected from a spore on a carpenter's saw.

From the foregoing it will be seen that the disease may have been introduced (a) in the timber, (b) from the adjacent earth, and (c) accidentally by the importation of a spore. These are conditions over which architects have obviously no control.

The Council of the Royal Institute of British Architects desire to lay down a few principles which may guide architects in minimising and possibly arresting the disease of dry rot in new buildings, viz. :—

1. No timber should be used in such a position that the moisture in and around it cannot be readily evaporated, as, for example, if floors are constructed of solid concrete (with or without steel) wood fillets should not be nailed underneath to receive the ceiling.

2. No wood slips should be built into or on the top of concrete and afterwards covered with an impervious floor, and no wood boards should be laid direct on the concrete and afterwards covered with an airproof material such as linoleum, oilcloth, &c.

3. All ground under a wooden floor should be cleared of any vegetable or fungoid growth and covered with cement concrete or asphalt, and this should be left as long as possible before any joists or flooring are laid.

4. No wooden pegs communicating with the earth beneath should be left in and through the covering over the earth.

5. Provision should be made for the abundant introduction of fresh air underneath all parts of suspended ground floors by means of inlets, and particularly at all angles, so that cross-currents may be induced.

6. The concrete under the floors should be thoroughly cleared of all small pieces of wood and shavings, as it has been found that the spores in these pieces of wood, drawing the moisture from the concrete, have been a means of spreading the disease.

7. In upper floors of wooden joists if a pugging be inserted for sound-proofing it is suggested that this be of some dry substance, such as slag-wool, but in no case must an impervious material be used for the ceiling beneath or the floor covering above.

Suggestions have been made by experts and others to creosote the ends of all joists built into a wall, but this is not generally practicable, as the odour of the creosote in a residence would be very objectionable to many.

THE R.I.B.A. STANDARD SIZE OF BRICKS.*

The Council recommend that members should insert this standard* in their specifications under the title of "The R.I.B.A. Standard Size of Bricks." [See page 503.]

1. The length of the brick should be double the width, plus the thickness of one vertical joint.

2. Brickwork should measure four ~~courses~~ of bricks and four joints to a foot.

Joints should be $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick and an extra $\frac{1}{8}$ inch, making $\frac{3}{8}$ inch for the bed joints to cover irregularities in the bricks. This gives a standard length of $9\frac{1}{4}$ inches centre to centre of joints.

The bricks, laid dry, to be measured in the following manner:—

A. Eight stretchers laid square end and splay end in contact in a straight line to measure 72 inches.

B. Eight headers laid side to side, frog upwards, in a straight line to measure 35 inches.

C. Eight bricks, the first brick frog downwards and then alternately frog to frog and back to back, to measure $31\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

A margin of one inch less will be allowed as to A, and a half-inch less as to B and C.

This is to apply to all classes of walling bricks, both machine and hand-made.

*Agreed upon between the Institute and the Brick Makers' Association, and drafted in consultation with these Bodies and representatives of the Institution of Civil Engineers (1st May 1904).

ARCHITECTS' AND SURVEYORS' APPROVED SOCIETY.

Registered Offices: 18, TUFTON STREET, WESTMINSTER, S.W.

This Society has been formed for the benefit of persons employed in Architects' and Surveyors' Offices (Draughtsmen, Clerks, Typists, etc.) who come within the scope of the National Insurance Act, 1911. It is hoped that all eligible persons will give the Society their support by becoming members.

The Society was formed by the Architectural Association with the support of The Royal Institute of British Architects, the Surveyors' Institution, the Society of Architects, and the Quantity Surveyors' Association. Leading members of the two professions have given the Society their active support by becoming subscribing Honorary Members and in many cases accepting office. The Presidency is held in alternate years by the Presidents of the Royal Institute of British Architects and the Surveyors' Institution.

It is considered that a Society entirely confined to professional men and women in safe and healthy employments should after the first Government valuation be in a position to offer larger benefits than Societies of mixed membership.
